SALEM DOWNS EUGENE 5 TO 0

First Victory of the Season for the Capital Athletes.

COACH KAARSBERG'S KANGAROO LEAP AN INVENTION THAT WOULDN'T WORK

Great Line-up of the Home Team—Notes on Work of the Individual Players in the Salem Aggregation—Great Games in Prospect.

There was a gala crowd of enthusiastic Salemites at the Southern Pacific depot Sunday evening to welcome the Capital Athletic Club home after their great victory at Eugene in the first game of the season with the University of Oregon team. The Capitals were gaily caparisoned in flitting ribbons of purple and black, and covered all over with enormous Chrysanthemums that the Eugene girls had pinned on their swelling vests.

How the Game Was Played.
The first half was played on Salem ground. Eugene kicked off. Salem's right half got the ball, carrying it about seven yards, when it was tackled. Then Eugene began a series of efforts at bucking the line. Salem carried the ball forty yards, and lost it in a fumble. Eugene got the ball and lost it down. Salem and Eugene had it alternately in a space no larger than an office. Bishop punted, Smith went through the Salem lines several times and made a fumble. The ball went up in the air, and by a great piece of luck the ball got within six inches of the Salem line. Here the Salem's did their greatest playing, holding the ball on a space like a table, amid terrific struggles. Time was called and no score.

The second half was kicked off by Salem, Bishop sending the ball pretty far up the line. Eugene fumbled the bounce and Salem downed without any gains for Eugene. Salem then played an aggressive game, worse than the first half. Eugene played hard but was badly winded, Bishop penetrating their line at will. Later in the game Young made big plunges and several great gains, Eugene weakening perceptibly. The second half was called at five o'clock and the small Salem contingent sending up its battle shout amid the silence and disappearing Eugene rooters. Coach Kaarsberg, inventor of the kangaroo leap, was unable to make his invention work and was depressed at the ending, 5 to 0 for Salem. Bishop missed his goal. It was an angle, and quite a distance, and no one expected to see the wet ball go straight.

Bruce as quarter was surer at passing the ball than his opponent and made Salem strong in this respect. Gault's hitting their line was a feature that won great praise. Jarvis as center took care of three opponents when needed and did the most wonderful amount of looking after details. Olinger showed up particularly well in tackling and breaking up interfering. Judd and Reed as guards were more than a match for their opponents and Graham as right tackle was a fine mate for Young's star game.

The only mishap was Evan's jolt on the shoulder early in the game, up to which time he played a brilliant game. Bonham as right end was a surprise for his weight, and a terror for the enemy. Clarence Bishop was wanted to play with the Salem team, but his friendship for Eugene precluded his doing so. His work as referee gave perfect satisfaction to the spectators, as impartial and fair a man as any.

He was stern in his decisions and could not be jolted. The Salem team and their friends all speak in the highest terms of their treatment by the college athletes and the people of Eugene in general.

They came home covered with mud and glory but happy as kings and are only waiting for an opportunity to show every courtesy to the visitors in return when they shall have the opportunity.

The best athletic clubs of Washington and California have been invited to play at Salem by Manager Durbin, and the chances are that Seattle and San Francisco clubs will come here and have a chance to go up against the Salem "Ag-gies."

The Salem's have only the best of feeling and will give Eugene a return game here any day and have only the best of good will towards the University team.

McMillan of the Multnomah's, who was quoted as saying that the U. of O's were the best team ever organized by an Oregon college, and that they should have beaten Salem 12 to nothing, denies making any such statement. He is a football authority and says the Salem team is a match for the University team any day, on wet ground or dry, or any grounds. The Salem boy's suits weighed on an average of 36 pounds, to show how they played mad to win. There was a heavy freight bill.

The Eugene Report.

Fridays sunshine proved no precursor of a balmy Saturday. The stars that twinkled until yesterday's dawn could not keep back the clouds that wove before and after U. O.'s defeat on the gridiron. Rain began to fall about noon

THE SILENT CASHIER

Is what the busy business man terms the latest improved Cash Register. As is sometimes said of this marvelous piece of mechanism, it cannot talk or play the piano, but to the busy man it can and does things of vastly more importance. It is an infallible cashier—a rare thing by the way—a good day worker. We press the button turn the crank, and it "does the rest" namely: register the kind and amount of your purchase, prints, dates and issues a ticket containing these facts, and the further information that the holder thereof is entitled to a rebate of 5 per cent. on cash purchases, and this is a point careful buyers do not and others shun to do but sight of. We were the first to introduce this system in Salem, but all good things have imitators, and which we hold to be the sincerest form of flattery. However this may be, we lead and are content to have others follow. But when you want the best in the drug line, always go to the reliable, the progressive, the up-to-date, the leading druggist of

Four Questions About a Machine

Which—
Sews the fastest?
Runs the easiest?
Holds most thread?
Makes least noise?

Only one machine can say "I" to the above, and several dozen other points equally as important, that's the :

Standard
Rotary
High Speed
Twin Thread
Lock and Chain Stitch.

We keep it, as well as oil, needles and parts for all machines.
