Vital Power

Is that subtle influence that makes each organ of the body able and active in maintaining health. It is only another name for nerve-force. That is why such disorders as neuralgia, headache, backache, indigestion, worry, irritable temper and loss of sleep, that depress the spirits and weaken the nerves, also destroy the vitality. To maintain your vital power and resistive strength see to it that the nerves are strong and healthy.

"I had been in poor health for years, and had taken many kinds of remedies; but I did not seem to get better. At last I had a severe attack of LaGrippe which completely unnerved me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and it did me so much good that when I had used four bottles I was looking better and feeling better than in fifteen years before."
J. W. UDY, 1003 Center St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

feeds and strengthens the nerves, gives zest to the appetite, tone to the digestion and builds up the vital power to resist attacks of disease.

TURNING POINT IN THE HISTORY OF OREGON POLITICS

Whether a Republican Senator shall be chosen at this session of the legislature by the regular party proceeding, or that a legislature two-thirds Republican shall adjourn leaving the office blank for two years, is an issue that really marks a turning point in Oregon history.

Men who said on the campaign that they would not be parties to another hold up, that they would go into party caucus and elect a senator early in the session, and not put the people to the expense of a deadlock, have still a day of grace to partly set themselves right with their outraged constituents.

The simple facts that there was no issue to divide the party that had two-thirds of the members, and the fact that a bare majority under whip and spur could be got to drop personalities and help elect a man of the party choice shows the utter demoralization of the spoils element in the majority party of Oregon.

Take the case of a man like Williamson: He is honestly under the impression that the people of his district wanted him to vote for Mitchell. He believed the businessmen of The Dalles were an unit for Mitchell; and why? Because out of all the millions expended on the locks and canal at that place certain business men got riches and believed they owed it to Mitchell.

Mr. Williamson is also honest enough to know, that if left to a vote of the Republicans of his district the Mitchell vote would not be a majority. So far as the public know he has not received a single petition to vote for Mitchell or to vote against Corbett. Then what warrant have such men to assume that the people demand that they be a party to a holdup as against Mr. Corbett?

Mr. Williamson is a young man and he will learn by experience that when there is no great issue dividing the members of a party, when the people are not aroused and petitioning for or against any man, the regular party methods will prevail, and he who sets himself against them makes a serious mistake. This is the turning point in the history of the party in Oregon, and with the tremendous responsibilities devolving upon the Republican national administration, for the next four years the Republicans of Oregon will be found sustaining the customary party usages.

PRINCIPLES AND IDEAS FOR WHICH MR. CORBETT STANDS

The people are interested in Mr. Corbett's candidacy for the Senate because his life-work represents certain clearly defined principles that stand for the conservative interests of society. Mr. Corbett is a self-made man, who came to Oregon a poor young man and has amassed a fortune by legitimate commercial pursuits, until he is the foremost individual banker, merchant and property owner in Oregon. To admit the argument used against his election, that he has been successful, is a flirg in the face of American manhood, and to defeat him for that is to offer a premium on thriftlessness and tramps.

One act of Mr. Corbett's life should endear him to all who believe in cultureand the refinements—his assistance in establishing the Portland Library and Art Gallery, where there is as fine a collection of books, of statuary and plaster casts as there is in the United States. This may not appeal to some as directly as Mr. Corbett's activities in banking, merchandising and manufacturing. But it stamps Mr. Corbett as a man of breadth and refinement of feelings, and possessed of a soul that rises above the cold, sordid, calculating spirit, that is content with amassing dollars and grasping political power as is charged by his opponents. The presence of those treasures of art and literature in a far western city stamp their donor as a man of more than ordinary character and refinement.

Much has been said of Mr. Corbett's public spirit, but the essence of this matter is not understood until the fact is considered that, while he is a man of the firmest convictions in religious matters as in everything else, he has been absolutely nonsectarian and undenominational in his contributions. Methodist or Baptist, Catholic or Hebrew, Liberal or Evangelical, have been equal sharers in his generosity. He is one of Americans few men of wealth who have religiously set aside one-tenth of their income for charitable purposes, and has just as carefully scrutinized his allowances for these purposes as he would any other account.

Mr. Corbett is one of the positive characters of the Pacific coast. In every great crisis his voice rang out clear and strong and generally sound. He is equally sound on every great issue of today, as his writings and utterances on the Island possessions trusts and subsidies, finance and commerce, have shown. He was solid as the everlasting rocks for the gold standard before there was a silver question. He is just as pronounced and unequivocal in his declarations on all great issues. People know that Henry W. Corbett stands for positive principles that underlie the moral, social and industrial activities of the American people.

THE DEFALCATION IN OREGON SCHOOL LANDS

While THE JOURNAL regrets disclosures that put a blemish on the name of any citizen, it cannot but feel gratified that at last official notice has been taken of the frauds practiced in the school land department in the past. These matters have been charged in this paper and by the editor of this paper on the county canvass at Macleay in 1894 the case was proven to the satisfaction of anynot himself interested.

The editor of THE JOURNAL when a member of the House in 1895 charged publicly that a whitewashing investigation costing several thousand dollars was being conducted. These disclosures prove the correctness of that charge. The frauds committed in the School land Department under Pennoyer's administration, but while the Board was Republican, will cause a tremendous sensation if ever fully brought to light.

The "sons of somebody" have a bright outlook before them. There are more than 3,500 army offices to be filled under the new law. The "sons of somebody" have to be fed by the sons of somebody, of course, and the man who is fed is considered more important than he who does the feeding, by those in authority; but this is nothing new.—Ex.

Roseburg Plaindealer: While Mr. Corbett may not be a universal favorite for this high office there is no questioning his ability, integrity, influence and interest in the welfare of the state and the Pacific coast, and his capacity to secure much needed and valuable legislation for the Pacific coast states and Oregon in particular. His sound and well known views on all public questions effecting the great northwest makes him a safe, conservative and very acceptable candidate for the highest office within the lit of our state.

It has been settled that Senator Hanna will ride with President McKinley in the inaugural parade. The decision is the result of a long controversy. The suggestion that Roosevelt should ride with him was turned down. Senator Hanna, as chairman of the joint congressional committee on the inauguration, has the right of way. Congressman Cannon, as house member of the committee, may also ride with the president. The other members of the committee will ride with Vice-President Roosevelt.

PROCEEDINGS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Routine Acts of Both Houses Now in Session.

House—Wednesday Afternoon.

Message from the Senate transmitting bill for monument in memory of the Second Oregon Volunteers, was read together with the report that the Senate refused to accept the House provisions that Indian War Veterans and Civil War Veterans should be included. Motion made for House to recede from amendments. Mr. Montague opposed motion to recede, insisting that the old veterans should be recognized. Refused to recede.

Conference asked with Senate on amendments. Foorman and Montague appointed as conferees.

H. B. No. 101, by Orton, to restore compulsory pilotage; failed to pass.

House committee on mileage and per diem reported; adopted.

H. B. No. 27, by Heitkemper, to permit each member to call up one House or Senate bill in order. Out of order; substitute by Roberts.

H. B. No. 262, by Story, relating to sale of state lands; considered in committee; passed.

H. B. No. 189, by Driscoll, to abolish separate board for transaction of county business, and vest the same in county judge and Wm. Showers and J. C. Mack, as commissioners until 1904; passed.

In a one-minute speech Hume killed a bill to make all streets and alleys of unincorporated towns and unincorporated parts of cities county roads. The bill would have put onto the county about four-thousand miles of unimproved streets.

Story scored once off Eddy. The latter made the point of order that Story had spoken more than once before others had spoken. This was sustained by the chair, and when debate was ended Story arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, in reply to the reprimand of the gentleman I will say that no gentleman has made so many speechs or occupied so much time on the floor of the house as the gentleman from Tillamook."

Nothingham made the great speech for the Portland county commission bill. He surprised the House by his clearness and ability to present the case of the little home owners against the extravagance and corruption of the Multnomah machine politicians. The moral sentiment of the House was clearly aroused by the appeal. It was Nottingham's second speech.

Senate—Wednesday Afternoon.

Called to order at 2 p. m. by President Felton.

Committee on Railroads reported favorably upon S. B. No. 173—by Kuykendall—"To authorize construction Siuslaw and Eastern Railway." Bill was read for third time and passed.

H. B. No. 110, (special order 2 p. m.) (substitute) by committee on Fish and Game. For protection of fish and game. Read third time. Passed.

H. B. No. 219. (substitute) Fish and Game committee. To protect salmon and fishing industries. Special order for 2:30 p. m. was taken up. President Felton then offered some amendments which were contested—a motion made to refer bill to Fisheries committee was lost. Amendments were adopted. Final motion was made to refer bill and amendments to Fisheries committee with instruments to report Thursday was carried.

H. B. No. 5, Rice—to provide for a time and place for the terms of the circuit court in the second judicial district. Read three times and passed.

Senate adjourned at 4:30 until 7:30 p. m.

House—Wednesday Night.

The charters of the following named towns were considered and passed: Seaside, Philomath, Corvallis, Myrtle Creek, North Yamhill, Sheridan, Grass Valley, Wasco, Cornelius, Milton, Yoncalla.

The special appropriation bill was considered in committee of the whole, amended by the insertion of several amounts specified claims, and passed.

Senate—Wednesday Night.

Senate called to order at 7:30 by President Fulton.

On second reading number of bills referred to appropriate committees.

S. B. No. 210, by Smith, of Baker—to regulate sale of liquors; passed.

S. B. No. 209, by Malkey—to prohibit saloons within 300 feet of public schools; passed.

S. B. No. 197, by Mays—to amend an act relating to transfer of stocks of goods. Motion to refer to committee on Commerce was lost, was amended and passed.

H. B. No. 189, by Driscoll—To provide a board of County Commissioners for Multnomah county. Read three times. Motion to refer to Multnomah county delegation lost. Bill passed by a vote of 17 ayes to 7 noes.

Senate adjourned at 9:30 until 9:30 Thursday.

A HUMANE BILL BECOMES A LAW

House bill No. 50, by Grace, providing for the punishment of persons poisoning domestic animals is certainly a meritorious measure. It has passed both houses and now waits the Governor's signature before becoming a law. It provides for a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for the conviction of any person of purposely and maliciously poisoning any domestic animal. The enactment of this bill will cause such criminals as recently poisoned S. W. Thompson's valuable Gordon Lowellie setter, a harmless and useful animal, to think twice before committing such dasterdly deeds.

Callsthenics

Are a benefit to healthy women. But to women who are suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex they are an injury. When there is weak back or bearing-down pains, sideache or other indications of womanly weakness, exercise can only aggravate the condition. The womanly health must be first restored before strength can be developed by exercise.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It does this by healing the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It stops the drains that weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"When I first commenced using Doctor Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. George A. Strong, of Gansevoort, Saratoga, Co. N. Y., "I was suffering from female weakness, a disagreeable drain bearing down pains, weak and tired feeling all the time. I dragged around in that way for two years, and I began taking your medicine. After taking first bottle I began to feel better. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' one vial of 'Pleasant Pellets,' also used one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Now I feel like a new person. I can't thank you enough for your kind advice and the good your medicine has done me.

"I have a sister who is taking your medicine and it is helping her."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets promote regularity of the bowels, and assist the action of "Favorite Prescription." No other laxative should be used with Dr. Pierce's Medicines.
