ON THE BEACH.

Geo. Bennett in Roseburg Review.

O, we love to stroll,
Where the billows roll,
On a cheerful and cloudless day;
And roam o'er the strands,
With their jeweled sands,
And to watch the wild waves at play.

The water it raves,
In the sounding caves,
In the gloomy and dark defile.—
Rushing and dashing,
Seething and splashing,
Through the echoing sombre aisles.

Sitting on a roock,
Beyond the shock
Of the in-coming angry wave,
We think of this life—
Its sorrows and strife,
And the life that's beyond the grave.

A DISEASE THAT IS NO LONGER FASHIONABLE.

The election of officers for the United States Hay Fever association, at Bethlehem, N. H., carries with it the inference that the society is in a flourishing condition. There is,apparently,no diminution in its membership, but, on the other hand, a steady increase, since nobody ever dies of hay fever,and the disorder is constantly attracting new votaries.

In considering the numerical strength of the hay fever contingent, it must be remembered that there are hundreds and even thousands of devotees of this ailment who have never stood up to be counted and who have not been able to join the annual exodus of their fellow sufferers to those localities where men and women may enjoy immunity from nasal irritation. It must be admitted that the novelty of the disease has largely passed away and that it has taken a place with such commonplace afflictions as ague and rheumatism and indigestion. Its former exclusive character gave it a prestige among fashionable people which it no longer enjoys, and this element has been driven to embrace appendicitis as a protection against contact with the hot point.

The expansion of hay fever is in perfect harmony with the American idea. The genius of our institutions is against monopolies. There is nothing that remains rare in this country for any considerable period of time. The whole tendency of our civilization is to bring within reach of all the people those things which at first are attainable only by a chosen few. The history of hay fever which, only a few years ago, was really an aristocratic disease, but which is now prevalent among all classes and conditions of men, ought to quiet the fears and subdue the forebodings of those fearful prophets who preach about the enslavement of the people by a sinister and despotic oligarchy.

Fainting Spells

Are peculiar to women. Men rarely faint. Many women are liable to what they term "fainting spells," and this liability is always most marked at the monthly period. This alone is sufficient to connect the "fainting spell" with a deranged or diseased condition of the womanly organs. The use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, and stops the drains which weaken the body. It builds up the nervous system, increases the vital powers, and so removes the common causes of faintness in women. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription;" neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"It gives me much pleasure," writes Miss Ella Sapp, of Jamestown, Guilford Co., N.C., "to thank Dr. Pierce for the great good received from the use of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had suffered for three years or more at monthly periods. It seemed as though I would die with pain in my back and stomach. I could not stand on my feet without fainting; had given up all hope of ever being cured, when one of my friends insisted upon my trying Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With but little faith I tried it, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt better, had better appetite and slept better. Now I have taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and am happy to say I am entirely cured, and all done in two months' time, when all other medicines had failed to do any good."

A TRUE AMERICAN POLICY OF EXPANSION

AS ADVOCATED BY ONE OF THE FOUNDERS OF THE OLD REPUBLICAN PARTY

Courageous Utterances of Hon Henry W. Corbett, Demanding Justice For Our Island Population

Words of Wisdom from an Old Republican Statesman.

"The time will soon arrive when we must determine on a distinctive policy for these newly acquired possessions, and in determining that policy WE MUST BE JUST, EQUITABLE AND FAIR, as between the United States and these island possessions, which SHOULD BE UNIFORM with that of EVERY OTHER TERRITORIAL POSSESSION acquired or held by the United States. IF WE EXPECT PEACE AND PROSPERITY with them, WE MUST BE JUST. IF WE LEVY TAXES upon these people, NOT LEVIED UPON OTHER STATES AND TERRITORIES belonging to the United States, WE MUST EXPECT THEM TO REBEL AGAINST SUCH TAXES. The sooner just and equitable laws are enacted and executed the sooner we will inspire these new possessions with confidence in our integrity, that we intend to deal justly and equitably with them, as with all other portions of the country over which our flag floats. THESE PEOPLE ARE SUFFICIENTLY INTELLIGENT TO KNOW AND JUDGE whether they are dealt with with the same even-handed justice as all other portions of the country, and THE SOONER THEY KNOW THAT WE ARE DOING THIS, THE SOONER THEY WILL BE WILLING TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS. When they are allowed A REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS TO PLEAD THEIR CASE, even without a vote, as other territories are allowed, they will enlighten their community of the justice and equity with which their representative and their interests are treated at the national capital. In the practical solution of this question, it must be done in a statesmanlike, just and equitable manner, making the load equally light for all to bear.

"H. W. CORBETT."

The above clear and powerful plea for justice to the people of the islands that were acquired as a result of war with Spain is from Hon. H. W. Corbett, of Portland, a staunch Republican and one of the founders of the party.

He declares, over his signature, against any tariff taxes upon Porto Rico, Cuba or the Philippines.

He declares that if we impose such unjust taxes we "MUST EXPECT THEM TO REBEL AGAINST SUCH TAXES."

He declares that the Filipinos know that they are treated unjustly, and that the sooner our country declares a policy of justice toward them "THE SOONER THEY WILL BE WILLING TO LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS."

Lastly, Mr. Corbett declares that the Filipinos are not only justified in rebelling at unjust tariff laws, but that they are ENTITLED TO A TERRITORIAL FORM OF GOVERNMENT AND "A REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS TO PLEAD THEIR CASE."

It will be in order for Republican organs to call Mr. Corbett a sympathizer with rebels and an abettor of rebellion, and with Bryan responsible for every drop of blood shed in the Philippines.

Mr. Corbett says in so many words that rebellion on the part of the island populations is justifiable if we levy tariff taxes on them not levied on our people.

The sugar trust, the tobacco trust, the jute trust will not agree with Mr. Corbett. The trusts do not want the $300,000,000 of products imported annually from those islands to come to our country free of duty. It would be fatal to the trusts and benefit the consumer.

Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, said exactly what Mr. Corbett says, until Hoar was switched off by party pressure. Hoar told the truth and Corbett tells the truth, when he declares that we cannot have one policy for one part of the people and an entirely different policy for the islands that have come under the flag.

It will be recalled that Mr. Corbett upheld Senator Simon in voting against the Porto Rico tariff bill, which McKinley at first declared was in violation of our plain duty to give our country free commercial intercourse with its own possessions, but afterwards signed the bill. Simon also said that bill might cost the Republicans the next election.

It is not to be wondered at that the administration Republicans at Portland defeated the regular Republican ticket for senators and representatives, as it was understood that ticket was friendly to Mr. Corbett for United States senator. If Corbett were senator from Oregon there would be two votes in favor of a policy of justice toward our island possessions and the American people.

DISTRICT CONVENTIONS.

Marion County Sunday School Association Makes Preparations.

President Robert Reid, of the Marion County Sunday School Association, has issued a circular letter to the Sunday school workers of the county notifying them of the dates for holding the district conventions of the organization, and urging upon them the importance of making these conventions a success.

The dates for holding the different conventions and the names of the district presidents are as follows:

Salem, district No. 1, J. S. Foster, president, in Salem, October 10, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

Hayesville, district No. 2, J. O. Beard ley, president, at North Howell, September 30.

Woodburn, district No. 3, B. D. Flint, president, in Hubbard, October 2.

Silverton, district No. 4, Alexander Thompson, president, in Silverton, October 3.

Stayton, district No. 5, Henry C. Porter, president, in Stayton, October 4.

Red Hills, district No. 6, Chas. Townsend, president, in Tigard, October

New Way to Dry Hops.

It is said a new device for drying hops is being used with great success this season by A. Wolf, a prominent dealer and extensive grower at Silverton. His new process consists of drying the hops in boxes placed on the kiln floor, which keeps the hops from packing in the center or breaking in removing, to the storeroom. No lupulin is lost in any way.

Never Disappoints

Cross Words Kill a Bird.

A bird which receives a scolding is made as miserable and unhappy thereby as a child would be. To illustrate this Our Dumb Animals tells the following story:

A Massachusetts woman had a few years ago a beautiful canary bird which she dearly loved and to which she had never spoken an unkind word in her life.

One day the church organist was away, and she stopped after church to play the organ for the Sunday school. In consequence of this the dinner had to be put off an hour, and when she got home her good husband was very angry, and he spoke to her unkindly.

The things were put on, and they sat down in silence at the table, and presently the bird began to chirp at her as it always had to attract her attention. To shame her husband for having spoken so she turned to the bird and for the first time in her life spoke to it in a most violent and angry tone. In less than five minutes there was a fluttering in the cage. She sprang to the cage. The bird was dead.

Mrs. Hendricks, the wife of the late vice president of the United States, said that she once killed a mocking bird in the same way. It annoyed her by loud singing. To stop it she spoke in a violent tone and pretended to throw something at it, and within five minutes it was dead.

Unnatural History.

The Bottle of Hair Tonic was in a self congratulatory mood. "Well," it boasted, "I think I can tell 'hair raising' ghost stories if any one can."

The coy Peach was very angry as well as "stirred up" when the housekeeper ladled her into the preserve jar. "Now, wouldn't that jar you?" she exclaimed, rather slangy.

The False Tooth spoke with icy hauteur: "I belong to the 'upper set.'" "Possibly," retorted the bobtailed Kite incisively, "but let it be distinctly understood that I myself move in the highest circles."

The cracked piece of pseudo antique China spoke frankly: "Of course I'm not what I'm 'cracked up' to be"—Then her femininity asserted itself, and she finished coyly, "But I'm not nearly as old as I look."

The angry Stick of Giant Powder stormed at the proud patrician Tack. "You have a 'big head' because you have laid a few carpets low." The Tack was silent. "I'm supreme," boasted the Powder, waxing bold. "No one can 'hold a candle' to me, and every one is afraid to 'blow me up.'" "Well," retorted the Tack pointedly, at the same time striking a match, "nobody can walk over a member of the Tack family with impunity."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Doctor's Letter.

A well known M. P. tells an amusing story of an old aunt of his. Being on one occasion very nervous, she told her physician she thought Bath would do her good.

"It's very odd," said Dr. W., "but that's the very thing that I was going to recommend to you. I will write the particulars of your case to a very clever man there, in whose hands you will be well taken care of."

The lady, furnished with the letter, set off. On arriving at Bath, feeling, as usual, very nervous, she said to a confidant:

"Long as Dr. Walter has attended me he has never explained to me what ails me. I have a great mind to open his letter and see what he has stated of my case to the Bath physician."

In vain her friend represented to her the breach of confidence this would be. She opened the letter and read:

Dear Davis—Keep the old lady three weeks and send her back again.

—London Tit-Bits.

A Profitable Deposit.

I remember the case of an old lady at E. who usually had from £13,000 to £15,000 standing to her credit, and, needless to say, as she did not ask for any interest thereupon, none was allowed her. The manager whenever she entered the office was always most particular to step forward and inquire most tenderly concerning the state of her health, and if she replied that she was suffering from a slight cold the expression upon the man's face grew quite sad. No wonder, when he remembered that even a slight cold might carry off an old lady who was handing his company at least £300 a year.—"How to Deal With Your Banker," by Henry Warren.

Draughts as an Education.

There is no game extant which so admirably combines educational and recreative features or which is in every way so well adapted for a popular and profitable amusement among refined and appreciative classes as draughts. Its influences are of an elevating character. It not only teaches, but practically enforces, the necessity of patience and perseverance, courage and courtesy, self reliance and self control. The game is also peculiarly and self evidently worthy of paternal encouragement, as a knowledge of its incomparable beauties will destroy the taste for demoralizing games of chance.—Scottish American.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,
For the waters are wild and the billows roll,
And love and trust have drifted away
Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay,
In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight
And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,
With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,
And crept like a dear dream into my heart.
I could not bear to send thee apart,
For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath
To me whispers "peace," though the world calls it death.

—Rose Van B. Speece in Scranton Tribune.

COULDN'T FOOL HIM.

This Man Knew a Steamboat When He Saw One.

The agent of one of the ocean steamship lines, says the Chicago Tribune, told the following story of a St. Louis man who got into New York the day after the maiden arrival of a great liner:

After gazing at the vessel from the pier the St. Louisan said to the man at the gangplank:

"Purty good sized steamboat."

"She's a liner, ocean liner," was the lofty reply.

"She's purty high up, ain't she?"

"Ocean liners have to be. But when she is under way she doesn't look so high."

"Her chimneys ain't very high, though."

"You mean her funnels. No; they never make them high for liners."

"Hinges on 'em?"

"Never heard of hinges on a funnel."

"How does she get under the bridge?"

"What bridge?"

"Why, any bridge. Steamboats out our way have hinges on their chimneys, and when they come to the bridges over the river they lower the chimneys, and she scoots under like she was greased."

The man at the gangplank observed the St. Louis man with lofty indifference.

"She ain't got any wheelhouses on her sides nor none at her stern," remarked the St. Louis man after he had made further inspection.

"Liners have propellers," said the man at the gangplank, and his nose turned up visibly.

"Well, I'll bet she can't run. It takes two wheels and a bow like an arrowhead and a scant hold to give a steamboat speed, sonny, and don't you forget it. If this steamboat was to get into the Mississippi, she'd go hard aground first clip."

"I have told you this is not a steamboat."

"Shucks! You can't gimme that. I saw a picter of her in one of our newspapers before I left home, and the printin under it said 'steamboat.' Do you think a St. Louis editor don't know a steamboat when he sees one? You're not on to your job yet."

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ That Causes It Has to Be Destroyed to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing off the scurf will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years, she has spent 260 days of 12 hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope; vain, because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is Newbro's "Herpicide"—also a delightful hair dressing, and thorough antiseptic against all contagion from use of others' hair brushes. It is also a delightful hair dressing.

Beauty and Education.

Why is it that woman has always been more beautiful than man? In human beings the attractive qualities have always been on the side of the female. Why is it? Without wishing to cast any aspersion on the members of the superior sex, we may fairly answer that it is because they have hitherto been the less educated. But woman's ideas are changing. She has listened to the voice of the tempter, whispering in her ear all sorts of sweet fallacies about equality of the sexes, intellectual development and its necessity, and the like, and she has yielded to the temptation. And the result of this will be that she will lose her beauty. She will suffer in appearance as man has done and is doing, and in the course of time the extremely civilized races of mankind will be ugly—irretrievably and lamentably ugly.—Pearson's Magazine.
