TAKE HEART OF GRACE.

Take heart of grace, begin again.
Today's today, not yesterday.
And on its budding bloom the dew
Of early morning still doth play.

Take heart of grace, and gather up
This dewy sweetness of the morn,
Fill up with this your emptied cup,
And pledge the fair hours newly born.

Take heart of grace, and look before,
Instead of backward on the way,
Wash out the old regretful score,
The sorrowing sins of yesterday.

And let the old mistakes and pain
Be cleaned with this refreshing dew,
And make beginning once again,
With hope and courage bright and new.

For what's the world and all its days,
But ours to try and try again?
Not ours to falter on the ways,
Not ours to fling aside for pain.

Take heart of grace, then, day by day—
Take heart of grace, and sing each morn,
"Today's today, not yesterday,"
And all the world is newly born!"

—Nora Barry.

THE SECRET OF FINDING LIFE INTERESTING.

If one could feel that each day was a first day spent on this earth, what a novelty and interest would be felt! With what zeal and enthusiasm would we not step forth to see the sights and with what zest would we approach its experiences. Yet to a great extent each day is a new day and each day is the world before us.

What is the secret of interest in life? Is it not the hope of the unexpected, the dream of the undiscovered? The nugget that the miner hopes to find leads him into the unexplored wilds of Alaska and grow fat on a diet that he could not endure under less interesting circumstances. The maiden waits patiently for years in anticipation of the untold experiences of matrimony when one day's reality at the hands of her future helpmate might disillusionize her forever. The unknown is certainly the greatest factor of life's interest. How can it be utilized from day to day to increase our zeal for existence?

The good that is to come to us is more largely unknown than the evil, because the sum total of human experiences proves that the good things exceed the evil. The better things in life surpass the worse. Goodness overcomes badness and in the long run evil destroys itself and wickedness defeats its own purposes. So we can all go forward bravely from day to day to face the oncoming revelations of time.

MAKING EDUCATION MORE PRACTICAL.

There is no doubt but German and French are of more practical value than Greek and Latin for a business man.

Governor Roosevelt, of New York, said the other day that he believed strongly in the teaching of modern languages in the public schools, as there came a time in the life of nearly every one when much knowledge would be of the utmost use.

The first idea that comes to mind in connection with a high school is teaching Latin. If a high school is ever established at Salem it is to be hoped German will be taught in preference to Latin.

The number of Germans is constantly increasing in Western Oregon, while there are none who speak the Latin language, outside the clerical profession. Clerks in many stores are now required to be able to speak German. "Hier wird Deutsch gesprochen," is a drawing card in many large stores.

Education must prepare boys and girls more and more to take a full hand in the industries of life.

NEWSPAPERS FOR BOYS.

The latest aspirant for the younger generation is "The Little Chronicle," published in the Dyche building Chicago. It is illustrated, and seeks to cover the whole field of current topics, and practical science. It excludes fiction.

Politics is dealt with in an intelligent manner. One page gives a map, with key that brings to the mind a bird's-eye view of the whole world. There are features of practical value, and calculated to give a boy broad views.

We are living in an active and progressive age, and proper current literature for boys is very important. Boys are boys and whether in a reform school or in the most refined home, they present the same problems for parents and guardians.

THE DOMESTIC HELP PROBLEM.

Two progressive ideas are worthy of development in domestic service. One is the service of the installment plan, as where a family need one or two hours a day of help at kitchen or chamber work. The other idea is to hire help on a year or two-year contract, giving a certain rate at the end of the term as to qualifications.

It seems no more than right that where inexperienced help is received and gets the benefit of careful training in a well-regulated family, that the person receiving such training should get credit for it, and that others may have the information. Domestic work is thus dignified by a writer:

"After much meditation and experience, I have divined that it takes as much sense and refinement to cook a dinner, wash and wipe a dish, make a bed as it should be made, dust a room as it should be dusted, as goes to writing a novel or editing in high society."

Mary Roberts Smith in the Forum says this:

"Most women of my acquaintance are interested in church work, in foreign missions, in children's hospitals, in social and literary clubs, in settlements, in public schools and education; every woman acknowledges that the problems of domestic service are difficult, and that they involve the welfare of the family fundamentally. It is the old story: 'Education is important in proportion as it has nothing to do with life. Philanthropy is urgent in proportion to its distance and novelty. Every kind of duty is more tolerable than our own.' But, if charity begins at home much more does domestic reform. Let every mistress study the causes of her own difficulty, and of her maid's incompetence."

Painful Periods

are overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fifty thousand happy women testify to this in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Monstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful something is wrong which will promptly set right; if excessive or irregular write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Evidence abounds that Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine have for many years been helping women to be strong. No other advice is so unvaryingly accurate, no other medicine has such a record of cure.

The Way That Women Work.

It's enough to wear any one out. First it's washing, in damp and draft. Then it's ironing with the hot stove and the hard work to endure. And in between whiles, meals to get, house to clean, and children to tend. It's bad enough for a well woman but for a weak woman it's slow torture. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the diseases of the delicate organs which weaken women. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free of charge. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"My health is the best now that I have been for four years," writes Mrs. Phoebe Morris, of Ira, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Box 31. "I have taken but two bottles of your medicine. 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have done me more good than all that I have ever taken before. Before I took your medicine I was sick in bed nearly half the time. I couldn't do my work only about half the time and now I can work all the time for a family of four. My advice to all who are troubled with female weakness is to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery'—the most wonderful medicines in the world."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets sweeten the breath.

the English to all others as 7 to 4, and the Goths to all others as 6 to 1.

This treats the race as nine-tenths pure English in 1790, which probably does not allow enough for the Dutch, Palatine, Germans and Scotch-Irish migration. Moreover, it seems to assume the same rate of increase for all races after they get here, which common experience shows to be absurd.

The really impressive thing in Mr. Emery's article is a table of immigration ethnically classified from 1790, to 1890. It leaves negroes out of account, and contains in round numbers, 11,000,000 Teutons, 4,250,000 Celts and 500,000 Slavs. Among the Teutons, the Germans were to the English as 3 to 2, making the latter only about 6,500,000 out of the whole 16,000,000.

Non-Teuton immigration has increased enormously since 1890, and embraces races hardly thought of then. We become less English and probably less Gothic every year.

CO-OPERATIVE STREET RAILWAY.

Resolutions have been adopted at the meeting of the executive committee of the Street Railway Employees' Union in St. Louis appointing a committee to organize a company and enter the street railway business for the union in St. Louis. The resolutions provided that the proposed company shall pay a percentage of its earnings to the city; that a percentage of the earnings during the year 1902 shall be contributed to the world's fair fund; that the franchise shall contain an arbitration clause; that the city shall have the right to purchase the road and that the company shall be prohibited from consolidating with any other road. T. B. Edwards is chairman of the striking street-car men's grievance committee.

We Are Not All Anglo-Saxons.

It is certain that the American people are not predominantly Anglo-Saxon, if the early British admixtures be taken into account, and it is not even certain that they are as predominantly Teutonic as we have thought.

The Celtic and Slavic element in immigration is great and increasing, and these people are more prolific than those of Gaelic blood. Mr. Monitron Emery, in Guntton's Magazine, presents some highly interesting statistics in his journey to the conclusion that in 1890 the population of the United States included 35,000,000 English, 12,000,000 Germans and Scandinavians and 8,000,000 Celts, Slavs and Semites, besides the 8,000,000 negroes. This would make Cuba's Rotten Judiciary.

HAVANA, Aug. 11.—The press unanimously criticizes and condemns what it terms the corrupt condition of the Cuban judiciary system. Bold charges have been made by the newspapers that judges and other members of the court have been receiving fees for cases coming to their alleged courts and which, they themselves have to decide.

The Post charges the Cuban judiciary with having a compact organization, extending over the entire system, so perfect that "corruption is conducted with absolute safety," and adds:

"There are members of the courts who retain their law offices and leave the affairs of the offices to those who were their clerks before they were on the bench. These clerks arrange the details of representing the old clients of those judges and arrange the fees, etc."

"In this way a judge upon a bench decides a case at issue, while really representing one of the parties to the suit, and the result may be imagined in each instance in which this is the case."

Laying New Cable.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The work of laying the last section of the new German transatlantic cable was begun today from the New York end of the line. This section will extend from Coney Island to the Azores, the shore end being connected with the offices of the Commercial Cable Company. P. Bruno Kohler, of Berlin, in the interest of the German Postoffice Department, will make the trip and observe the laying of the cable. The new line is owned by a German company, but it will be operated at this end by the Commercial Cable Company, and at the other will be in connection with the German Government telegraphs.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 11.—Some of the most distinguished colored citizens of the country are present at the annual meeting of the Afro-American Council, which is being held here today. This meeting is of great importance and one of the largest ever held. Booker T. Washington and T. Thomas Fortune are both expected to deliver addresses. Bishop Walters, the president of the council, is presiding. Mrs. Ruffin, at the head of the Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, who refused to affiliate with other women's organizations, because they would not recognize the rights of the colored women, is also present.
