DO YOU WEAR A PAIR OF OUR GLASSES?

If Not Give us a Trial There is nothing more painful or disagreeable about an examination of the eye. It is not even tiresome for the reason we have the latest and rapid testing instruments made and we understand our business. Over twenty years continuous practice has enabled us to almost tell at a glance what is needed at a glance what is needed for the relief of eyes that tire easy or blur. We make a specialty of children, and no mother should compel her child to pursue her studies with a troublesome sight. We recommend glasses only where they are needed. NEW MARRIAGE LAW

Episcopalian Canon on Marriage and Divorce.

Prohibits Wedlock of Persons Divorced for Reason Not Existing Before Marriage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The action of greatest importance taken by the triennial Episcopal convention was the adoption, by the house of bishops, by a vote of 37 to 21, of canon 36, which relates to the solemnization of matrimony. All of its provisions had previously been argued except those contained in section 4, which forbids the marriage of persons divorced for any cause not existing before marriage. "For any cause not existing before marriage" is understood to refer to such cause as insanity, inability to execute a contract, the existence of a living wife or husband, or like reasons, which practically rendered the marriage null and void. This section has been a bone of contention, a strong element in the church holding that the re-marriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted on the ground of infidelity should not be forbidden. The bishops have refused to accept this view of the matter. The question is by no means settled, as the whole subject is now to come up in the house of deputies, where it is expected to cause a protracted debate.

The canon as finally passed by the house of bishops reads as follows:

Text of the Canon.

Canon 36. Of the solemnization of matrimony. I. The solemnity of matrimony in this church is a service in which mutual consent of the parties entering into this state of life is given in the presence of the minister, who, having pronounced them in the name of the Holy Trinity to be man and wife, invokes the divine blessing upon their union.

II. The requirements of the law of the state regarding the conditions for the civil contract of marriage shall in all cases be carefully observed before the marriage is solemnized.

III. No minister shall solemnize the marriage of any person who is a minor under the laws of the place of marriage unless the parent or guardian of such minor is present and consenting, or shall have given written consent to the marriage, or is permanently resident in a foreign country. No minister shall solemnize a marriage except in the presence of at least two witnesses, the minister or the witnesses being personally acquainted with the parties. Every minister shall without delay formally record in the proper register the names, ages and residence of each party. Such record shall be signed by the minister who performs the ceremony, and if practicable by the married parties, and by at least two witnesses of the marriage.

IV. No minister shall solemnize a marriage between any two persons unless or until, by inquiry, he shall have satisfied himself that neither person has been, or is, the husband or the wife of any person then living; unless the former marriage was annulled by a decree of some civil court of competent jurisdiction for cause existing before such former marriage.

The bishops have yet to consider canon 37, providing for the discipline of persons marrying after being divorced. This will also cause a lively discussion.

MARION COUNTY GIRLS

Grace and Leila Holtzclaw, of this city, were returned from Portland Wednesday by the officers of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. They are about 19 and 17 years of age and are classed with Salem's incorrigibles, having lived reckless lives for the last two years. Their father, J. Holtzclaw, has a small farm near Chemawa, and raises oranges for the local market. There are three girls and two boys in the family. They were arrested on the charge of vagrancy in the Royal Lodging House on Fourth street in Portland, in company with six young men, one of whom is well known in this city. Three of the young men were locked up in the police station, three discharged with severe reprimands, and the girls sent home. The girls first gave their names as Grace and Leila Moxey.

WOOD FAMINE COMING

The Corner on Wood Now Making High Prices.

A Salem special says that Salem is just now feeling the effects of the wood famine which was predicted last Summer. Although the roads are now excellent for hauling, the price of wood is high, and apparently going higher. Second growth fir brings from $3 to $3.50 per cord; large fir, $3.75 to $4, and grub oak, $4 to $4.50. Those who bought wood on speculation last Summer are in a fair way to make a good profit on their foresight. Farmers sold large fir wood readily at $2.75 per cord, delivered in Salem, and now they are fulfilling their contracts, while the speculators reap a clear profit on $1 to $1.25 per cord. Many residents of this city left their wood-buying until after the Summer vacation, or until after hopping, and now they are paying a penalty for their procrastination. "All sold" is the answer usually given by a farmer when he is accosted with an inquiry for wood. Wood wagons are quite numerous on the streets, but they are hauling wood sold last Summer. It is thought by some, however, that the present prices will not be main-

SCALP BOUNTY INDUSTRY

Several Hundred Scalps That Will Fetch Money.

Corvallis Times: Readers of this paper will recall the details of the capture of Henry E. Egerton, in Eugene, some months ago, and his conviction on the charge of fraudulently disposing of scalps to various county clerks. He was sentenced to serve his time out in the county jail at Eugene. Last Wednesday, in company with others, he made his escape from jail. It appears that the young man in question was merely a tool in the hands of a clever swindler. Young Egerton's home is somewhere in the East, and he had been doing military duty in the Philippines and was short of money on arriving on the Pacific coast en route home. He fell in with the swindler and concluded to take a chance on the scalp business until he could secure enough to pay his fare home. The pair having failed to defraud the clerk of Linn county, they considered the matter of coming to Corvallis or going to Eugene, and finally went to the latter town. The officials in Eugene were notified and a warrant was issued for young Egerton, who was the only

Harvest Home Thanksgiving Issue

The DAILY JOURNAL proposes to get out this year in lieu of a regulation New Year's edition, a fine illustrated Thanksgiving Daily, such as will be a credit to our state and community. It has been a rare year, with bountiful harvests, and a Harvest Home Thanksgiving paper will be especially opportune at this season. This paper will contain readable articles on all manner of subjects relating to the state, and especially to Salem and the Willamette Valley. Especially will matter be presented in this issue that will be of interest to eastern readers and others who are interested in knowing about Oregon.

In addition to the descriptive and historical matter published there will be presented illustrated articles with buildings and portraits of public buildings and men, and especially will the business interests of the city and county be amply illustrated. Many of the fine residences and business blocks will also be shown in graphic form. Some attractive advertising matter will also appear which will be a credit to our local business men, and all wishing to be represented are invited to communicate with the publishers as to rates and terms. Some interesting articles and data concerning our resources will be acceptable for this edition, which will be made a creditable one in every respect.

As a result of the exposure of the shortage and of the wood corner, last Summer farmers were induced to cut as much wood as their time would permit. The cool weather, which lasted until mid-summer, was favorable to the cutting of wood. The hop and prune curing industries have not taken quite as much wood as was anticipated, for both crops curdled more rapidly than usual. As the demand for wood is very strong, and the supply not pressing upon the market, not much of a reduction in price can be expected, while there is more prospect for an advance.

one who appeared in passing the scalps. At the time he was arrested he was playing cards with his clever rascal of a partner. There being no warrant for arrest of the greater criminal, he made his escape and has not yet been apprehended. The young man arrested stated that he had not received pay for what he had done, and that the man who escaped had something over $600 on his person when Egerton was arrested at his side. Egerton had only about $20 when arrested. The young man stated that they had several hundred scalps in Portland awaiting their convenience when the game came to an end. Part of this tale has been substantiated by facts that came to light later, while other portions of the recitation were merely voiced by the young man who made his escape a short time ago.

FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH

Working Plan to Spend Rockefeller's Money.

In Promoting Health and Physical Welfare of the People.

New York, Oct. 10.—The Tribune today says: A tentative working plan has been adopted by the officers of the Institute for medical research, founded by John D. Rockefeller, by whom it was endowed with $200,000. It follows: To expend $30,000 a year, divided so as to provide forty scholarships. To make appointments for one year. To have candidates recommended by heads of various laboratories to the board of directors. To choose only persons pursuing or about to pursue investigations on some important subject in pathology, bacteriology or hygiene. At the time the announcement was made that Mr. Rockefeller had given $200,000 to found the institute, it was said that one of the things the institute would do would be to investigate the milk supply of the city in cooperation with the board of health. This task was completed some time ago. It was said also that work of a more ambitious nature involving original research and an effort to throw new light on problems which are as yet unsolved by medical science will be taken up in the autumn. The board of directors, which is assisting and directing these investigations in their work, comprises William H. Welch, Professor of Pathology, John Hopkins University, President; Dr. T. D. Mitchell Prudden, Professor of Pathology, Columbia University, Vice-President; Dr. L. Emmett Holt, Clinical Professor of Diseases of Children, Columbia University, Secretary; Dr. A. Harter, Professor of Pathological Chemistry, University and Bellevue Hospital Medical College, Treasurer; Dr. Theobald Smith, Professor of Comparative Pathology, Harvard University; Dr. Simon Flexner, Professor of Pathology, University of Pennsylvania and Dr. H. M. Biggs, director of the Laboratories of the Board of Health.
