"MARDI SOIR" DANCING CLUB

Opens the Season With a Successful Party.

Those Present On the Initial Occasion---What the Ladies Wore..

The "Mardi Soir" Dancing Club gave their initial party at the Willamette hotel, Tuesday night, with a splendid attendance of Salem's most popular society people, who already give evidence of making a very gay winter season for the Capital. Affairs have been going so thick and fast that this only added another to the line of delightful successes in society's realm. The music was idea and Mr. Gesner's always fine orchestra was materially strengthened by five extra pieces from Portland, and from the gay lancers, mazy waltzes and popular two-step to the intricate Germania the time and rythn was as nearly perfect as dance music can be played.

There were some particularly pretty costumes, the most admired being Mrs. E. A. Pierce in a dainty pink silk India linen, trimmed daintily with narrow black ribbon and lace. Mrs. A. A. Jessup was admired in a gray silver mull trimmed with black lace and a faint touch of pink. Mrs. R. D. Gilbert was very becomingly attired in black with a large choux of pink chiffon on the left shoulder. Miss Agnes Gilbert was striking in a scarlet gown with a dash of black, and wore red flowers in her hair. Miss Maud McKay looked sweet and girlish in light blue silk. Miss Stella Hurst was a stylish picture in black and white. Miss Maud Hirsch made a fair "Janice Meredith" representation in a blue ball gown. Miss Ethel Knight looked very sweet in a gray silk mull trimmed in pink. Miss Leona Hirsch wore a pretty white organdie and pink ribbons.

Those enjoying the party were: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stoat, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Calbreath, A. N. Gilbert and Miss Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Breyman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Buren, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Giesy, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Riely; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Campbell, Chemawa; Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Chemawa; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Trover, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lafore, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gilbert, Mrs. Olive England, Mrs. Hunt; the Misses Lena and Jessie Breyman, Mae Boise, Margaret Cooper, Ella E., Maud and Leona Hirsch, Esther Collins, Stella Hurst, Ethel Knight, Connie Holland, Edna Price, Margaret Messick, Anna Golden, Nina Bushnell, Jeannette Brown; Messrs. R. J. Fleming, F. K. Lovell, Harry Albert, C. D. Jessup; J. O. Thomas, Portland; F. R. McMillan, Portland; W. H. Chatten, C. A. McNary, Jos. Evans, H. J. Ottenheimer, Ed Crawford, J. J. Murphy, J. Krausse, O. V. Allen and A. E Irwin.

"SALEM, YESTERDAY AND TODAY"

Col. C. J. Holt of Chicago lectured Wednesday evening at the M. E. church, and notwithstanding the fact that the place of meeting was not settled until after three o'clock, there was a good sized audience, the lecture deserving a crowded house.

He illustrated the condition of affairs in Salem by a series of striking pictures representing a farm yard where the rats were destroying the young chickens. The roosters stood in with the rats and licensed them, at the same time filling their own craws out of the license corn. But the hens declared the rats were doing as much damage as ever, so they organized a "cackling society" and determined to cackle until the rats were driven away.

He blames the good people for not arising en masse to enforce the present laws concerning saloons which would drive out every saloon.

The women of Junction City recently caused the closing of all the saloons there on Sunday, after the men had declared it could not be done.

Theodore Roosevelt did the same thing in New York City when he was in office there. He said: "If I do not enforce the law, then I am a perjurer and a rascal and ought to go to prison for life." And he did enforce it. What he has done others could do had they the backbone to sustain the laws of our country.

Temperance men should work in the caucus and primaries instead of letting the lower classes nominate a ticket and then refuse to vote for anyone because the candidates are all corrupt.

Col. Holt's object in lecturing is to make happy homes, fill the church pews and empty the saloons. He presents the pledge at every meeting.

He announces the subjects of some of his lectures this week as, "Flagging the Incoming Train" at the M. E. church at the close of prayer meeting.

Friday night, "Ten Dollar and Costs" This he considers his best lecture. Other topics are, "Woman's Sacrifice or the Heroism of Love." "Lights and Shades of City Life," and "The S. fe Side of Life for a Young Lady."

Everybody cordially invited a d no admission charged.

Mims Pardon Case.

The effort that is being made to secure a pardon for Edwin L. Mims, sentenced for five years from Umatilla county for manslaughter, is interesting the legal profession and public men all over the state. Mims, who has served about fifteen months of his time, was a member of the legal profession and a deputy collector of revenues under President Cleveland.

There is as a matter of fact no regular pardon case before Gov. Geer in behalf of Mims. Such a case is usually made up by presenting petitions of citizens, jurors, trial judge or district attorney. Then there are filed counter-petitions and protests, but in this case all such influences are absent so far, but will no doubt be presented later, as the Governor declines to take up the case in the absence of these formalities.

The case was opened in behalf of Mims by the appearance of Senator Joseph Simon introducing Senator Pritchard of North Carolina, who made an argument in Mims' behalf before the Governor. He was supported in a legal argument by Judge Jas. A. Fee of Pendleton, both contending that no man ever had stronger claims or grounds for pardon than Edwin L. Mims.

Gov. McMillan of Tennessee, United States Senators Bate and Turly of Tennessee, Attorney General Pickle and Congressman Brownlow of the same state, and Josiah Patterson of Memphis, W. O. Mims of Newport, Tenn., both prominent criminal lawyers of Tennessee, have written letters that are on file with Gov. Geer. These prominent people are all emphatically of the opinion that Mims should be pardoned. The reason why there is no petition on file for his pardon from Umatilla county is that public sentiment at Pendleton is said to be against any act of clemency. People who are against Mims argue that he was a lawyer, knew the law, and yet carried a pistol concealed on his person and killed the barkeeper Miller when his own life was not in danger. On the other hand his friends claim that the testimony of the defence showed that the barkeeper attacked Mims with an ice pick, knocked him down, raised lumps on his head where he struck him, and that Mims shot him when he was down and in danger of his life when he was under the influence of liquor. It is one of those close cases where a saloon row ended in one man being killed and and some one had to be committed and sentenced and Mims got it.

Like a preacher's son, a lawyer gets no sympathy when he gets into the meshes of the law. In this case the written opinion of the trial judge in refusing a new trial is that the elements of premeditation and deliberation to commit crime were entirely lacking, and the elements of purpose and malice were not apparent to make the homicide murder in the second degree, but on the other hand the court said the assault made by Miller did not excuse or justify killing him in self-defence. In their verdict the jury said: "We recommend the defendant to the extreme mercy of the court." Jurymen called on Judge Lowell and asked him personally to give Mims the lowest sentence, of one year. This request Lowell had never before disregarded.

In giving his sentence Judge Lowell said: "A judge is not bound to consider any recommendation of a jury, and if he does he must construe the language of the recommendation as it appears, deeming it an expression in ordinary phrase of the sentiment of the entire twelve men with whose endorsement it is presented."

"With finding of verdict the responsibility of the jury ceases, the law having imposed upon the judge the duty of passing sentence, and upon the Governor the power of pardon, if there is warrant for the exercise of that high prerogative."

Instead of following his usual custom of complying with a request for mercy, the court sentenced Mims to five.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars fo any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

VACCINATION AND DANDRUFF.

There Is as Sure Prevention for Baldness as There Is of Smallpox.

It is now accepted that vaccination renders the vaccinated person exempt from smallpox; or at worst, he never has anything but the lightest kind of a case. Now as sure a preventative and cure for dandruff, which causes failing hair and baldness, has been discovered Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the dandruff germ. C. H. Reed, Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife have been troubled with dandruff and hair falling for several years. We tried remedies without effect until we used Newbro's Herpicide, two bottles of which cured us." Hundreds of similar testimonials.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THEY WILL JUST VOTE

Oregon Democrats Can Accomplish But Little

However, None Will Vote for a Republican United States Senator

Baker City Democrat:

No Republican aspirant for the United States Senate need count upon the support of the Democrats and Fusionists in the coming session of the legislature. Such is the statement of William Gatens, secretary of the Democratic city and county central committee, at Portland.

It is a question of principle with the Democrats in the legislature, and although there is practically no hope of a Democratic senator being elected next winter the members of that political faith can stand together and make things interesting for the other fellows. Such is the explanation of the secretary. It It is not that the Republican candidates in the field are not capable men, but the Democrats are desirous of nominating a candidate from their own party, simply to be consistent.

This declaration of Gatens is confirmed by a few members elected from this county under the name of citizens. They are not pledged to anyone in particular for the office of senator. It appears that the democrats will pass around a few complimentary votes and thus "jolly" prominent leaders in the party throughout the state. Among those who may expect to have this honor thrust upon them are such lights in the ranks of Jeffersonian simplicity as Judge Bennett, L. B. Cox, Milt Miller, Sylvester Pennoyer and a number of others identified with the best interests of the party. When all these have received recognition the little phalanx may be expected to begin tossing boquets to one another, and if the fight for senator requires enough ballots to be taken there is an opportunity for every man in the legislature not allied with the republicans to have a vote for United States Senator.

One reason assigned for this possible proposition is to play politics with the opposition. A member-elect is quoted with saying that if the democrats stand together and thereby cause the republicans to settle the question of senatorship without outside assistance, the breech in the republican party will be worse two years from now than it is at the present moment. Proceeding along this line of arrangements, the member elect said that the more the republicans become divided the better chance the democrats will have of achieving success in the immediate future.

As a matter of fact there are but three men in the legislature who are elected under the name of democrat. There are others who belong to the party, however but they were sent to Salem as a result of combinations with other organizations. These are expected to vote purely as democrats when ballots are taken for senator. There are 55 straight out republicans, as well as several elected on combination tickets. The makeup of the legislature stands as follows:

Senate—Republicans 20; democrat 1; peoples 2; citizens 4; union 1; citizens-democrat-peoples-union 1; democratic-people's 1.

House of Representatives—Republicans 36; democrats 2; democratic-people's 5; citizens 13; union 3; democratic-people's-silver republican 1;

Of the citizens in the senate from Multnomah, who may be counted on to support a democrat for senator, there are two. It may be said that there are eight votes in the senate for a democrat. But three representatives-elect from this county flying the flag of citizen can be relied upon to cast their votes for a republican for the senate, the rest being democrats. considering the members not labeled republicans as against that party, there are 14 democratic votes in the lower house, a total of 22 on joint ballot.

Twenty-two is probably the limit any candidate not a republican could receive, so that there is little doubt that the next United States senator from Oregon will be a republican as heretofore. Where there are so many factio is represented, it is not supposed that these 22 will hold together merely for the purpose of making complimentary votes.
