PORTLAND TRUCK-MEN STRIKE

TEAMSTERS SEEM TO HAVE SOMETHING BETTER OF IT.

Statement by Strikers That a Raise in Wages Is Necessary to Give Them Necessaries of Life.

Portland papers continue to give details of the truckmen's strike. The strike is a quiet affair and no threats of violence have been made. The leaders discontinue anything in the nature of force. Their plan is to reason with the new men and obtain their sympathy so that they will not "take the bread out of their mouths," as they express it. They say that if they cannot win through merit and without violence, they will take their families and go elsewhere for work. They may that at present wages and cost of living they cannot properly clothe and school their families.

The following schedule of the cost of living compared with wages is the result of several of the strikers comparing notes. It is said to be a fair average:

House rent per month	$ 8 50
Water rent	1 25
Groceries	25 00
Meat	6 00
Wood, per year	25 00
Milk, per month	1 25
Total	$66 00

This does not include incidentals or clothing, shoes, repairs and the many small things needed by any family of four. The present wages at $2 per day average about $54 per month, which would leave the man considerably in debt. One man who owned his house asserted by careful economy he could save $8 a month. Others claimed that by scraping and denying themselves of things like milk, fresh meat, vegetables, etc., they managed to save a little for a rainy day.

One man who is sober and industrious-looking showed his toes "going to grass" as an indication of his poverty. He said it took more than he could make by shoeing for the little ones, so that they could go to school looking decent.

Another instance was given of one of their number who had to be assisted by neighbors on account of sickness. In his family yet he had been working steadily for the last year, and is said to be of a saving disposition. A couple of other men said that their families were ashamed to go to church they were so poorly clad.

It is further claimed that the work is hard and requires endurance that is worth more wages. On a busy day one man will handle from 25 to 30 tons of freight. Fifteen tons is considered a slack day's work. One man said that he had a record of 60 tons in a day. Where long hauls are made, of course less freight is handled and the men get more of a rest. The working hours average 10 hours per day.

A large gang of the striking teamsters congregated at Gilean and Sixth streets. It was an orderly crowd. Those present warned all newcomers that they would not tolerate anything like violence. They were strictly enjoined not to interfere with new men going to work except to try and persuade them to support their cause. One new man took a truck out of the barn and after talking a minute to a striker turned back. Another new man who came to go to work, after seeing the gang seemed to fear for his life and was in the act of making a hasty retreat when the strikers assured him that he was not in danger and could go to work if he wanted to, but that it meant some of their families would suffer. He refused to go to work.

JOURNAL X-RAYS

The Yellow Horror is a harvest for the Yellow journals.

Tan is about the only thing you get at a summer resort that don't cost anything.

The only time you can get at a bank without paying is by standing outside and looking at the clock.

The belief in malaria subsiding causes a decline in the price of stock in the whiskey and quinine trust.

Sanage has gone up at Salem. Cape Nome demands have sent the price of such butcher stock as high as $25.

This paper prints no matter furnished by the Republican or Democratic or any other campaign committee for pay or otherwise.

The Mayor of Salem is one of the hottest bathers on the Castle Garden beaches at Yaquina Bay. He goes in once a week with high rubber boots.

Mark Hanna has not only to fight the whole Democratic-Progressive party but the Irish, the Dutch, the Germans, and a great share of the other religious people of this country. But the great Republican leader will probably be found to have rocks enough for all.

"Since Mr. Bryan began to tell the people four years ago that what they wanted was more money, they have added at the rate of $11,267,000 per month, or about $433,365 for every working day."

The above from Mark Hanna's "editorial bureau" is a neat admission from high authority that Mr. Bryan told the truth about the money question.

Malcolm A. Moody went out to his farm, on Tygh Ridge, Monday. In a short interview with him he told the Dispatch man that his last year's salary, as congressman, was all spent and he was going out to the ranch to see what the prospects were for realizing enough to pay his expenses back to Washington this winter.—Dufur Dispatch.

THE SCHOOL LOAN.

SUBSCRIPTIONS CONTINUE TO ROLL IN DAILY.

Amount Will Probably be Called for Twice Over. A Good Advertisement for Salem.

The popular 4 percent school loan bids for a record comparable to that of the city's popular loan. The latter was subscribed three times over, and the former would undoubtedly reach that figure if the books were open for the same length of time. With but two weeks to go on, and no previous notice, the subscriptions will probably run to double the amount of the loan.

The Salem way of borrowing money is attracting attention all over Oregon, and favorable comments are appearing in the press of all parts of the state. It is one of the best advertisements that this community has ever had, for it shows the confidence of the people in the solvency of their own local government, and it shows good business management on the part of our official and a disposition to use their positions for the benefit of the community and not to boost some private graft.

A few years of such management all along the line would result in a material reduction in taxation.
