IT'S A GOOD SIGN

To see a satisfied man with glasses which suit in every way. It is not a good fit simply to fit lenses to the sight, regardless of the frame. There are two separate parts in fitting glasses, the scientific fitting of lenses and the mechanical part of making fitting and bending of frames to suit each individual face. We combine both of these and give satisfaction which merits the recommendation of making new glasses every day. When needing glasses, come and see us.

THE ENGAGEMENT RING.

Unusual Ways in Which It Causes a Young Woman to Act.

Did you ever have a chance to observe, unobserved, a young woman's conduct toward her newly acquired engagement ring?

It feels so strange upon her hand that she cannot refrain from examining it a dozen times an hour, always, however, on the sly. On the first night she sits up an hour later than usual to admire it boldly in the seclusion of her own apartment. A frequent kiss is administered to the shining band and glittering gem, and during the night she dreams that it has fallen into a stream and awakes clutching the finger to assure herself that the precious pledge is still secure.

Then, on the following day, she wears it only in secret, taking care to transfer it to her pocket at table and when in the company of intimates, but places her among strangers or among casual acquaintances who cannot be inquisitive, and how bravely will she flaunt the token before their eyes, as one who should say:

"I may not be the loveliest creature in the world, but you will observe that I have landed my fish."

Gradually it assumes its place in her daily life, and her blushes grow less violent with each succeeding explanation of its significance and each extravagant description of its donor's attributes. But before it finally becomes a part of herself, as it were, she must, of course, leave it a dozen times at least upon the washstand and suffer in consequence a dozen violent attacks of palpitation of the heart until it is recovered.—London Answers.

THEY DYE THEIR SCALPS

For Beauty After the Head Has Been Shaved Perfectly Smooth.

A French explorer has discovered the vilest people in the world. By a curious coincidence they happen to be also the ugliest. They are the Pa-houins, a savage tribe of the western coast of Africa. The main occupation of these people is the adornment of their persons. As the Pa-houin's clothing is of so light a character as to be incapable of protecting the skin from the sun's rays, they have devised a good means of protecting their bodies, which is to tattoo elaborate designs done in red or blue. Or a more fanciful effect is obtained by tattooing in relief by injecting underneath the skin the juice of a plant which produces a permanent swelling. Sometimes the face and body are also tinted with dye, red being the color most in demand.

The same methods are used in adorning the face, special attention being given to the nose. Many of the Pa-houins pierce their noses with long, slender bones. Others after piercing the nose attach to it a string of colored pearls. Both men and women concentrate their efforts on their hair. The long, heavy, which is shown in the construction of scores of different headpieces of bone and metal for the men of the tribe, chiefly the warriors, is illustrated in a far greater degree by the coiffures of the women.

The extreme of simplicity in the Pa-houin women's method of making themselves beautiful is to shave the head till it is smooth and round as a ball and then to color it with a dye.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Holl a Pumpkin.

The Rev. John Haynes was famous for his witty sayings. At one time, when one of his exchange, he overheard his daughter and some young friends criticizing certain neighbors more severely than was pleasing to him, whereupon he proceeded to read them a lecture on the stultifness of scandal.

"But, father," remonstrated his daughter, "we must say something." "If you can do nothing better," retorted Mr. Haynes dryly, "get a pumpkin and roll it about. That will be an innocent diversion."

Not long afterward a conference of ministers met at his house. During the evening an earnest discussion on certain points of doctrine arose, and from the lofty pith of some of the volumes, it seemed as if part of the disputants at least were in danger of losing their temper.

At that juncture Mr. Haynes' daughter quietly entered the room, bearing a huge pumpkin. She put it down in front of her father and said: "There, father, roll it about. Roll it about gently, which is shown in the explanation, and good humor was restored.

The Prince and the Captain.

The admiral commanding the British Mediterranean squadron some 20 years ago, writes a correspondent, gave a dinner to the captains of the fleet at Malta. By 10:45 most of the captains had reached the flagship, been received on the deck by the admiral and ushered below. Next the Duke of Edinburgh arrived. The admiral received him, and, keeping him in conversation, continued to pace the deck. All subsequent arrivals were duly ushered below to the saloon, but still the admiral kept the duke on the deck. At last it occurred to the duke that the dinner hour had passed, and he ventured to inquire if his host was waiting for anybody.

"Yes," replied the admiral, "I am waiting for the captain of the —."

Instantly the duke took the hint, called for a boat and made posthaste for one of the ships. He alone among the captains of the fleet had turned up in uniform, forgetting or not knowing, that the dinner was official. On his return to the flagship in the quickest time on record and in full uniform the gallant but indelible admiral was still pacing the deck, and deprecating his royal highness' profuse apologies conducted him to dinner. I believe, concludes my correspondent, the admiral was Sir Michael Culme Seymour.—M. A. P.

BOOMING BIGGER AND UPDEGRAFF

A committee of bright young Republicans hand in the following:

C. B. Updegraff and H. J. Bigger are prominently spoken of as candidates for the office of city recorder.

H. J. Bigger during his residence here has been strongly identified with the Republican party. He is widely and extensively known as the author of an able and erudite document (?) entitled "Does the Constitution Follow the Flag" which made its appearance during the recent presidential campaign. He is also quite well known for other, various sundry reasons.

C. P. Updegraff is also a prominent figure in local politics. He has always been an enthusiastic Republican and has rendered great services to his party by disseminating campaign literature and distributing campaign symbols.

These are fair specimens of the kind of men who antagonize the Citizen's movement and yet the Republican party are willing to indict such men upon the Salem public to replace the present honest and clean administration.

No Canal Route Agreed Upon.

New York, Nov. 24.—There was an apparently well authenticated report in Washington last night says a dispatch to the Times that the Isthmian Canal Commission will make a report announcing the respective advantages of the Nicaragua and Panama routes but not offering any suggestion about which should be chosen.

It is understood that some members of the commission were in favor of presenting a report in favor of the Nicaragua route but that others were as strongly in favor of Panama and that the result is a compromise. The Isthmian Commission has never been of one mind regarding routes even in Nicaragua.

Hardly a route has been mentioned that has not been open to some objections and the members of the commission have never been strongly in favor of any of them.

Jim Hill Denies the Report.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 24.—A special from New York to the Times, quotes James J. Hill as saying:

"Reports to effect that I have secured control of the Northern Pacific and, that the Great Northern Company has guaranteed anything for the Northern Pacific either, or both are absolutely untrue."

Nicholas Still Doing Well.

HAVE YOU DYSPEPSIA?

(SCIENCE CALLS IT CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.)

MISS DADE STEGEMAN, OF CHICAGO.

Miss Dade Stegeman, Superintendent of the Chicago North Side Woman's Club, Chicago, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, speaks of Per-una as follows: "Per-una has often been used by the members of our club in cases of stomach trouble and general debility—also recently in cases of la grippe, and always with the most beneficial results. I think a great deal of Per-una—often recommend it to my friends, and am glad to say all who have tried it speak a good word for it."

Mrs. Emily S. Carson, Ansterlitz, Mich., says: "Dr. S. B. Hartman—Dear Sir: I had been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion for many years, and was very much reduced in flesh. I could not eat anything without the greatest distress after meals. My food would come up and my stomach became very weak from fasting, as I preferred to go without food rather than suffer the consequences. I was advised to try Per-una, and after using a few bottles of Per-una and Man-a-lin I cured me. Per-una cannot be beaten. I give your medicine to my children for the various little ailments which annoy little ones, and the result is that they are never sick, but always strong and healthy. I have gained forty pounds since taking Per-una."

So many people have what is called dyspepsia without having the slightest suspicion that catarrh of the stomach is the cause. Such people take peppin and a thousand other things, vainly hoping to get well. But the catarrh remains, and of course the dyspepsia remains. Per-una cures these cases permanently by removing the cause, which is catarrh. Per-una has cured more cases of dyspepsia than any other remedy in the world. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, for a free book.
