WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE LAWYERS?

The State Bar Association must not be in good odor with the profession, as only about fifty lawyers attended the first session at Portland, although it occupied columns in the newspapers. The men who generally are at the front rank of the profession on such occasions were noted by their absence, and a class of a much smaller calibre were prominent. The attendance seems to have been confined to those who are favored with free transportation, and some of those were absent. The association has been very much weakened in membership by numerous disbarments and not a few deaths, and some were sent to the legislature and then left the state, as the best means of protecting themselves against violence. Some have gone into life insurance, but none were sent to the penitentiary. Out of about 2500 lawyers in this state 2450 were so busy with their clients or dodging bill-collectors, that they could not attend the annual convocation of the order that people curse twelve months in the year, and run after the moment they get into trouble or want to accomplish something the least bit crooked. Besides a number of caterwauling politicians calling themselves lawyers, there was just one lawyer present the first day from outside of Portland.

THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Very few public men have accomplished what State Superintendent Ackerman seems to have done—live down all opposition and remove all disposition to criticize the first term of his administration. He went into office with a strong faction of the Republican party opposed to him, more on account of the way others had administered the office than from any personal objection to his administration. But once elected he has had the undivided support of his party and of the entire teaching profession, and it can be said truthfully that he has tried, and has succeeded in giving the state an almost non-partisan administration of that office. Of all the state offices that are to be filled at the coming state election, his comes the nearest being without a contest. There are not even candidates mentioned for the place which is an unusual compliment to his discharge of the duties of the office. Supt. Ackerman has besides attending to the duties of his office, taken an intelligent interest in the work of the State Historical Society. Most valuable of all has been the service of the educational department, through the Superintendent, in uniting our public educational system and uniting the different parts of the state through intelligent association of school work for the state.

HELD BY SEATTLE BRIGANDS.

SEATTLE, (Wash.), Nov. 21.—Following closely the example of the Bulgarian brigands who abducted Miss Emma Stone, three North Seattle small boys recently held two citizens in duress for several hours because they refused to pay ransom to obtain their liberty. The victims of the unpleasant experience were E. H. Wells, editor of the Evening Star, and Lyman E. Knapp, former Governor of Alaska. The desire of these citizens to explore the gloomy interior of a new standpipe now being erected on Queen Anne hill led to their capture and subsequent imprisonment. Wells and Knapp visited the standpipe to inspect its interior before it had been completed. They entered the structure through a steel door in its side. While they were engaged in their explorations they were suddenly plunged into darkness. A hurried investigation revealed the fact that they were prisoners. A youthful voice from the outer world commanded in imperious tones that $10 be paid at once as the price of their freedom. In vain did the prisoners parley. Each overture was met with derision and a repetition of the original demand for ransom. After fully an hour's parley Wells and Knapp grew nervous and desperate. They matched their prison for some means of escape. A circular bit of brass, seen at the top of a cylinder of steel 100 feet in height, held out slight hope of freedom, and so an scattering drops of rain from the opening above foretold the probability of an added discomfort. At last, after considerable exploration of the bottom of the tank, Wells found an old pickaxe. Taking turns, he and his fellow prisoner made heroic onslaughts on the steel door which stood between them and freedom. Finally the door began to show signs of yielding. Stripped of all surplus clothing and bashed in perspiration, the prisoners inserted the pick into a small aperture. Their united efforts burst the hinges of their cell door and they once more breathed the freedom. Three scurrying forms simultaneously disappeared in the underbrush, and before the late citizens could take the revenge which had been threatened, no small boys were in sight. Warrants for the young brigands are out.

EDWARD BAXTER PERRY

Will Entertain At M. E. Church Tonight.

Mr. Perry is the originator and chief representative of the Pianoforte Lecture-Recital, of which he has given fifteen hundred in the United States in the past twelve years. His plan is to preface each composition with a brief talk, calling attention to its descriptive or emotional characteristics and the circumstances of its origin, thus rendering it doubly interesting because fully intelligible to all.

Some Press Notices. Mr. Perry completely won his audience and met with a deservedly warm reception, that grew more enthusiastic after each number, and ended in numerous recalls. He has added another to the limited list of American successes in Berlin.—Berlin Times.

He is the only pianist, living or dead, of any country, who ever played twelve hundred concerts in ten consecutive years.—New York Musical Courier.

One of the most unique, yet scholarly, classical, and with artistic figures on the concert platform is Edward Baxter Perry, the blind Lecturer-Pianist.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Perry is a musical genius, gifted beyond most mortals in temperament, technique and intelligence. His was by far the most interesting recital ever given in Omaha.—Omaha Bee.

You cannot afford to miss this opportunity to hear Mr. Perry. Will cost you but 50 cents. You may never have another such an opportunity.

NAMES ON THE SLATE

Of Persons Looking for Federal Appointment.

Campaign is Yet Young and Many are a Little Chary About Announcing Themselves.

Although the campaign in Oregon is yet young, there are already a respectable number of entries for the various state offices. As yet there are but few formal announcements from aspirants for office themselves. Most of the names in circulation in connection with various offices are being pressed by "friends." The office seekers themselves are a little chary of coming out just yet, preferring to devote a little time to the consideration of their chances and a study of the lay of the political land. They are reading the stars and casting horoscopes.

It is true that the sensational situation monopolizes interest, but the minor offices are by no means neglected. There is already considerable buttonholing and hobnobbing of politicians, and the frequent pilgrimages of reputed office seekers to Portland are not without significance.

While no complete list of entries is possible at this time, a list of some of the names jiggled with by political gossipers, though many perhaps without the consent of the owners, is not without interest, as it shows that there is no little material available. Below are given some of the names mentioned in connection with various offices:

- Register Burns Land Office: I. S. Geer, Burns; James J. Donegan, Burns; Wynne Gowen, Burns; William Farris, Canyon City; Harrison Kelly, Baker City; Sam Stott, Sumpter; J. B. Huntington, Portland. A CLEANLY AGE.

Twentieth Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventatives. Nowadays scientists believe that in cleanliness lies the secret of prevention of disease. To prevent a disease, remove the cause. Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habits will breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause baldness. It's a microbic infection, nothing more nor less. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and causes hair to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease or other injurious substances.

MRS. FRANK CARTER, 3 Merrill Street, Astoria, Ore.

This letter should carry Faith and Conviction to the hearts of all Sick Women.

"I suffered with inflammation and falling of the womb and other disagreeable female weaknesses. I had had spells every two weeks that would last from eight to ten days and would have to go to bed. I also had headache and backache most of the time and such bearing down pains I could hardly walk across the room at times. I doctored nearly all the time for two years until last September I was obliged to take my bed, and the doctors thought an operation was the only thing that would help me, but this I refused to have done. Then a friend advised me to try the Pinkham medicine, which I did, and after using the first bottle I began to improve. I took in all five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, four boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Dry Pains Compound, three boxes of Liver Pills and used three packages of Sensitive Wash, and I am as well now as I ever was. I am more than thankful every day for my cure."—Mrs. FRANK CARTER, 3 Merrill St., Astoria, Ore.

$5000 will be paid if this medicine is not genuine. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.
