

BOURKE COCHRAN IS BETTER BURNING IN MID-AIR IN SIGHT OF HUNDREDS

Famous Orator and Lawyer Now Recovered From Injuries Sustained in Throw From Horse.

Bourke Cochran, the famous orator and lawyer, whose recent accident, while out riding, caused him injuries which were at first deemed to be of a fatal nature, has now almost completely recovered and is appearing abroad once more. Here is his latest picture.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY TO BE REORGANIZED.

Must Be Done to Secure the Confidence of the Conservative People of the Country.

Washington special to Tacoma Evening News. Among those who believe that the Democratic party is about to be reorganized on new and more auspicious lines is former Comptroller of the Currency James H. Eckels. Mr. Eckels was in Washington and dined with the President last Saturday night. He is one of the most prominent among the Old Democrats who refused to follow Bryan in 1896, and who has since been so closely identified with the cause of sound money as to be counted almost, if not quite, a Republican.

"Not at all," replied Mr. Eckels, when asked if he were not about ready to count himself a Republican. "I am Democrat. I decline to read out of the party."

"Is there a Democratic party? Most assuredly. The Democratic party has suffered much from bad leadership, but it is a party which has in the past shown a capacity for developing new leaders when they are needed. There are and always will be certain Democratic principles for which the party will stand. The party has sinned, and before it can command the confidence of the country it must repudiate and repent of its sins. I should not be surprised if this were done in the next national platform; it might contain a paragraph congratulating the country on the establishment of the single gold standard.

Must Regain Confidence. The Democratic party must do something to gain the confidence of the conservative people of the country. There is no reason why it should be a party of radicalism. There is no reason why the business interests of the country should be unsettled every four years by a campaign which threatens to put dangerous extremists in control of the government. The party must be built up in the north, not entirely in the south. Its platform must be one which will be of a character to attract to it the thoughtful and conservative; not merely the discontented."

Probable Future Issues. In reply to a question as to what issues were in prospect for the party in 1904 Mr. Eckels said: "Tariff reform and reciprocity are likely to be made issues by the failure of the Republican congress to meet the demands of the present industrial situation. It may seem early to predict that the Republicans will fail, but there are some indications that the interests which oppose revision will prevail with the Republicans. There is a great opportunity now opened, and it remains to be seen whether they will see it. There is an opportunity for the Republican party to attract to itself a large number of voters who are not wedded to the idea of high protection—protection for industries which amounts to subsidy. Some of them are nominally Republicans, but at heart they are in favor of reforming the tariff. And there are many Democrats who are willing to go half way and would enroll themselves with a party which would take a middle ground.

Tariff Has Served Its Purpose. The tariff has served its purpose in some instances and has built up industries which are simply able to stand without any artificial support. This support is drawn from the people of this country; it means additional taxes, yet it redounds often to the benefit of the foreigner. The people should not object to the reduction of taxes. That is what tariff revision comes to.

"This being the situation it remains for congress to act. The tariff must be revised. The Republicans say it should be done by its friends. If its friends fail to do it there are others who will. The Democratic party will not overlook an opportunity to correct the mistakes of the real interests and desires of the people.

A Surplus Is a Menace. "The money is piling up in the treasury. This calls for a reduction of the revenue taxes. A large surplus is a menace. It is a standing temptation to extravagance and corruption."

Alluding to the "paramount issue" of the last campaign Mr. Eckels said: "In regard to the new possessions the people have spoken. It cannot be an issue whether to hold or let them go. But the Democratic party will have to insist on an honest and conscientious administration of the affairs of the colonies. Exploitation is a temptation which is likely to prove dangerous to a party in power. The People, Not the Carpet-Baggers.

The affairs of our possessions must be administered for the benefit of the people who live there and not for us or for a lot of political carpet baggers who may go there."

Bryan and Bryanism are regarded by Mr. Eckels as dead. He expects that the next congressional campaign will do much toward reviving and reorganizing the Democratic party. Congress this winter will make the issues for the congressional campaign.

Of several escapes from a state institution recently was one who is said to have a homicidal intent toward his mother-in-law. There are who doubt his being insane.

MAN AND WOMAN ON A LIVE WIRE

Ida Jantz, Looking at a Fire From a Roof, Falls off and Hangs, Screaming in Agony, Across an Electric Wire -- Thomas H. Bell, After Releasing Her, Loses His Balance and Falls Upon the Same Wire--The Woman Dies He is Saved.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—A woman hanging in mid-air, screaming in agony, held the gaze of hundreds of horror-stricken people who had gathered near the Wright house, on Ontario street.

Attracted by a slight fire in that vicinity, a number of employees and others got on the roof of the building to see the blaze. Ida Jantz was one of the number and, while looking over the coping, unthinkingly took hold of a live electric wire.

The shock from the heavily charged wire threw her writhing over the edge of the roof upon the wire and she hung there while the crowd below looked on, powerless to help.

School Director Thomas H. Bell was near and saw the woman's terrible predicament. The only way he could reach her was by a window overlooking Ontario street, and to this he rushed. He climbed out and up a fire escape till he was opposite the woman, who by this time was unable longer to cry out.

On a level with the roof, Mr. Bell reached out and, with great effort, raised

The above is a plain, straightforward statement of facts. The horrible incident occurred on the evening of June 17, 1895, and the story of it was published by the newspapers at the time. The sequel, which is known to many, and is told in Mr. Bell's own words, cannot be doubted. He is well known in Cleveland, not only through his prominence in school matters but as a hero—the man who risked his life in a vain attempt to save a woman from a terrible death.

Mr. Bell's accident was not one of the sort which falls to the lot of many people, but the results that followed were the same, in kind, as the many nervous troubles with which thousands of persons are afflicted. Only in his case they were unusually severe. His nervous system was wrecked—almost beyond repair—and no medicine did him any good until he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cured him.

These pills have become famous all over the world for their wonderful efficacy in cases of this kind. They have her from the wire until she was within reach of those above, who lifted her senseless form over the coping.

But, when the strain was over, Bell's foot slipped. To save himself from a frightful fall to the pavement he grasped wildly and fell across the same wire from which he had just rescued the woman. The shock rendered him powerless to move and he hung there helpless, while the silent, deadly current burned into his flesh. No one was brave enough to attempt his rescue and it was several minutes before the current was turned off, and he was removed to a place of safety.

The woman died, but Mr. Bell was taken to the general hospital, where the doctors found him suffering from a very severe nervous shock in addition to being frightfully burned. A few days later he was removed to his home, where he was confined for 11 months. During the first three months of his illness it was found necessary to resort to skin grafting in order to heal his wound. His many friends responded and over 3000 pieces of skin were used to cover over the raw flesh. In speaking of his restoration to health, Mr. Bell said to an interviewer:

"My recovery from the dreadful shock, of course, was slow. I suffered untold tortures. My nervous system was a complete wreck; I had spells of dizziness, and, when I attempted to walk, a numbness came over my whole body. My sleep was not at all restful or natural and I always awoke tired out. My appetite was poor and at times I suffered from violent nervous headaches. The powerful electric shock had undermined my whole system. In spite of the doctor's care I didn't seem to improve. I had been idle a whole year and grew anxious to return to my work, but my condition remained so bad that I was very much discouraged and feared I would never regain my health.

"I heard of a case similar to mine which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had cured. Then I determined to try this medicine. By the time I had taken half the second box I could notice a marked improvement. The headaches disappeared, my nerves became steadier and I slept well. I took the pills for a month and after I resumed my work I continued till I was perfectly well. They certainly did wonders for me and I take pleasure in recommending them."

cured when the trouble was as severe as Mr. Bell's and they cure lesser nervous disorders without fail. Acting directly on the nerves and blood, they are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion and all forms of weakness, either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents (they are never sold in bulk or by the hundred) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, N. Y. These pills are not a purgative and contain nothing which could injure the most delicate system.

A Rare Opportunity. The Field Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, Rev. Thomas Marshall of Chicago, Ill., arrived in this city today. He is visiting the larger Presbyterian churches on the Pacific coast from Los Angeles to Seattle. He will preach in the Presbyterian church in Salem, tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., also at 7:30 p. m. The evening service will be more of a popular character, and will address the young people at 6:30 p. m. Everybody invited unless duty or inclination call you to some other place of worship.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE
The Cause Must Be Removed. Same Way With Dandruff.
Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Herpicide not only cures the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destroying the dandruff germ than Newbro's Herpicide.
The idea of doing something that is not for revenue or self-glorification is as foreign to some people as for a Swiss to intentionally take a bath.
