The Great Portland Carnival and Exposition is now in full swing, with a splendid array of attractions, and two full military bands playing afternoon and evening. On October 3 there will be a grand celebration of Pioneers and Native Sons' and Daughters' Day, and Portland's Front Street will be reproduced just as it was 50 years ago, and those of the Portland pioneers who are still living will be back in their old places of business for the day and evening. It will be a very enjoyable occasion for everybody.

The Southern Pacific Excursion train will leave Ashland at 5 a. m. on October 2, reaching Portland the same evening. Fares will be only $10.25 from Ashland, round trip; Phoenix, $10; Medford, $9.85; Grant's Pass, $8.90; Glendale, $7.90; Riddle, $7.00. Other points at proportionately low rates.

On these excursion tickets, passengers will be allowed 5 full days in Portland, during which time Hermann, the dare-devil of the diamond frame will make hair-raising rides for life on a bicycle from a tower 80 feet high, down 150 steps, with no saddle on his wheel.

The diary exhibit is one of the neatest on the grounds, although it is not as large as it should be. The new diary building is as neat as a pin, and built on practical plans. It is supposed to be in charge of State Food and Dairy Commissioner J. W. Baily, but in that gentleman's absence at the Buffalo show it is in the hands of his deputy, R. R. Carlson. There are only eight cheese exhibitors and fifteen of butter, and while all is in shape, there ought to be twenty times the number of persons interested, besides a working exhibit constantly in operation. Really the most interesting display in the dairy department is that of the Salem Cheese Factory, by F. A. Schubinger. It contains about twenty-five varieties of cheese, including the plain American cheese, cream and brick cheeses in many varieties, the fragrant Limburger, fromagede brie, Fruethatke Kase, Russian cheese, and many little delicacies in the cheese line that would stagger the average reporter to name, taste, or appreciate. But to make all these articles in a marketable manner, and dispose of them requires not only great skill as a manufacturer, but as a clever business operator as well. Mr. Schubinger is gaining a wide reputation for his products, and while no one person can use all of these articles, the fact that a market for them exists is evidence of their commercial worth. This cheese factory converts a great deal of milk product into cash, and thus adds just that much wealth to the community.

The judges in the dairy department are Messrs. A. A. Underhill, of Wisconsin, and Prof. Kent, of Corvallis. The samples will be given these gentlemen in a private room at one corner of the building, in such a manner that they will not know whose product they are passing upon, thus securing absolute justice to the exhibitors. In the past the judges have passed about among the exhibits, and almost invariably knew whose product they were passing judgment on, thus being open to the suspicion of partiality at least, and there are always plenty of people ready to cast suspicion. Mr. Carlson is entitled to the credit for this arrangement.

J. E. Murphy, the tile man, has a good practical exhibit of his wares on the grounds, and while he claims his tiling will overcome the bad effects of too much rain on any kind of land, it will not save a State Fair from its bad effects.

The Salem Soap works is another local manufacturing institution that has a good display of its wares, and they are a credit to the town as well as the manufacturers.

Roth & Graber have a neat booth, and are exploiting the merits of a coffee cooker to advantage.

Ed S. Lamport has a full fledged harness shop in one corner of the art department, and it properly belongs in the art department, for it is a thing of beauty.

The art department, under the management of Mrs. J. N. Brown, is in fine shape, and has much meritorious work in the different lines represented.

FINE LIVESTOCK EXHIBIT.

Prominent Feature at State Fair and One Seldom Surpassed.

The stock exhibit of the fair is one of its most prominent features. Some of the finest animals, representing the best herds, are on exhibition. Professor James Withycombe regards it as the second best show in the United States. He is of the opinion that only the array of livestock at the Illinois State Fair is superior to the one at Salem. At the Oregon State Fair there is a wide representation of cattle, sheep, goats and hogs. The exhibit of cattle is perhaps the completest of any at the fair.

Among the animals on exhibit are:

10 Aberdeen Angus cattle, owned by M. McPorter, of Benton County. Included in the number is a calf for which the owner paid $1000.

12 Holsteins, owned by the Hazelwood Company, of Spokane.

15 Holsteins, owned by P. A. Frakes, of Columbia County.

10 Ayrshires, owned by Honeyman Bros., of Portland. These cattle were imported from New York from celebrated stock.

14 Brown Swiss cattle, owned by F. A. French. These are the first ever bred in Oregon. They are of a superior stock.

9 Guernseys, from Hazel farm, Ladd estate, Portland.

8 Jerseys, owned by H. West, of Clatsop County, two of them being from the Miller & Sibley herd, of New York.

1 Jersey bull, owned by J. M. & S. W. Atkinson, of Newberg.

8 Jerseys, owned by Charles Cleveland, of Gresham.

7 Jersey and 1 Guernsey, owned by Hazelwood Company, of Spokane.

Shorthorn bull, owned by A. C. From, of Clark County, Washington.

7 Shorthorns, owned by W. O. Minor Meppner, including the noted prizewinner Collins, 2500 pounds, bred by Robbins Bros., of Indiana, and Sallie Girl, champion of the United States circuit in 1909.

15 Shorthorns, from North Yamhill, owned by Charles E. Ladd; including bull Baron Linwood, never yet defeated in any contest. This bull was champion of the Oregon State Fair last year, and of the fair at New Westminster, B. C.

10 Herefords, owned by Amos Wilkins, of Jefferson, including noted bull Ida's Landseer.

19 Herefords, owned by John Sparks, of Reno, Nev. This is the champion herd of the West, and includes bull Perfection II and Lelax, the latter sired by Dale, which sold at public auction for $7500.

10 Herefords, owned by C. B. Wade, of Portland, including 2-year-old herd St. Valentine, bred by Robbins Bros., of Indiana.

Sheep and Goats.

37 Rambouillet and Delaine Merinos, owned by Baldwin Sheep & Land Company, of Hay Creek.

31 Delaine Merinos, owned by R. W. Carney.

8 Rambouillets, owned by Mr. Goff, of Macleay, Or.

22 Angora goats, owned by Craig Bros., of Astoria, Or.

3 Angora goats, owned by Mr. Riddle, of Monmouth.

3 Angora goats, owned by G. W. Owen, of King's Valley.

15 Angora goats, owned by John B. Stump, of Monmouth.

12 Southdown sheep, owned by Chas. E. Ladd.

13 Shropshire sheep, owned by C. E. Ladd.

Press Day Program.

An immense audience through the pavilion Tuesday night, when the Salem Press Club, assisted by Mrs. Hinges and the Alpine Glee Club entertained the visitors. The best of order prevailed and all the speakers and musical performers rendered their parts in a very creditable manner. The rain did not interfere with

How About Your Heart

Feel your pulse a few minutes. Is it regular? Are you short of breath, after slight exertion as going up stairs, sweeping, walking, etc? Do you have pain in left breast, side or between shoulder blades, choking sensations, fainting or smothering spells, inability to lie on left side? If you have any of these symptoms you certainly have a weak heart, and should immediately take

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

Mr. F. H. Oaks of Jamestown, N. Y., whose general face appears above, says: "Excessive use of tobacco seriously affected my heart. I suffered severe pains about the heart, and in the left shoulder and side; while the palpitation would awaken me from my sleep. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and soon found permanent relief."

Salem people turning out by the hundreds and making the evening a great social gathering.

There has never been a more popular attraction offered the public than the Glee club and quartet, managed by Mr. Epley of this city. The people simply cannot get enough of their singing, and they respond so generously to scores that they almost spoil the program for any minor performer such as an editor or a band. Mrs. Hinges retains all her old-time popularity, and sang in her best form and voice the melodies the people love to hear. Mr. Judah's new song was rendered for the first time and proved him a master at the very difficult art of writing songs that appeals to the hearts of the people. But they were thrilled and only regretted that his production was so short. Its rendition was given the heartiest encore of any solo of the evening, and the most perfect interpretation was placed on the words and melody furnished by Mr. J. Carellie Denton, by such an artist as Mrs. Hinges, the effect was not to be wondered at.

A delicious banquet was tendered at the State Press Association, through the offices of the Salem Press Club by the State Fair managers, and the manner in which it was served by the ladies of the St. Joseph's restaurant, left nothing to be desired. The evening was concluded by informal toasts, to which many of the visitors responded, and the local talent bore its part in the usual satisfactory manner. For an impromptu affair, got up on the shortest notice, all went off with the best of good taste and splendid feeling. There was a fine attendance of ladies and gentlemen connected with the press of the state.

Salem Day at the Fair.

This is Salem day at the State Fair and many of the principal business houses have closed and have gone en masse to the fair in spite of the threatening showers. The $2000 purse that are to be raced for are the great drawing card, and in addition to the large crowds that attend every evening by the people of Salem the attendance this afternoon from the city is very good. The fact is the fair has been made so comfortable and the exhibits in all departments under roof are so good that one can put in the day very profitably in spite of the fair every day.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling, no baking, simply add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocer's today. 10 cts.

Police Court.

In police court this day Recorder Judah has the usual quota of unfortunate brought before him for drunkenness and the smaller offenses. They are all disposed of to the best advantage of the city and the victims. Where a fine is desired and collectible it is imposed. Where there is simply an opportunity to pay board bills for improvident visitors they are hustled out of town, where they will the sooner come to their senses, and not be a burden to the taxpayers.
