Scrofula

This root of many evils—

Glandular tumors, abscesses, pimples, and other cutaneous eruptions, sore ears, inflamed eyelids, rickets, dyspepsia, catarrh, readiness to catch cold and inability to get rid of it easily, paleness, nervousness, the consumptive tendency, and other ailments—

Can be completely and permanently removed, no matter how young or old the sufferer.

Hood's Sarsaparilla was given the daughter of Silas Vernooy, Wawarsing, N. Y., who had broken out with scrofula sores all over her face and head. The first bottle helped her and when she had taken six the sores were all healed and her face was smooth. He writes that she has never shown any sign of the scrofula returning.

STATE BLIND SCHOOL

First Report for the Present School Year has been filed.

The State Blind School at Salem has been opened this year under the management of Lieut. Geo. W. Jones as Supt. and Mrs. Jones as matron. The faculty is composed of Miss Louie Church of Lansing, Mich., a graduate of Oberlin college, and for six years a teacher of the blind; Miss Grace Gill of Scio, Ore., graduate of a normal school and specialist in manual training and sloyd work; Clinton Russell, a blind musician of Washington, D. C., who plays about all known instruments but excelling on the piano and violin. R. W. Powell is the gardner and Mrs. Addie Savage is the Cook. There were 23 children at the opening and under the new management some new lines of work will be undertaken.

Superintendent Jones has filed his report for the present school year and it shows that 28 pupils are enrolled, of whom 17 are totally blind. As will be seen from the following list of names and addresses, the pupils come from every section of the State:

Ora Johnson, Junction; Edward Mackin, Portland; Myrtle Buzan, Pendleton; Mable Templeton, Echo; Mable Cox, Independence; Will Baller Silverton; Frank Sanders, Astoria; Freddie Bosserman, Wendling; Maude Le Bleut, Eugene; Lee Perin, Turner; John Schmidt and Joseph Schmidt, Mount Angel; Margaret Flower, Salem; Ellen Severson, Astoria; Adolph Gustavson, Astoria; Clara Bell, Cove; James Lane, Rowland; Undine Rowland, Salem; Harry and Robert Riggs, Brownsville; John Foley, Dallas; Daniel Willson, Independence; Francis Mills, Salem; Burton Carson, Lebanon; Gentry Given, Clymer; Ida Colby, Independence; Hilda Hart, Wendling; Parthenia Downs, Cottage Grove.

COOS BAY ITEMS

Ship Yards are Busy and Creameries are Developing

MANSFIELD, Oct. 18.—Coos Bay apples are being shipped to San Francisco on every steamer and command high prices. $1.00 a box for choice and .75 for seconds.

The keel is being laid this week for a four-mast schooner of 1000 tons capacity. This vessel will cost about $65,000.

A new vessel is now under way at the East Marshfield ship yard. Captain Reed is completing the pattern and the keel is ready, and next week a large force of men will be at work on the ship.

The new steamer which is about completed will be launched next week if all goes well.

The Coos county creameries are enjoying a fine business in the way of big prices for their product, and 24 oz. packages of butter is selling for .60 a package.

This has been a beautiful fall so far as weather is concerned.

Much good road work is being done in Coos county of a permanent nature. Broken rock is being used.

Marshfield streets are being improved and the city has spent considerable of its revenue in the way of grading streets.

There was a lively remonstrance sent out from here to Washington against a permission to grant a lay-over of 12 hours at a mountain postoffice to accommodate a mail carrier. This would isolate Coos Bay still more if it was allowed.

The wrecking crow will be at work next week to launch the large British Bark Barona which is high and dry below Bandon. The vessel is not injured as yet and it is thought she will be successfully launched as the same wrecking company which launched the Light ship on the Columbia last year have the contract. The Barona may be taken eight miles through the timber. She is nearly 1,500 ton vessel.

The run of Chinook salmon is quite fair this season and the cannery is making a fair pack. 1100 salmon were taken in one haul with a sein at Hume's cannery the other day. Many silversides are now being caught in the bay with trolls.

The coal mines are all running, and a larger output of coal is expected this season than for a long time.

The Coquille river bar has shoaled up so it is but a few feet deep and many vessels which were otherwise destined to load at Coquille City have come into Coos Bay for their cargoes.

Those little kernels in the neck! Has your child ever had them? You know sometimes they swell, become painful, soften, and end in a scar. Give such a child Scott's Emulsion just as soon as the kernels appear. The little swellings will grow less and less and soon will disappear altogether. Continue the Emulsion until the child has good flesh and a healthy color.

UNDER TWO FLAGS

"Under Two Flags" Ouida's well known novel. Almost everybody has read this interesting story, but for the benefit of those who have not read it, a brief outline of the story is sent ahead by Mr. Leon M. Hattenbach, who has dramatized this interesting story, and whose capable company will appear in this play at the Grand Opera House to night. The company carries its own scenery and costumes, and the scenic effects—such as the sandstorm in the African Desert, and Cigarette's thrilling escape on horseback from the Arabs, the race horse scene, etc., are real and are artistically re-produced. Mr. Hattenbach, who appears in the role of Bertie Cecil, presents the clever young actress, Miss Louise McCallum, in the role of the dashing, kind-hearted, fire-eating little soldier "Cigarette."

Bertie Cecil, who is heir to the title and estate of Lord Royallieu, his father, leaves England, because by remaining he will be compelled to expose his younger brother, who has forged Bertie's name to a note just due. Bertie, not knowing where to go, finally reaches Africa and enlists as a private soldier in the Army of France. He is accompanied by his faithful servant, Rake. In Africa he meets a little vivandiere, "Cigarette," who is a favorite of the soldiers. She falls in love with Bertie, but he, not suspecting her love, pays her but scant attention. About this time Princess Corona, who is the sister of his old friend, Lord Rockingham, visits Africa, and they come face to face. Bertie immediately proceeds to fall in love with milady and she discovers his identity. While plighting their troth, Black Hawk, colonel of the regiment, and Bertie's avowed enemy, appears on the scene and passes a slight remark on the action of the princess. Bertie resents this and strikes the colonel in the face. He is court-martialed and condemned to die at sunrise on the second day following. Cigarette resolves to save him, and rides across the desert to the grand marshal and secures a reprieve for Bertie. On her return ride, she encounters a band of Arabs and a terrible sandstorm, she finally escapes and arrives at camp, with the reprieve, just in time to hear the command for Bertie's death. She throws herself between him and the soldiers, and receives the full round of bullets in her own body. Then follows the touching scene of her death, the end of the play. Prices 75, 50 and 35 cents. Seats now on sale at box office.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

The Evangelistic Meetings.

At the First Baptist church opened very auspiciously yesterday.

In the morning Mr. Cairns spoke on the two classes of men, the one represented by Joshua and Caleb, who reported "We can and must possess the land," and the other by their companions who said the difficulties were great and insurmountable.

The Apostles were a circle around Christ, three—Peter, James and John were an inner circle nearer Christ, and did most for him.

In the evening the large auditorium was filled. The attention of all was riveted on the speaker. An intensely interesting discourse was given on the text "Born anew." Death cannot be reformed. To have reformation toward God, there must first be life from God. Except a man be born anew, he cannot even see the kingdom of God.

Mr. Cairns sang, accompanying himself on his own organ, "There'll be no dark days in Heaven." The audience will not soon forget either the singer or the song.

Service this evening at 7:30. Come and hear the noted evangelist and sweet singer.

HEART DISEASE

Some Facts Regarding the Rapid Increase of Heart Trouble.

Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing, and while this may be largely due to excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable, but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feeling of heaviness and oppression in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action, hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia tablets which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., Marshal, Mich. 10-21-23-25.

GET IN YOUR AUGUR

Several Chances to Strike Oil in Marion County for Business.

Western Investments for October, published at Los Angeles, Cal., has the following information from apparently reliable sources as to business opportunities in Marion county:

The editor of the "Capital Journal" says that there is a good opening for a large general supply store at Jefferson, Ore. He also says that in his home town there are good openings for butter, cheese and dairy supply store, ladies' baths and ladies' shoe blacking stands, a savings bank and a ladies hair-dressing establishment.

The editor of the "Salem Sentinel" says: "Salem is an inviting field for the location of a starch factory. Potatoes grow to perfection. The yield is invariably large. The acreage is unlimited, provided there is a market for the product. They can be grown at a profit at a small price per bushel. We have good water, power and shipping facilities. A straw paper mill would prove a paying investment as there is an abundance of straw that goes to waste. A factory manufacturing agricultural impelments would find a ready market for its product. There is an immense belt of fine oak timber adjacent to Salem. There is a ready any constantly growing demand for implements of all kinds, wagons, etc. Steam or electric motor lines reaching into the country from 20 to 30 miles in several directions would prove profitable investments, if properly managed. We have near Salem several very promising oil prospects that might yield good returns if developed."

Frank F. Toevs, city editor of "The Oregon Statesman" says that "good investments can be made here in machine shops of all kinds, creameries and wooden-ware factories. A box factory would pay well, as would a creamery. This section is on the eve of great prosperity and capital can find good investments here."

PRUNES MAY BE HIGHER

Salem Special Telegram Expresses That Opinion.

Many prunegrowers were in the city Saturday from all parts of the surrounding country. They report that the drying season is practically over, and most of the evaporators in the Rosedale district have closed down. That district is always later than other parts of Marion County, owing to the higher altitude. Growers say they are now offered only 3½ to 3¾ cents for 40s, and that they are not selling at those prices. While they have learned by experience that prices seldom revive after they have once fallen, they believe that this year will prove an exception to the rule.

Daniel Webster, of Rosedale, said today that he believed the crop conditions warrant a higher price, and that it will yet be paid. He atributes the low price at present to the fact that many Eastern dealers lost money last season by purchasing prunes at too high a figure. The dealers will be more cautious this year. He thinks also that the disagreement between the growers and packers associations in California has a bad effect on prices, for it leads the Eastern dealer to expect a cut in prices as a result of the disagreement. He does not believe in selling at present prices.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.
