COLORADO LABOR LEADERS EXCITED

They are Wild Over the Loss of the Employer's Liability Bill.

UNIONS WILL SPEND LARGE SUM TO DISCOVER THE GUILTY PERSON

National Homeopathist Convention Meeting at Richfield Springs—May Consider an Important Question Affecting Practice.

Denver, June 17.—Conferences of labor leaders are being held in this city to investigate the reported theft from the official files of what is known as the "Employer's Liability Bill," passed by the last legislature in the interest of wage earners. "If it is true that the record of the passage of the employer's liability law has been stolen from the official journal of the Senate and if it cannot be recovered the law is invalid. There are decisions in our courts that cover practically similar cases." That was the statement made by Lieutenant-Governor Coates of Colorado.

"I do not yet know officially that the portion of the bill has been stolen, but I shall investigate. If the bill or a portion of it has been stolen it was done deliberately and with the sole intent of invalidating the law. When the bill was pending it was bitterly fought. Every effort was made to defeat it. The duplicate copies will do us no good. The courts will accept only the original.

"I do not suspect any person or persons in this work. I do not know whether the part of the record alleged to be missing disappeared after it was given to the Secretary of State or before. I am however inclined to believe that the portion was stolen before it reached the Secretary of State.

"This theft comes as a stunning blow to the working people of Colorado. It was the one law that the working people wanted passed and the one for which the friends of labor made their hardest fight.

"Four years ago a portion of the record of the passage of the Scrip bill was stolen and that bill was invalidated."

At a conference held in the office of the State Federation of Labor, President Garman declared that if the bill is declared to be void by reason of the theft that organized labor in the state would expend hundreds of dollars in finding and convicting the guilty persons.

Norton, of New York has arrived. The opening meeting will be held on Tuesday evening. It is expected that a motion will be made at the gathering, expressing the statement of the Institute on Christian Science and especially on the language ascribed to Mrs. Eddy in a recent interview at Concord, N. H., on the evolution from allopathy to homeopathy and from homeopathy to Christian Science.

New York, June 17.—No definite conclusion has been reached up to last night as to the extent of the injury received by Ethelbert, Perry Belmont's horse during the running of the Suburban handicap on Saturday. Mr. Belmont was asked whether the cut received by Ethelbert would permanently retire him from the turf. He replied that he had received a telegram from his trainer, A. J. Journer, saying she was much swollen and he could not yet tell how serious the injury was.

New York, June 17.—Alcedo, the winner of the Suburban received a severe cut on the coronet of his near foreleg while at the post. The cut did not flinch from the path but went on in the race and won. McCormick his trainer has nothing but praise for Alcedo. He said:

MARSHAL LOMBARD SHOT

Corrected Details as to the Shooting at St. Paul Saturday.

At St. Paul Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, John Kelly shot City Marshal Frank Lombard in a difficulty over a private road. Lombard is a logger, it seems, had encroached on a road owned by J. L. Cook, when Kelly took up the quarrel, following the same up by drawing his revolver and threatening to shoot Lombard. Lombard dared him to shoot, and jumped at Kelly just as he fired, the bullet penetrating under the right eye near the nose, and inflicting an ugly wound. Lombard, unaware of being shot, blackened Kelly's eyes and knocked him down. Later he discovered that he was wounded. A physician was called from Woodburn. He found the wound not necessarily dangerous. The wounded man arrested his assailant, handcuffed him and turned him over to Councilman Alfred Lombard, his brother. The prisoner was brought to Salem Saturday night and arraigned. Kelly's bonds were fixed at $1000, which he was unable to pay. He occupies a cell in the County Jail here. The story as told by eyewitnesses is to the effect that Frank Lombard was sitting on the sidewalk when the trouble began. Kelly was seen to go off the walk. When in front of Lombard he pulled his gun. Lombard said: "Put up your gun." Kelly made some reply when Lombard said: "G—d—n—n shoot you, if you dare. You are afraid to shoot." But Kelly was drunk and cracked the gun. Lombard leaped to his feet, downed Kelly and beat him severely before he knew he was shot. Alfred Lombard pulled his brother off Kelly, fearing he would get his gun and kill him.

When the wounded man realized he was seriously hurt, he had a physician sent for. It was then found that the bullet from a 38-caliber revolver had entered just below the left corner of the right eye and passed through, lodging against the base of the skull. The bullet was not extracted. The physician pronounced the wound dangerous, but not necessarily fatal.

At the arraignment Saturday Kelly claimed that while he and Lambert were disputing, Lombard threatened to thrash him and made a move as though to carry his threat into execution, where upon Kelly drew his revolver and fired in self-defense. He said he carried the revolver to shoot coons and wildcats. He also said that he carried the revolver in his coat pocket, and that he did not know whether or not he shot Lombard. The testimony showed, however, that Kelly wore no coat and that he was covered with Lombard's blood.

Alfred Lombard testified Kelly fired the shot before Lombard moved from his seat, and that Kelly was the aggressor. Lombard was unarmed. There were several witnesses to the affair, so the facts will be established at the examination to be held Tuesday.

Frank Lombard is of French extraction, is a quiet peaceable man, very popular on French Prairie, and of powerful physique. He has a large family. The wound is considered dangerous. He was taken to Portland today by steamer Molede, where his wound will be cared for by Dr. White of St. Paul, and Dr. A. C. Smith Portland, experienced surgeons.

Young Foller and his father both claimed that Kulzer had twice pulled a gun on the boy and he simply waited till he caught him without his artillery.
