THE MYSTERY OF DREAMS.

A Case in Which the Coincidences Were Remarkable.

On one occasion during the civil war I dreamed that I was standing beside a road when there came marching along it a strong column of prisoners, with guards at intervals on the flanks. I asked one of these guards who the prisoners were and where they had been captured. He informed me that they had been taken in an engagement with the enemy on the day before and that there were 1,900 of them. I then asked some bystander what day of the month it was and he told it was such a day of a certain month, some six weeks later than the date of the dream. The whole dream was extremely distinct, and it made a strong impression on me. I related it to a number of my comrades within the next few days and then thought of it no more.

Six weeks later, on the morning of the very day that had been mentioned in the dream as the date when the column of prisoners had passed before me, I was on picket two miles distant from the point where I had seemed to be when I saw them. It was soon after breakfast, and I was standing by the side of the road at the fire talking to the officer of the picket when an aid to the commanding general came riding down the road. He had been a close fellow of our officer's at West Point, and he reined up when he recognized his friend. He told us that he had good news; that there had been a sharp engagement with the enemy the day before and that our people had captured 1,900 prisoners, who had just passed the headquarters that morning on their way to the rear—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A PLAIN TALK

We are as honest in what we say, as in what we sell. We do not misrepresent in statements—we do not substitute in prescriptions. We believe that genuine "honesty is the best policy" and that no permanent success in business can be attained without confidence, hence in all our dealings with physician and patient, and general public, it has been our first aim to merit confidence. Therefore, when we tell you an article is "good", we believe it to be so, and our quarter century experience with drugs ought to qualify us to judge intelligently along this line. If you wish the best medicines put in your prescriptions, bring them to us—if you like substitution take them elsewhere.

We never learned but one kind of Pharmacy—the honest kind. Another truth, our prices are right for right goods.

FURNITURE AND GENERAL FIXTURES FOR THE HOME

No sensible idea of comfort or really artistic and beautiful decoration is sacrificed in trashy imitation of fashion. Realization of this truth has given us a valuable advantage in our selections.

Remember our prices cover real values, but lack the cost of trashy trimmings.

A BOSTON GIRL.

Who was Formerly a Professor at Willamette and is Now Famous.

Miss Adelia R. Luce, of the Boston School of Expression, will give a dramatic recital at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, September 28th. Miss Luce will be assisted by several of Salem's most popular musicians, and a rare treat is in store for all who attend. Miss Luce was formerly professor of elocution and dramatic art at Willamette. A dramatic critic of San Francisco has this to say of one of Miss Luce's recitals given at Marshfield this summer:

"An intelligent and apprehensive audience greeted Miss Adelia R. Luce at her recital in Odd Fellows' hall last evening. A round, well modulated voice, and action suited to the word; a stage presence which most suggest perfect repose, while facial expression certainly suggests perfect abandon of self to the character being portrayed—with these points well in hand Miss Luce gave a program of nine numbers. Those which best showed Miss Luce's perfect control of her voice were the Scottish legend, 'Binorie,' 'Elijah,' and 'The Charlot Race,' while 'Mice at Play,' 'The Telephone Conversation' and 'The Debatin' Society' were excellent examples of her character work."

Admission to Miss Luce's recital, on Friday evening next, will be 25 cents; children 15 cents.

Opens Monday, September 17th, 1900.

The entire Faculty are Specialists. All work is thorough, practical

Favorable Points for consideration:

- This is a State institution.
- Its course of study conforms to the statutory requirements for certificate—county and state.
- The school recognizes certificates secured by the "uniform eighth grade examinations," giving such Freshman classification.
- County teacher's certificates accepted; also high school diplomas.
- Drain is a highly moral town.
- Expenses are light.
- Our graduates are prepared to take examination for state certificate.
- In several branches any good text book may be used.
- All students are received and treated as ladies and gentlemen, consequently a long code of rules is needed.
