ABOUT CALCIUM CARBIDE

Calcium carbide is the product of coke and lime melted together in an electric furnace. Nearly every pound consumed in the United States is made at Niagara Falls. We buy carbide in sealed metal receptacles containing 100 pounds. It comes in very large lumps and is as hard as flint. We crack it into the lumps that may be used in the gas lamps, and sell it at 2 pounds for 25 cents. If we get it in the prepared 2-pound cans it has to sell at 35 cents a can.

Occasionally we find a customer who asks if one is as good as the other. Most certainly it is. It all comes from the same factory. Those who already have a can at home, need only call for our two bit package, which we send out in a stout paper sack, so that you can "can it" when you get home. Our sacks are full weight. Our purchases of carbide since July 1 have been 900 pounds. So you can see what a quantity is consumed in Salem and vicinity for gas lamps of all sorts.

EXPERT CLARK ARRESTED

By the Sheriff of Vancouver, Washington

On a Charge of Obtaining Money Under Pretenses.

G. P. Clark, one of the experts engaged on the records of Marion county, was today placed under arrest by Sheriff Marsh of Clark county, Wash., on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The warrant was on information of Wm. H. Brewster, county auditor of that county, and sworn to before Justice Judah of the Salem police court.

Sheriff Durbin served the papers on Clark, placing him under arrest while working on the books in his office at the Court house. He read the warrant to him and Clark said:

"This is all a conspiracy that can be shown up in five minutes. It is purely malicious and I will go right along with you, sheriff."

"Do you want this man put in jail?" asked the sheriff of Marion county.

"He can stay right here," said Sheriff Marsh, "until the afternoon train goes to Portland. Will you go without extradition papers, Mr. Clark?"

"Oh, certainly," said the other, Mr. Buchanan, who had risen and read over the warrant. "Don't you want me too?" This is all part of a plot to ruin us. They swore they would do it," added Buchanan.

The two sheriffs passed a knowing smile, implying there was more of the same kind where this came from.

"I can go into Mr. Scott's private room and take the books along with me and work until the train goes," said Buchanan, who did not want to occupy a room in the basement of the courthouse, where Sheriff Durbin seemed more than willing to accompany him and dinner was waiting. He finally acquiesced, however, in the prisoner occupying a room in the apartments of the county court.

The charge on which he is arrested grows out of the disposition of some warrants issued to Hon. O. N. Denny of Portland for some services performed by that gentleman for Clark county just before his death. The warrants were found among the papers while going through records and G. P. Clark is accused of having forged a written order from Mrs. Denny to the county officials on which he got the warrants and converted them into cash.

When the county officials of Clark county learned what he had done they swore out the warrant on which the present arrest is made.

The arrest created great surprise and not a little stir at the court house when it became known and will probably defer the expediting operations for a time.

The arrested man had some intimation of what was coming as he was very nervous all the morning, never took his hat off, and went out into the corridors every half hour or so, seeming to be very ill at ease.

The opinion was freely expressed today that there is a powerful push back of Buchanan and Clark that will now come to the surface. They have been put to work against the wish of a majority of the county officials and the united press and public sentiment of the county which at no time has been favorable to them, and it is believed they have powerful backers among some of the push.

Both experts claim that they had an order from Mrs. Denny, as executrix of the Denny estate, through one M. Bloch, authorizing them to sign for her and draw the warrants; and that Clark signed for them and turned over the money. County Judge Scott was seen and says he thinks the men will come out all right when the facts are all known. Mr. Buchanan accompanied Mr. Clark and the sheriff to Vancouver.

MARRIED.

REYNOLDS—HUBER.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Huber, at North High street, on Thursday, Nov. 21, 1901, Miss Ann F. Huber to W. J. Reynolds, Justice J. O'Donald, officiating.

The Era for November holds true to the promise made that it was the growing magazine of literary interest in our country. The variety of contents is appetizing in the extreme, and the mind seems to be ready for each succeeding course, or it can be devoured by beginning at either end or in the middle.—Surely a high test of good purveying. The editor, Wm. S. Walsh, does not too much impose himself upon its pages. He strikes a hearty middle note of common sense in his criticisms that ought to be appreciated. The London and Paris reviews of literary creations are admirable. A serial begun in this number "The Westcoaster," promises to be worth reading. The worthy cartoon and the extracted wit and wisdom of new books are admirable features. The illustrations are very good and altogether the publishers may congratulate themselves on having made the best ten cent literary review ever printed in our country. Henry T. Coates and Co., Philadelphia. Sold at Salem by Patton Bros., News dealers and book sellers.

The November Era has this on blaseful ignorance: "Most of us live and die without ever fully awakening to the intense earnestness and tragedy of life; and, like those who do not know from experience what ill health is, we do not understand enough to be truly and fittingly thankful to the fate which spares us the knowledge."

The St. Elmo Restaurant is the place to go to get first class meals. It is under new management and everything up to date.

COUNTY COURT RESCINDS

Changes in Boundaries of Brooks Precinct.

Puts a Few Voters From Howell and Brooks Into Englewood.

In the matter of the change in the boundary line between Englewood precinct and Howell precinct and other precincts affected the order of the court, made on November 9, 1901, and entered of record, changing the boundary lines between Brooks and Gervais and Englewood precincts to conform to the petition therefor, was rescinded, and the boundary line between Englewood and Howell precincts was ordered to be changed as follows:

"Beginning at the forks on the west branch of Pudding river, in section 10, T. 7 S., R. 2 W., thence southerly following the east branch of said west branch of Pudding river to the line between sections 22 and 23 in T. 7 S., R. 2 W.; thence west to the east line of the Capital City Fruit Farm, thence south 10 chains, thence west to the line running north and south through the center of section 27; thence south 10 chains; thence west to the line between sections 28 and 29; thence south 4.80 chains; thence west to the southwest corner of the Jacob Robbins' claim."

This change leaves the boundary lines practically as they were with the exception that it cuts a small corner off the Howell precinct and includes it in Englewood precinct.

The boundary line between Turner and Aumsville precincts was ordered changed to conform to the petition as signed and presented by ten residents of Aumsville precinct for the purpose of being included in Turner precinct on account of their interests being centered there. The line as changed is as follows:

"Beginning at the center of section 34, T. 8 S., R. 2 W., thence east one-half mile, thence south one-fourth mile, thence east one-half mile, thence south one and a half miles to the south line of the county road, thence west about 30 chains to the east line of the land owned by Onie Longworth, thence south about 60 chains to the south line of section 11, T. 9 S., R. 2 W."

Having rescinded the order of November 9, 1901, as above mentioned, it was ordered that the boundary line of Brooks precinct be established as follows:

"Beginning where the line between sections 29 and 35, T. 5 S., R. 3 W., intersects the right bank of the Willamette river, thence east to the corner of sections 28, 29, 32 and 33, in T. 5 S., R. 2 W.; thence south two miles to the corner of sections 4, 5, 8 and 9, in T. 6 S., R. 2 W.; thence east two miles to the corner of sections 2, 3, 10 and 11, in T. 6 S., R. 2 W.; thence south one mile; thence east to the center of the main channel of Lake Labish; thence southwesterly following Lake Labish to the mouth of Pudding river; thence southerly up the center of Pudding river to the line between sections 22 and 27, in T. 6 S., R. 2 W.; thence west to the center of the main channel of Lake Labish; thence southwesterly following the main channel to Lake Labish and the ditch in said lake to the line between sections 25 and 26, T. 6 S., R. 3 W.; thence north to the quarter section corner between sections 25 and 26; thence west one mile; thence north one and one-half miles to the corner of sections 14, 15, 22 and 33, in T. 6 S., R. 3 W.; thence west to the right bank of the Willamette river; thence down the right bank of said river to the place of beginning."

This line leaves Brooks precinct the same as heretofore with the exception that it cuts a small piece off the south-east corner of Brooks precinct and includes it into Englewood precinct.

THE UNSUCCESSFUL

By Geraldine Meyrick in November 1901. It was not through our idleness we failed, Nor lack of many a high and holy aim; We were not cowards, though our spirits quailed, Just at the crucial moment, and so Shame compassed us round; and Hope, too long bewailed, Seems but a dream, with Affluence and Fame. Where others pluck a bough of blossoms bright Or golden fruit, we gather for delight A bitter apple or a faded rose, Or, oftener, thorns that hurt the flesh. Who knows In what strange way we have offended Fate. That she should ever thus our plans frustrate? Ah, herein lies the final bitterness— We miss the meaning of our unsuccess!

The Smart Set for December contains forty-four signed articles, stories and poems, yet it is not so much for quantity as quality that the number is notable. The leading feature is a novelette by Edward S. Van Zile, entitled "How Chopin Came to Remsen," which is fairly hilarious in its depiction of a prosaic lawyer who becomes suddenly seized with the spirit and genius of the immortal composer. It is at once a psychological study and a travesty on the theory of reincarnation. The record contribution of length is a story in play form, entitled "The Castle-Builders," which is printed anonymously, but from all the ear-marks must have been written by someone high in social position who is absolutely familiar with the characters and surrounding conditions of the recognizable personages so pitilessly dissected. There has not in years been printed another such sensational satire.

A Sicilian Romance.

James Pott & Company, New York, have presented the public one of the most beautiful books of travel of the year. The illustrations are in color and from photographs and the text is a series of letters from Syracuse, Girgenti, and Palermo. The beauties of the climate and scenery and ancient temples more than offset the poverty of the people, and one is charmed into pity for their helpless condition. A pretty English girl forms the center of a yet prettier romance that comes to a happy conclusion at the end of the book. The author is Norma Lorina and the excellent taste and refinement shown throughout makes it a most desirable addition to any library or family collection. $1.75. Trade supplied by Patton Brothers, Salem, Oregon.

Henry Austin Clapp, the famous theatrical critic, concludes in the November Atlantic his remarkable series of Reminiscences. Mr. Clapp closes his papers with a strong appeal for an endowed American theatre.
