Chapman Cherrington Wedding.
The handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cherrington, in Dallas, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening last, when the charming, and only, daughter of the house, Miss Winnie Mace Cherrington, became the wife of Mr. Robert Lynn Chapman, a prominent young merchant and orchardist of that city. Miss Alice Laycock, of this city, supported the bride as maid of honor.

The reception room and parlor were daintily arrayed in festoons of ivy, supplemented with ferns and potted plants, the piece de resistance being two large interwoven hearts done in Marguerites and smilax, the whole arranged to break the rays of the electric lights very effectively.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. D. M. Metzger of Dallas and was witnessed by about thirty of the intimate friends of the families interested, several going from the Capital City for the purpose. A delicate supper was served immediately at the conclusion of the wedding, after which several hours of delightful intercourse prevailed and the happy young couple were finally escorted to their new and beautifully appointed cottage home just across the street from the paternal residence, where they were, later regaled with a jolly serenade.

Mrs. Chapman, the lovely young bride, is well known and happily remembered in this city where she spent her school years, and a host of kindly friends here extended sincere and cordial wishes for long years of happiness and prosperity to them both.

The bride was gowned in white organdie exquisitely made and carried a lovely cluster of Bride's Roses; Miss Laycock appearing in pink and bearing Carnations of the same dainty hue. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were recipients of many elegant and useful gifts in cut-glass, hand-painted china and silver.

Afternoon Event.

Mrs. C. A. Gray entertained at her home on East State street last Wednesday afternoon, Miss Lena Breymann and Miss Ethel Hughes being the guests of honor. About forty ladies were present, and all present indulged in games. The time was agreeably closed by the serving of refreshments.

College Recital.
A recital was given by the pupils of the Northwestern Normal College in their hall in the Murphy block last night. This was the second recital given by the musical and literary departments of the college for this season. The program throughout was excellent, every number receiving and deserving great applause. At the conclusion of the program a reception was held and considerable time spent in a social way.

The program given was as appended:
My Regiment—March, Miss Emma Schreder.
"La Zingana"—Miss Berkholder.
"When the Heart is Young"—Prof. Parvin.
Recitation—"After the Ball"—Miss Emma Schreder.
"The Zingana"—Miss Berkholder.
"Till the Breaking of the Day"—Miss Marian Baughman.
Recitation—"True Eloquence"—J. Opertshauer.
"Yule Tide Bell"—Miss Eva Umphrey.
"When the Violets Bloom Again"—Miss Vera Byars.
"Robin's Return"—Miss Ackerman.
Conversation—Miss Heinken and Mr. M'Pholand.
"Longing" (Cavatini)—Miss G. Short.
Recitation—"At Griggs' Station"—Miss Ora Goodrich.
Presto—Sonata, Op. 2, No. 1, Beethoven.
Recitation—"Whistling in Heaven"—Miss Bertha Shelbridge.
Allegro—Concerto in C, Mr. Bait and Miss Draper.

University Notes.
The young ladies of the Philodorian Society entertained the faculty and members of the Philodorian Society last evening in the Society hall.

About seventy-five persons were present and a very charming time was had with music and games. Refreshments were served during the evening.

School closed yesterday until the Monday after New Year's, and a number of the out-of-town pupils took advantage of this to visit their homes.

Miss Mabel Carter professor of elocution, leaves today to spend Christmas with her parents in Portland.

Mrs. Watson's Message.

She tells all suffering women how she was cured of Ovarian Inflammation by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you a few months ago I had been suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb for over eighteen months. I had a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I believe my troubles were caused by overwork and lifting some years ago. Life was a drag to me and I felt like giving up. I had several doctors, but they did me little good. I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four months ago and am in better health to-day than I have been for years. All my pains are gone. Your Vegetable Compound has made me well. I recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. S. J. Watson, Hampton, Va.

When there is one remedy that is sure, and hundreds of thousands of women know from experience is reliable, it is wise to experiment with untried and comparatively unknown medicines?

during the evening, and refreshments were served.

Entre Nous Club Party.
The initial party of the series to be given this winter by the Entre Nous club, was given last night in Tioga hall. It was one of the most enjoyable social affairs of this winter. Music was furnished by Steelhammer orchestra and dancing was participated in by nearly all present. The patronesses were Mrs. E. M. Ford, Mrs. Paul Sroat, Mrs. Max Boren and Mrs. Zedee Riggs. The attendants were the Misses Carrie Willis, Stella Hurst, Elizabeth Holverson, Remah Holland, Carrie Hurst, Mande Hirsch, George Giltner, Florence Brown, Okie Matthews, Constance Holland, Miss Crossan, Miss Durette, Miss Stitesman, Miss Tillson, Tillson, Miss Williams, Miss Damon, Miss Emily Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Ed Baker, Miss Ray Downs, Miss Ella Rineham, Miss Metta Davis J. O. Shinn, Ed Baker, Len Crawford, Whit Holman, Arnold Crossan, Jan. J. Roberts, Will Taylor, Chas. Bier, Otto Wilson, Frank Lovell, Fred Durette, Chas. Tillson, Reeves, Clara Baker, Harry Ollinger, Clarence Black, Paul Sroat, Joe Evans,

Bert Ollinger, Harry Albert, Max O'Brien, Z. J. Riggs, Frank Loomis, Leon Holland, Jno. Hilezan, Chauncey Bishop, Hooker, Jno. Cochran.

"At The Old Cross Roads."
One of the best attractions of the theatrical season was the production of "At The Old Cross Roads" at the Grand opera house Friday night. The company is under the management of Arthur C. Aiston, which is a guarantee of its excellence, as Mr. Aiston has visited Salem several times before and always brings good plays.

The story of the play is one not usually presented in this way, being a story of the South, not touching on the war period. Every Southerner in the audience pronounced the entire play and people to be typical in their exactitude to detail and all enjoyed with intense interest the good dramatic work. The most prominent characters were "Parepa" the octoroon, Estha Williams and Jone Corcoran as the heiress to a magnificent property, and also the daughter of the octoroon. Thomas Ince as the tramp and erstwhile pretended count was a decided favorite, as also were Edwin Walter the gambler and Mostyn Kelly, as Tom Martin. Mrs. Craig and Louise Valentine assumed the roles of negroes in an eminently satisfactory way.

Christmas Services.
Tomorrow (Sunday) the services at the First Presbyterian church will be peculiarly interesting as they will be appropriate to the Christmas season. Rev. H. A. Ketchum, D. D., pastor of the church, has with great care, and with the assistance of many of the church membership, arranged a program for both morning and evening services of exceptional merit, and the musical portion of the program will be a rare treat, while adding much to the impressiveness of the services. Following are the musical numbers:
