INCENDIARY FIRE.
 Unsuccessful Attempt to Burn a Barn in East Salem.

This morning about 3:30 the neighbors in the vicinity of 17th and Mill streets were awakened from their slumbers by an unusual noise, and it was soon discovered that some fire-fiend had set fire to a large barn adjoining the Comstock residence. J. W. Ure, J. H. Neesley and C. E. Jorgenson, three Mormon Elders, who live on the corner of 18th and Mill street were the first to arrive and by the assistance of others succeeded in quenching the flames before any great damage was done. The fiend had secured a pan of hot coals and placing it near the barn he placed some kindling wood upon the same, which soon set fire to the barn. For some time he has been trying to burn that portion of the city up, and has succeeded in burning two barns on this same alley.

It is hoped that the guilty fiend will soon drop into the clutches of the officer as he is dangerous to run at large. The barn was well filled up with hay which belonged to John McIntyre, as he has lost two barns within the past two years.

Sheep Market Drops.
 Harry S. Knox, a sheep buyer well known here as the representative of Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, has returned home. He writes to E. T. Wade regarding the sheep market as he has found it, saying:

"Regarding the sheep market, I will say that the bottom has dropped out, and has gone out of sight. We cannot find it. A man from Ellensburg, Wn., came here with about 1,000 head, and got only $4.15 per cwt. for them. They were fat and weighed 90 pounds. That would net him about $2.75, so that you can see that he will not make a fortune on the shipment. I bought 600 Western ewes, all yearlings, for 4 1/2 cents a pound, that weighed 86 pounds each. That would make them worth not more than $2 a head in Oregon. It is apparent feeders will not come out so well as they usually do."—East Oregonian.

DAMAGE SUIT.
 Turner Fire Claimed to Have Been Caused by Carelessness.

J. W. Ransom has commenced suit against Wm Gilchrist in Dept No. 1 of the circuit court, for $150. The cause of action grows out of the fire in Turner in June 6th, when the office of Dr. Ransom, the butcher shop of Gilchrist and some buildings of J. E. and H. P. Dettweiler were consumed. It is alleged that the fire was caused by the negligence of defendant in the fat rendering room of his butcher shop. Plaintiff's individual loss is alleged to have been $965; I. E. and H. P. Dettweiler $770; and J. E. Dettweiler $195; the last two claims having been assigned to plaintiff.

PERSONALS.
 C. A. Park was in Portland yesterday on business.

J. T. Beckwith, of Jefferson, was in the city yesterday.

Eugene Barnes and T. C. Hogan have returned to Portland.

Frank Haas has gone to the Breitenbush hot springs, for an outing.

Senator I. Clem, of Linn county, was in the city yesterday on business.

Sherm Swank and W. P. Gilbert, of Aunsweil, were Salem visitors today.

Rev. W. E. Copeland went to Albany today to preach his farewell sermon before going to the Sound country.

Henry Helmke has accepted a position in Ed Colgan's place and will move his family up from Woodburn to South Salem.

P. H. Frazier has returned from a trip to Mt. Hood and will start tomorrow or next day to join his family at Nestucca for a few weeks' outing.

J. C. Goodale returned to Coburg today to bring down his family. They will make their home in their residence building on the corner of Oak and 12th streets.

Watt Ship and Roy Buckingham went to Seaside today to participate in the wheel races. They were preceded by Carl Beatty, Bunt Smith of San Jose, Cal., Chas. Standon and Linn Pugh.

They Crossed the Bridge.
 This morning about 8 o'clock a team belonging to a farmer named Hahn living north of the city became frightened at the street sprinkler while standing in front of the Goodhue creamery on Commercial street and ran away going north on Commercial at a lively rate.

Reaching the bridge, across North Mill creek the horses paid no attention to the upright scantling, which was supposed to give warning of the unsafe condition of the bridge. In fact, they didn't seem to care, but crossed the bridge at a two-forty gate in safety and continued their flight into the obscure distance.

This incident serves to call attention to the bridge in question, which is in a condition far from satisfactory to the people living in that vicinity. If the bridge is to be closed to teams, it should be closed in such a way that people driving will not start across it before they are made aware that they cannot cross. The bridge should either be put in passable condition or adequately fenced.

Execution Sale.
 Deputy Sheriff B. B. Colbath today sold at sheriff's sale the property involved in the suit of T. Geer, Gov. et al. vs. Edward Harrison and wife to satisfy a judgment out of the circuit court. The property sold was the east half of the d. l. c., of John M. Harrison and wife, and was bid in by the state at $2922.50.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

Rabbi David Klein, 526 E. Main street, Columbus, O., writes the following to Dr. Hartman in regard to Pe-r-u-n-a: "It affords me great pleasure to testify to the curative merits of your medicine, Pe-r-u-n-a is a well-tried and widely used remedy. Especially as a specific for catarrh of the stomach it cannot be excelled. Pe-r-u-n-a will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. Alex. Carter of Van Buren, Carter Co., Mo., says: "I had been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion since 1879. The best physicians in the country could do no good. I visited the Mulanphy hospital in St. Louis and received no benefit. The attending physician told me I had narrowing of the outlet of the stomach, and the only remedy was to have it cut out, which I refused to have done. I then visited West Baden, Ind.; Las Vegas Hot Springs, New Mexico; Sweet Springs, Mo., and Monton, Col. I also took a great many different kinds of medicine recommended for dyspepsia, but found no relief. Last February I read a testimonial for Pe-r-u-n-a in the Central Baptist that suited my case and I determined at once to try it. I have taken two bottles of Pe-r-u-n-a and four of Man-a-lin, and I feel like a new man. None of my friends believed I would get well. I would not take any money for the good your remedies have done me."

In catarrh of the stomach, as well as in catarrh of any other part of the body, Pe-r-u-n-a is the remedy. As it has often been said, if Pe-r-u-n-a will cure catarrh of one part, it will cure catarrh of any other part of the body.

OUR NEWPORT LETTER.
 Fish Stories from Olsson's Bay—No Aristocracy at This Oregon Summer Resort.

Newport, July 20.—Our camp on Olsson's bay is quite removed from the flavor of hotel life and we see very little of the crowds that wander aimlessly along the windswept beaches. The regular excursions to Lighthouse point, Life Saving station, Otter Rock, and Seal Rocks take some of the time of nearly all summer guests, but as they are all part of past programs they cost us no time or money this season. However, a few days or a week at Seal Rocks is always an enjoyable side sport from Newport. If Grover Cleveland has any better times at Bazzard's than people can have here at Newport, if they want fishing, sea-bathing or mere sauntering on the beaches, I would like to set his recipe. If Prof. Yoder and Gov. Geer will come over and put in a day under my direction I will guarantee that Grover is not in it.

Thank God, there are no regions here monopolized by the exclusively rich or society set. All the people seem to be equally poor or rich as you like it. All wear about the same clothes, on land or in the sea, and all can have the same luxuries for making the same effort. At the Atlantic summer resorts you belong to the games preserves of the Four Hundred or you are in the soup with the mob.

We have an old skill that holds three and every other day we fish. When the tide is out you dig shrimp, as the fish in the bay are very dainty and will eat nothing but fresh shrimp. The shrimp live in holes in the mud and you have to go down after them with a shovel. I think I have spaded up about a quarter-section of mud flat digging bait, but as sure as you go out without plenty of bait the bites come thick and fast, and you have to go home with a sad heart and the supply of boiled potatoes is out of all proportion to the fried flounder.

The codfish that come into the bay are quite gamey. We hooked a fifteen-pounder the other morning in about twenty feet of water and thought first the whole bottom of the bay came up to meet us. One little hook hung by a thread of skin in the corner of his mouth. The other was gaffed through one of his big wriggle fins and he came sideways like a hog going to war. We happened to have no gaff with us as we had gone out unprepared for big game, which is never safe to do, as the bottom of the bay is alive with fish of all kinds and sizes, and the supply seems to be inexhaustible. Ford Bros., who supply the Yaquina Bay crab fishery hand a seine here and take out five hundred pounds a day six days in the week, mostly perch, flounder, squawfish and mudeat, all of which they use to bait crabs, except the flounder which sell readily to the campers on the beaches north of Newport where there is no fishing. But we have not landed our rock-rod for such he proved to be.

In the clear blue water we could see him before he was within five feet of the top. We played him softly until he was almost to the boat, when he took a header for the bottom and we hadn't a yard of line left. This he repeated four times before one of the boys got a grip in his gills and lifted him into the boat. He dressed nine pounds of clear meat. After he was hung up over night he cut into beautiful steaks and supplied several of the neighbors. We also caught a five-pound flounder and 15 kelp, the latter being as gamey as some trout and as fine eating.

We consider a few weeks' outing over here a matter of economy. It is rather mean to cheat the doctors out of a living and live better yourself while you are doing it, but the way we get tanned and toughened here is a caution. We eat a breakfast of fried potatoes and bacon, a slice of fried fish, corn bread, griddle cakes and two or three cups of coffee, and then go out on the bay and fish until 2 or 3 o'clock and go home hungry as wolves, and clean out the pantry, while a regular dinner is getting ready. Speaking of doctors, my friend, Dr. Kum, of Salem, enjoys a lucrative practice among the people on the Bay, especially at Newport, Siletts and Yaquina. One man here went to Salem and spent a week under this Chinese physician. He got two bottles of medicine and the wily Mongolian only took $25, the other $25 to be paid when the man's lungshot should be cured. Dr. Kum requires his patients to write him a letter once a week telling him how they are getting along, but he never answers. His extracts of toad's liver and snake brains perform some marvelous cures cures among the credulous and superstitious. E. HOFAN.

Laid to Rest.

BARGAINS
 Nearly every sale we make with a new Standard we trade in some old machine of a different make, and with the numerous sales we have made lately with Standards we find ourselves with an overstock of second-hand machines, that we can give you bargains in, also some new ones that we have taken in trade, that we will let go at a very low figure. We have a Domestic, White, Singer, Wheeler & Wilson, New Home, Davis, and a Crown in makes. Anyone wishing a soap in a good second-hand sewing machine, in good running order it would pay them to call and look these over. Delivered free of charge to your house.

WHEELS.....
 The general opinion of all the Tribune riders is that they think the Tribune will lead in numbers next year. Why? Because they have stood the test now for two seasons, and I guess they are good for a few more. All great men do some day, and the younger take their place. The Victor, once the leading wheel, is now a wheel of the past, it is made no more.
