Beautiful Roanoke Coming
Like a spring wind waiting the perfume of magnolia blossoms from the Sunny South, "Roanoke" tells a story of that interesting land; not only its paths and heart interest depicted in a life-like and beautiful manner, but the comedy element running through the play is natural and spontaneous as though the author was living and intermingling with the characters of the play. Hal Reed has given to the world dramatic genius in "Human Hearts." A Night Before Christmas, and other plays, but in none had he achieved such marked success as in "Roanoke." People who witness the drama will enjoy a rare treat, and those who miss it will miss one of the best things of the season. The company presenting it is an unusually strong one, each member having been engaged for his part.

Party at Fred Branning's.
Fred Branning gave a pleasant party at his home on 21st and Turner road, Saturday evening in honor of his forty-second birthday and the Military band. The members of the band did themselves credit by playing some of their best music, which was highly appreciated by the number of invited guests. Several of the latest songs were sung, and music rendered on several different instruments. The different rooms of the house were beautifully decorated with draperies of flowers and boughs. At a late hour a magnificent lunch was served, and after a few more amusing games the party started for home, having spent a very pleasant evening.

TIDE OF IMMIGRATION REACHING SALEM

New People Arriving Daily in Oregon's Capital City.
Mr. Huntsinger, of Indiana. Located Here as an Undertaker.
He Likes Salem and Oregon Better Than All the West.

Since the start of spring immigration from the East, Salem has been a trifle less busy than it was in the winter months, but it is now apparent that we are getting the attentions of many. Among those who have most recently come are Mr. D. E. Huntsinger and family, of South Bend, Ind.
Mr. Huntsinger is a professional undertaker of 15 years' practice and will continue his business in Salem, having bought out the old-established Buren undertaking parlors on State street.
A Journal reporter took pains to inquire of Mr. H. as to what he thought of the West, and learned that he had traveled all over the Coast the past year, and selects Salem as the most desirable point in the most desirable state on the Pacific slope. He is an enterprising business man, who thinks he knows a good point, and combining his convictions along those lines with his superb climate he has decided to cast his lot with the good people of Salem. Mr. Huntsinger will certainly receive a hearty welcome from our people and will be given his full share of the business in his line. He has many friends and acquaintances in Indiana who will be interested to learn of his happy selection of a new home in the garden spot of the West, and all of whom will no doubt join in recommending him to the Salem public.

The "Picket."

The picket was generally inflicted on cavalry and artillerymen and was a singularly brutal bit of torture. A long post, near which stood a stool, was driven into the ground. The delinquent was ordered to mount the stool, and his right hand was fastened to a hook in the post by a noose, drawn up as high as it could be stretched, round his wrist. A stump the height of the stool, with its end cut into the earth close to the post. Then the stool was taken away, and the sufferer had nothing to rest his bare feet upon but the stump, which, though it did not usually break the skin, says Captain Crose, "put him in great torture, his weight on his wrist, the pain of which soon became intolerable." One can very well believe him, especially when he makes the addition that a man was not infrequently left to stand in this position for half an hour, although the orthodox period of endurance was 15 minutes.—London Graphic.

Open Streets at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Oregon, May 12, 1901.
ED. JOURNAL.—My attention has been called to two items in your weekly issue of last week concerning the action of the honorable county court in the matter of opening the streets of St. Paul. These items leave the reader under the impression that the citizens of the vicinity desire the streets to be opened. Such is not a fact. On the other hand seventy-five per cent of the citizens in this neighborhood are anything but pleased at the action of the few who are causing this trouble and if our county court has been obliged to believe that they were doing the will of our people, they have been grossly misled.

The articles referred to gives the impression that the affair is settled for good. Not by a "jug full" as the saying goes. The element that is causing the trouble knows that it is not settled. It is now nearly two weeks since the county court reversed the order of October, 1899, but they have done nothing to follow up their victory, excepting to blow the fog off another "chocoon" and to do a lot of talking that would not look well in print.

I will now give you the facts as they are. In October 1899 the county court closed these streets at the request of Archbishop Christie. There is an orphanage at this place and Archbishop Christie allowed the Sisters who have charge of this orphanage to use and fence this land. This being fenced and used by these sisters does no injury to anyone. It shuts no one in and even if they were open they would not be used. These good sisters are caring for thirty orphans, ranging in age from two to sixteen years. They have so far had no assistance from any source except the charity of the inclined. Otherwise it was all done by the exertions of these good sisters for sweet charity's sake.

There are ten other parties in St. Paul who have streets fenced in, but the brave citizens who are causing this trouble do not interfere with them.
From your article one would think that there was a difference between Archbishop Christie and our people. Not by any means. The citizens of St. Paul and vicinity are almost a unit in defense of the Archbishop and this orphanage. Some of our people feel badly hurt by the two items named. We know the JOURNAL would do no one an injury and ask you to make the correction.
I will pass no remarks on the conduct of those who are causing this trouble.
A CITIZEN OF ST. PAUL.

What is Advertising?

Advertising is the building of a structure around your business that cannot be torn down in a moment by a "mushroom" competitor, or spasmodic advertiser. It is the building of a reputation in the minds of the people that is infallible. It is the building of a desire in the consumer—that feeling which will cause him to seek and ask for your special products. It is the building of a force which is productive of impressions that coincide with his announcements. It is the building of a prestige about you that will strengthen you by year the public which is accepted by the quality without murmur.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR.

Dandruff Germ Thrives in It as Well as in all Grease.
A well known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Hair-Prep. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness, and for Herpetic. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ.
