OUR NEWPORT LETTER.
Salem Men Take to Sea Bathing—Fun in the Breakers—Records of the Fishing Crews—Recipe for Frying Fish.
Newport, July 28.—Times at the bay have been perceptibly gay the past week. More Salem families have come in and sea-bathing has been perfect. The crowd of bathers has reached the hundred mark at times, and the surf has been not too exciting.

Quite a number of Salem business men distinguish themselves in the water as well as behind their counters. Mayor Bishop, Fred Wiggins, Otto Wilson, Henry Bredemeir, and Gus Schreiber are here but not all take kindly to water. Yesterday a lady fainted in the surf, which was too strong for her. A large breaker struck her husband, lifting both off their feet, and a second following close on the heels of the first soured her clear under. She was picked inside and out when she was taken ashore. The wind has been in the south all this week and it has been quite warm even on the beaches. There is very little swell and the water is quite a little above the refrigeration point.

Some funny people in funny costumes afford not a little amusement for the kodakers. An Albany man, called for a nickname, "The Sea Lion," had the misfortune to have his upper and neither garment part company and he floating and bobbing in the breakers. The puckering string to his bathing pants must have been of poor material and, red as a boiled lobster, he caused sport and laughter when he became aware of his predicament, and the smiles of the ladies gave way to comic apprehension as he struck boldly for the shore, calling loudly to his wife who waded in and with great presence of mind pinned her shawl about his legs, turning a calamity into comedy, as he looked quite gay marching into retirement robed in a plaid toga like a Roman senator.

The General Wright is still here bobbing for what is called Pinnacle rock at the entrance to the harbor. A diver is here and he spent four hours exploring this obstacle to navigation. It is to be drilled into, charged with dynamite and blown into eternity. The diver gave an exhibition of his skill Wednesday, when he rescued his brother's watch that had fallen overboard a week ago at the docks. It was gold-filled before it went down, and then it was filled with water, as it sank in 27 feet. It was an exciting event to see him put on his suit, screw on the great headpiece, put on his 100 lb. belt, and shoes with 40 lb. lead soles. He was down only a short time when he telephoned up that he had it and was hauled out with the watch in one hand and a crab in the other.

Quite a number of Salem business men have been taking in a day's fishing on the bay. Among them Fred Wiggins, Otto Wilson and Mr. Bredemeir, of the Yokahama tea store. The former struck a bad day, but the latter had about all he could carry. Bay fishing depends on the tides somewhat for success. Rev. Daly, of St. Joseph's church and Herman Barr were fishing one day. Although they had some luck it is quite likely that fishing on the Bay will not supercede his calling as a fisher of men spoken of in the scripture. Mayor Bishop took his family out in the gasoline launch and he caught a few pogies, nearly as many as another party close by who had only an old flat-bottomed tub. The heads of the mayor and some others are staked upon the run of tomcod which must be begun soon. They bite at anything, hook themselves and almost climb over the side of the boat.

Iisdore Greenbaum wears the belt among fishermen from the rocks. He walked through the Newport cottage quarter yesterday morning the proud bearer of the banister string of seabass.

We have learned to prepare the poggy or white perch in a way that makes them simply delicious. Take a large perch, slit the skin down his back and belly and strip it off to the tail. Then cut a slab of the clear meat down each side and throw this into cold fresh water with a handful of salt in it and leave it about three hours. When ready to fry, take out and wrap in dry cloths until all the water is drawn from the meat as it is very tender and will not fry crisp if put in the spider wet. Cut in strips about an inch wide and roll in yellow cornmeal. Have plenty of hot lard tried out of clear salt pork or bacon, or common lard with some salt in it and fry crisp and brown. This makes perch, commonly a despised fish here where fish are plenty, as good as almost any fish, trout not excepted. E. HOEKX.

Old Settler Buried.
The remains of E. Seldon Brooks, who died at Woodville, Jackson county, Thursday, arrived in Salem on this morning's overland train for burial here, and were taken to the Rigdon & Clough undertaking establishment. The funeral was held from there at 10:30 a. m. Rev. P. S. Knight officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in Rural cemetery, by the side of the late wife of the deceased.

Deceased was 70 years of age, and had lived in Marion county since 1845, until about three years ago, when he removed to Jackson county to try mining.
He leaves two daughters, Miss Brooks and Mrs. Collins, of The Dalles, who accompanied the remains to this city.

BOTH PRONOUNCED INCURABLE. Pe-ru-na Made Them Strong and Happy.

Women everywhere are writing Dr. Hartman concerning the ailments peculiar to their sex. The two following letters, published by the consent of the writers are specimens. No wonder these ladies are enthusiastic. They had been sick a long time. Their cure was unexpected. The first one, Mrs. King, of North Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted for twenty years and did not know what ailed me. My husband employed three doctors, but they did me no good. I took different kinds of medicine, all to no effect. In 1896 a friend told me I had catarrh. I had a bad cough and running at the nose all the time. I was advised to try Pe-ru-na and I took four bottles. I am now well of the catarrh. I believe Pe-ru-na saved my life. The doctors and all others failed. I can recommend your Pe-ru-na to all my friends. It is the best medicine in the world. You may use my name whenever you please."—Mrs. M. M. King.

SWALLOWED BY SHARK

By Associated Press to the Journal. HONOLULU, July 27.—The remains of Emil Ulbrecht, of Los Angeles, Cal., well known throughout the United States as a bicycle rider, who was drowned off Makapua Point last Sunday, was discovered yesterday in the stomach of a shark caught at the entrance of Honolulu harbor. When the shark's body was opened by the fishermen, they found some bare hip bones, a right femur with no flesh on it at all, and a right foot, the latter in a remarkable state of preservation. The shark's teeth had bitten it off at the ankle as clean as a blow from a guillotine might have, and, being swallowed whole, it remained with only a few scratches. The condition of the other bones showed that when the unfortunate young man's body was at the mercy of the waves a number of sharks had attacked it at once, and fought over it, rending it limb from limb.

One of the toes of the foot had a very peculiar malformation. From this fact Mrs. Ulbrecht, the widow of Ulbrecht and several other friends identified the remains. The shark was 14 feet long and weighed 700 pounds.

NEGRO SCARE OVER IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 28.—Last night passed with little disorder. The prompt action of the mayor in distributing squads of armed men through the city, and the fact that the negro, Charles, who caused the trouble, is dead, seems to have had a good effect in quieting the populace. Negroes are apparently glad that Charles is dead. Today they have appeared in a larger number than for several days. Thousands of them have left the city.

Are You Thinking of Buying a Piano, Organ, Sewing Machine or Bicycle?

We have noticed one fact lately that since we started up in our new line last March, of pianos, organs, sewing machines and bicycles, that two-thirds of all the stores, and examined their lines and studied and purchased. One party in East Salem talked of buying an instrument over a year ago of my salesman when he had taken one of our finest six octave organs. We have recently made three sales. Come in and examine our goods, and try them out, or let us write you a fair test as to its easy running qualities, taking a single thread No. 50 cotton and give them a fair test as to the wheels of the machine in place of the ordinary leather belt running the tests that we win all our competition sales. Please give us a call before you buy. We can save you money and please you.
