ALL THE WORLD REJOICES

Over the Triumph in Greater New York

Roosevelt's Influence Given Great Credit for It.

The German Press Swells the Song of Victory.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Many of the Berlin evening papers commented upon the outcome of the elections in New York, all rejoicing in the success of Seth Low.

London Opinion. LONDON, Nov. 7.—The morning papers with yesterday's evening Journals in expressions of rejoicing over the defeat of Tammany Hall, in the achievement of which Mr. Roosevelt's strong influence is regarded as the mainspring.

President Roosevelt could have wished for no brighter omen for his term of office, says the Daily Telegraph. The Daily Mail says: "Tammany will probably rise again, but this is the end of the reign of Croker. New York is well rid of him but it is impossible not to feel a little pang of regret as he sinks, silent and majestic, below the horizon."

Still Kicking Tammany. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A comment upon the election the Times today says: One of the results of the election will be the immediate attempt of the Democratic anti-Tammany forces to rehabilitate the party in this section.

The Greater New York Democracy proposes to undertake the re-organization of the Democratic party here and to make the effort forthwith to secure, to the exclusion of Tammany, recognition of the state and national committees.

John McCulloch, "superintendent of state elections, asserts that in spite of all the precautions taken to prevent violations of the election laws and all the work done by the bureau he believed that at least ten thousand illegal votes had been cast in this city on Tuesday.

New York, Nov. 7.—All of this morning's newspapers refer in their editorial columns, to the victory for reform in New York. It is felt that Mr. Low has undertaken a big task which will call for every resource of his practical ability.

"What he has got to do," says the Daily News, "is to show New York that good people can govern. He has to prove that purity and efficiency are friends."

It is not believed that Tammany is really conquered. "The permanent exclusion from politics of self-seeking adventurers cannot," remarks the Standard, "be achieved by a spasmodic appearance at the ballot boxes. Civic affairs must be connected by men of high character and public spirit, men like Mr. Low and Justice Jerome. They should co-operate with President Roosevelt in an effort to draw a better kind of young Americans from the desk, library and the counting house to the laborious and often distasteful drudgery of administration."

New York, Nov. 7.—Concerning the New York elections the London correspondent of the Tribune cables: The downfall of Tammany is dismissed with short paragraphs by a majority of the English press but with strongly emphasized morals. It is described as a triumph for the cause of government throughout the world.

Croker's English friends have been asserting for a long period that he would make Mount Home his permanent home after this year and retire from American politics. The Litcomb property is now in charge of servants and the villagers are awaiting the return of the Tammany leader.

Washington, Nov. 7.—In his annual report, the Commissioner of Pensions discusses at length the faults of the present system of pensioning and the difficulties in the way of determining the merits of claims for pensions and increases.

Attention is directed to the friction and unkind feeling that attends the administration of the act of August 7, 1882, which provides that the open and notorious adulterous cohabitation of a widow pensioner shall operate to terminate her pension; but the absence of such a law, it is stated, would serve to encourage such pensioners to live in adultery and dishonor the memory of their soldier husbands while still enjoying the bounty of the government; and, on the other hand, the widow who respects the law and honors society by legally entering the marriage relation loses her pension.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—In his annual report, the Commissioner of Pensions discusses at length the faults of the present system of pensioning and the difficulties in the way of determining the merits of claims for pensions and increases.

All foreign interests will be protected. The isthmus will be kept open, and the Panama Railroad guarded from guerrilla attack if necessary. Everywhere where its government is established the rights of foreigners will be secure.

DISCUSSES THE ARMY TRANSPORTS

Breckenridge Endorses the Puget Sound Coal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Inspector-General Breckenridge, in a supplementary report says the ventilating system on army transports are reported unsatisfactory and that while the crews were satisfactory and efficient there was an excessive number employed as compared with commercial steamers.

General Breckenridge calls attention to the expense of repairing and refitting transports and advises careful scrutiny of this work. Regarding coal, he says very good quantities of coal at low prices can be obtained on Puget Sound.

Quoting from Major Livering, he says that the climatic effect on employes in the Philippines is very marked, and that the capacity for work of such employes diminishes from month to month.

RUN DOWN BY BRITISH CRUISER

Dutch Mail Boat Smashed in Channel Fog.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The heavy fog which set in on Tuesday and was partially dispersed yesterday returning in the night the Dutch mail boat Koenigse Regent's collided with the British third class cruiser Prosperine off Sheerness at midnight. The passengers and mails were transferred to the Prosperine. The mail boat was beached. No lives were lost.

The mortality of London has seriously risen since the city has been enveloped in fog. Sixteen laborers are missing from the docks. It is supposed they walked into the water.

Lunatic Talks on Culture

FENDLETON, Nov. 7.—Elwood Chenoweth, a stranger, entertained a large and cultured audience on Court street, Monday evening, with a lecture on religious and political topics. His talk produced quite an impression. Tuesday forenoon he was arrested by Marshal Heathman and thrown into the city jail.

It was said that his lecture and actions stamped him as crazy. His cultured auditors are now wondering where they stand. The Pendleton Marshal received a letter from D. Y. K. Deering, Sheriff of Union county, asking him to arrest Chenoweth if he made his appearance here, as he is wanted. The accused was taken back to Union on the early train this morning.

Maryland Will be Democratic

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 7.—Returns from Cecil county this state received here today show election of two Democratic and one Republican delegate. It also appears that Little, Democrat was elected in the first district of Baltimore. These changes give the Democrats a majority of three in the lower house. They have a majority of nine in the senate.

FRANCO-TURKISH TROUBLE

Unlikely That Great Britain Will be Embroiled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Commenting upon the French naval demonstration in the Levant the Tribune's London correspondent says: A second meeting of the Cabinet is the only sign of excitement in England over the French naval demonstration at Mitylene. The press comments are cautious and temperate and the leading writers are content with an expression of hope that the Sultan will make a timely concession to the French Government and enable the fleet to withdraw after protecting unimportant national interests.

These bland reflections are filled out with pretty references to Satho and to Antony's alliance with Cleopatra. There is an evident attempt upon the part of the English press to minimize the Mitylene affair as bad as possible and class it with recent efforts of the United States and Austria-Hungary to obtain the settlement of private claims. If the Ministers take the same view, it is remarkable that they have been in session for two successive days, although it is barely possible that they are holding prolonged consultations over the legislative programme and are paying little attention to Admiral Caillaud's cruise with 2000 troops.

There may, however, be more serious complications. There is no probability that the British Government considers itself liable under Lord Beaconsfield's Cyprus convention to defend the Ottoman Empire against a French seizure of the revenues of Mitylene. It is expected however, an open question whether the Foreign Office may not be embarrassed by some secret arrangement with Germany respecting the near East.

The German Emperor has been steadily developing the commercial interests of his empire in Asia Minor, and strengthening his own influence in the Sultan's capital. It has been suspected for a long time by students of current diplomacy that Germany's neutrality in South Africa was the result of a secret understanding with England respecting the near East.

If these suspicions are well founded the activity of the dispatch bearers flying between Lord Lansdowne's and Lord Salisbury's houses is a natural bit of play and the end of the prolonged Cabinet conference is not an affair of minor importance.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Vienna correspondent of the London Times and New York Times says that well-informed circles in the Austrian capital are a shade less confident than the press on a favorable issue of the French naval demonstration against Turkey.

It is believed Russia has not been consulted by France in regard to the step now taken by the latter country, and there is an impression that St. Petersburg does not approve it. The Kussians at first prohibited the French grievances, but M. Constant, the French Ambassador to the Porte did not allow even Russian interests to be considered before the interests of France.

French Have Landed. PARIS, Nov. 7.—A dispatch from Admiral Caillaud announces that he has landed a force of marines on the island of Mitylene this morning and has occupied the customs of Midilli without resistance. The French Government has received satisfactory replies from all the powers to its note expatiating the measures taken by Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7.—The Porte has yielded still further to French demands and has notified M. Bapat, counselor for the French embassy, that authority has been granted to France to rebuild or repair sixteen churches, convents and other institutions situated in different villages.

Boers Lost Forty Four Killed and a Hundred Wounded.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Lord Kitchener, in cabling supplementary details of the recent fight near Brakenlaage, eastern Transvaal, says: "The Boer loss in the fight was 44 killed, including General Opperman, and a hundred wounded. The Boers got nothing beyond two guns. The Boer attack was easily repulsed until the arrival of Louis Botha with 600 fresh men, when our forces were compelled to draw off."

Kruger Talks. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—According to the London correspondent of the Tribune a Johannesburg financial house has just had a remarkable chat with Ex-President Kruger about South African respects. The Ex-President's talk was all of arbitration which he declared to be the only satisfactory way of ending the war.

Asked what he would do if arbitration were offered the Boers, he replied that such a thing was impossible. It could not happen, "but assuming for the moment that it might," he added, "we should take up arms if arbitration was against us. We would never suffer the results of arbitration, if those results were unjust and wrong."

Soldier's Comforts. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A Cape Town correspondent says excellent systems are in operation for the distribution to the British soldiers in the field of comforts and literature. Local committees co-operate with each other and the military authorities at the base, thus avoiding an unequal distribution.
