

Miraculous

Cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

Richard D. Creech, of 1062 Second Street, Appleton, Wis., says:

"Our son Willard was absolutely helpless. His lower limbs were paralyzed, and when we used electricity he could not feel it below his hips. Finally my mother, who lives in Canada, wrote advising the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I bought some. This was when our boy had been on a stretcher for an entire year and helpless for nine months. In six weeks after taking the pills we noted signs of vitality in his legs, and in four months he was able to go to school. It was nothing else in the world that saved the boy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."—From the Crescent, Appleton, Wis.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have effected cures in cases of Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Rheumatism, Sciatica and other serious diseases of the Blood and Nerves, when all other means known to the medical profession have been tried and failed; they have saved many who were on the brink of Consumption, and have restored to the helpless invalid the full use of limbs that had long been powerless. That such wonders have been performed by this great life-giving medicine is the best guarantee that it will not disappoint when used for similar ailments.

As all druggists or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid on receipt of price in coin, per box, six boxes $2.50.

MRS. BRYAN AS A HELP TO HER HUSBAND

When he was first elected to congress he said, he knew practically nothing about the question; but as his Republican opponent believed in the free coinage of silver, and his own sympathies were with the farmers in their demand for this measure, the issue was never referred to during the campaign. When he reached Washington, he said, he told his wife that he believed the silver issue was going to grow in importance; and they two, who had been in college at the same time, who both had studied law, the wife that she might be with her husband in his work, even though she took no part in it, devoted their leisure during the winter in Washington to studying the silver question together. In speaking of the scholars which had most profoundly interested them, he put first and foremost De Laveloy's "Rimet-allism." This book, which happened to know, had not been translated from the French, and the chance remark showed that his reading had not been confined to the English works. But the charm of his story had no relation to the thoroughness of the scholarship which it evinced. It lay entirely in the relation which it showed between himself and his wife. Henceforth remarked that a German, even when married, continued to live a "bachelor life of the intellect." Mr. Bryan seemed to me to illustrate that in America, more and more, man and wife share together the same intellectual life as well as the same social life. In speaking of his colleagues who died during that session of congress, Mr. Bryan said that "he found his inspiration at his bedside." This seemed to me to be equally true of Mr. Bryan himself; and the purity of the moral atmosphere about him, together with the strength of his religious faith, both seemed to me counterparts of that love of wife and home which were the most strongly marked features of his private character. —From "Mr. Bryan, the Democratic Leader, in 1900" by Chas. B. Spahr, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for July.

PORTAGE RAILWAY NEARLY COMPLETED

Will Be Ready to Remove This Year's Crops From the Upper Columbia to Seaboard.

The Portland Telegram contains an interview with Mr. Mohr regarding the road, which states that the road will be completed in about three weeks. It says: "The aims, objects and purposes of the portage road at The Dalles of the Columbia, were set forth today by Paul Mohr in an interview. The portage road, Mr. Mohr says, will be completed within three weeks' time, and within another week or two after that will be operated in connection with five steamers. One of these boats is being built in Portland, two are being built at Pasco, and the other two will be chartered. "There are a few points I wish to make clear," said Mr. Mohr. "In the first place the portage road is not 'Paul Mohr's road,' but a link in a river transportation system. The company is incorporated under the name of the Central Navigation & Construction Company. In the next place, while I am general manager of the company, I hold a minority interest. In the third place it is not the plan of the company to sidetrack Portland and build up Astoria, or any other city. We are not in the town-site business, but in the transportation business. Wherever that business takes us we shall go, and as Portland is the heaviest shipping center, our boats will operate from here until we can get more business by operating for some other place. We are bidding for business, and it is for the consignors and consignees to say where the shipment will go. "Now, regarding the business itself. With the completion of the road we will have facilities for handling freight 25 per cent below all rail rates. It will not cost any large amount to break the goods in bulk for the portage around The Dalles rapids. The apparatus for handling it at both ends is quite elaborate, and insures quick dispatch. We will be enabled to load freight from the boats into the portage cars at the rate of 100 to 150 tons an hour. At each end of the portage road leading from the cars to the boats are inclines long enough so that the difference of the extreme rise and fall of the river—30 feet—will not figure. Along the inclines will run triangular cars drawn by cable. These, when lowered, rest snugly against the boats and can be loaded, as I said, at the rate of 100 and 150 tons an hour. At the lower end is an auxiliary apparatus for unloading grain sacks from the cars into the boats by gravitation.

Excursion to Newport.
The Corvallis & Eastern Railroad will run an excursion train from Albany to Newport and return Sunday the 15th (tomorrow) going the train leaves Albany at 7 a. m., returning, leaves Newport 5:30 p. m. Fare $1.50 for round trip from Albany, Corvallis and Philomath. Points west of Philomath usual rates.

Theatres Free for 1900-1.
The "INTERNATIONAL DRAMA," a leading theatrical paper desires to arrange with some lady or gentleman in every town in the United States to send it a brief weekly report of the happenings of the theatres in their town for the season of 1900-1. For this service they will give the correspondent their "Critical Card," which entitles them to the usual courtesies of Dramatic Papers (two passes to each play). It is not a hard task nor does it require an experienced newspaper writer, but they must have a responsible person who will not abuse the privileges. The "Critical Card" enables the correspondent to see all plays that are presented during the season without expense. For full particulars address, Editorial Dept., The Duane Publishing Co., Publishers, 29 Duane St., N. Y. 6-10-5-cent.

The First Thought
of the up-to-date landlord when he loses a tenant, is to get another by means of a JOURNAL "want ad." A well-known owner of houses recently said that in an experience covering several years he had never failed to secure quickly, by means of JOURNAL "want ad", tenants for any house becoming vacant.

THE FOURTH OF OUR FATHERS.

BY JOAQUIN MILLER.

Copyright 1900 by Joaquin Miller.

Come, let us light the torch anew,
The old-time torch in triple flame,
And keep it flaming, hence and true,
On Freedom's height, in Freedom's name.
Forgive us, Washington, that we Forgot a time, and turned an ear
To England's clink of gold, to hear
Her siren song of flattery.
Forgive us, Franklin, Warren, Hale;
We half-believed her; now we know
Her friendship; flattery but show,
Her shot where bullets fall.
What mean ye hundred thousand
Swords,
The thousand cannon's angry roar,
Armed hosts in helmets, hordes on hordes,
Hurled o'er the peaceful, free-born Boer?
They mean that England dares to say,
Set back the clock; that might is right,
As when the wolf's whelp howled her
day,
They snark back whining into night,
They mean, she mocks the rights of man;
They mean that she is mounting yet,
"Now let him get who dares to get,
And let him keep who can."
What means this sea-girt citadel,
With guns that shake Pacific's shores?
This new Gibraltar, shot and shell
In pyramids piled at our door?
Shot and shell, and guns that sweep
Our inland seas, Alaska's bay?
What! needs she these great guns to keep
The peace in peaceful Canada?
We hear kind words, most cunning fair,
Yet see that fortress rise and rise;
Are kindly words but cunning lies?
What means that fortress there?
Such cunning words, such coward lips—
Aye, aye, forgive, but not forget;
Our dying, starved in prison-ships;
Our dying, thrust with bayonet,—
Just as today she treats the Boer,
Just as she treats all weaker ones
Who dare defend an humble door
With haughty hearts and honest guns;
Just as she would, did she but dare,
Treat us again; just as she will,
The day we swallow her sweet snare
Of "diplomatic" swill.

To strength, that begs from door to door,
And calls it all diplomacy!
We will not this. No midnight way!
We would not match this if we would;
We would not match this if we could;
For us, full, frank, white day.
Come, let us show this erasing Power,
That snaked our cities, burned our Fame,
That Freedom keeps her high watch-
tower;
That Bonker Hill was not in vain!
Come, let us heap the altar's flame,
And swear our sons to hamster
Sware Hannibal, to hate, abhor,
Her cunning, crimes, her shameless shame.
Yet fear not ship nor battle square;
Let laugh at these, or far or near.
Fear not her hate, but rather fear
Her love; her love beware!
Her plundered millions starving die,
"The white she wears blood to the knee;
Her love Jesus is a lie,
A Judas kiss—Gethsemane!
She wears a cloak but to decoy:
This land she hates, hates as she fears:
This land she twice strove to destroy—
Twice drenched in blended blood and tears.
Keep her arm's length, a great gun's
length!
Her creed is but the creed of gain,
Low lust of gain, on land or main;
Her god, the god of strength!
The crouching, cat-like lion lifts
A paw to show the claws are sheathed.
"Beware the sleek Greek bearing gifts
Of honey, with white roses wreathed."
One paw for peace, one merged in gore;
One reached to beg alliance, one
To crush fair freedom and the Boer,
Or coward lies or lyddite gun?
Are we but babes? Shew receive
One outstretched paw, one reeking tusk?
Who but a child can but believe
They build to next strike us?
Brave lads of Lexington, brave men
We pledge ye we will not forget
Of Concord farms who fired the gun
Heard round the world, heard now as then;
Brave Boer-land or brave Lexington,
We pledge ye, this new hundred year,
That ye merged paw, all reeking wet
With Freedom's blood shall not rule
here,
Nor rest here, reach here, while we live!
Ye gave us Freedom; what can we Give less to freedom than to give
And consecrate this Century?
—The Heights, California, July, 1900.

"How much trade territory will your company drain?"
"We shall drain the territory between Portland and Lewiston, Idaho, on the Snake and Columbia and between Portland and Priest Rapids, on the Columbia. This, at present will include wagon haul distance from the river."
