The Pulpit Versus the Bar.

An eminent American lawyer, now deceased, was sadly given to intoxication. On one occasion he entered a church while a minister was holding forth on the future punishment of the wicked.

Fixing his eye upon the lawyer, who was kneeling near the door, the preacher exclaimed, "There stands a sinner against whom I shall bear witness in the day of judgment."

At this the lawyer folded his arms, planted himself as firmly as he could and, addressing the man in the pulpit, electrified the whole congregation after this fashion:

"Sir, I have been practicing in the criminal courts for twenty years, and I have always found that the greatest rascal is the first to give state's evidence."—Scotsman.

The Spanish Language.

The Spanish alphabet is perfect save for a single silent letter, h. Each letter has only one sound and pronounced as spelled. The written language therefore is, with a single exception, free from redundant letters. The chief difficulty in the language to English speaking people is the inflection of its verbs. These move from one mood and tense to another by terminal changes, while English verbs move by auxiliaries. In inflection Spanish follows Latin, of which it is a beautiful and richly endowed daughter, so much so that it adopts no word or phrase from other languages.

The Arctic Summer.

The arctic summer is brief, but for weeks together there is nothing to distinguish day and night. Once at Dvorik two naturalists had left their ship at different hours. When later they met, one said, "Good morning!" the other, "Good evening!" Both agreed that the hour was 7, but while one traveler held that it was 7 tomorrow morning the other maintained that it was 7 o'clock last night. On returning to the ship they settled that it was last night, so they dined and went to bed again.

Easy.

Theodore—It's all right, darling. I have met your father, and we took to one another at once. He even went so far as to borrow $10 from me. Surely he can't refuse me your hand after that.

Edith—Dory, I'm afraid you've made a mess of it. Pa told me about the $10 and said I'd better let you slide; that you were too easy.—Boston Transcript.

Prejudices.

"So you won't take my medicine?" said the doctor, who had been called in against the patient's wishes.

"I will not," replied the patient.

"I suppose you're one of those poor deluded beings who believe in throwing physic to the dogs."

"Not indiscriminately. Some dogs are valuable."—Philadelphia Press.

Hit Both Ways.

First Artist—Congratulations, old man. I've just sold my masterpiece to Banker Parvau for five thousand dollars.

Second Artist—Glad to hear it. The miserable skindiat deserves to be awarded.

LOCUSTS! DELAY TRAINS

New York, Dec. 21.—A cable to the Sun from Bloomfontein says: Last Saturday an enormous army of locusts, the largest ever known here, appeared and delayed a mail train five hours. These pests have been hovering over Bloomfontein for the past week. Yesterday millions of them settled on farms near by and in some places they were ankle deep. In Thabane district one swarm extended for twenty miles, stopping all traffic with the south. There was another swarm that extended for twenty miles. The damage to market produce, which is sadly wanted, is great.

Woman Robbed.

Mrs. Joseph Zielenh, who resides almost 3 1/2 miles north of this city, was robbed of a small sum of money last evening about 5 o'clock. She had delivered a load of apples at the Chemawa Indian School, for which she received between $4 and $5. Driving along the road, she was stopped by two men who stepped out from behind some bushes at the side of the road, and leveled at her, asking for the possession of all her money. No other recourse was allowed her, so she complied and made a complaint to the authorities here today.

Sheriff's Sale.

At the sheriff's sale this morning, seven and one-half acres of land, being lot No. 27, of the Capital City fruit farm, was sold to satisfy a judgment of $100.50. This was in the suit of Isaac C. Stratton versus Pete Olson, and the property was bid in by the plaintiff for $205.70.

MADAME TSILKA REPORTED DEAD

LONDON, Dec. 21.—"Semi-official news received here from Constantinople," says the Rome correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, "asserts that Mme. Tsilka is dead and that Miss Stone, the American captive, will be released almost immediately."

Car Barns Improved.

The large car barn at the Salem Light, Power & Traction Company on East State street, is being remodeled. New sheds are being constructed for the paint shops, carpenter shops, et cetera, and new floors are laid in the building. New tracks are also being constructed from the main track into the barn, and the work will result in everything being more convenient for the employees. The work will occupy several days, even with the large number of men employed.

Bond to Sound Their "H."

The English middle classes have had so much fun poked at them for dropping the letter "h" and for carrying it forward and placing it where it should not be, possibly thus to obey the laws of compensation, that they have become sensitive on the subject, and many aspirate the "h" with double force when the letter should be aspirated. Instead of saying "before him," as Americans do, with a light aspiration, they will say "before him," taking a full and deep breath when they utter the second word, shooting it out as if it came from a popgun. Dropping the "h" is not new for ordinary English folk. It is a new trick to aspirate it with double the force required.—New York Commercial Advertiser

SOCIETY LADIES

Use Peruna for Catarrhal Derangements.

Mrs. C. H. Buck, 2023 Douglas street, Omaha, Neb., writes:

"I have used Peruna and can cheerfully recommend it as being the best remedy for catarrh and general debility that I have ever used." Yours gratefully, Mrs. C. H. Buck.

Miss Helen Murphy, a popular society woman of Oshkosh, Wis., is an ardent friend to Peruna. The following is a letter written by Miss Murphy, and gives her opinion of Peruna as a preventive as well as cure for catarrhal ailments:

Oshkosh, Wis.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen—About three months ago I contracted a severe cold at an evening reception, which settled on my lungs and threatened to be very serious. As my mother has used Peruna with good results, she sent for a bottle for me and I found that it gave me blessed relief. Before the second bottle was consumed I was well.

"We keep a bottle of it on hand all the time and when I have been out in inclement weather, I take a dose or two of Peruna and it prevents my taking any cold and keeps me perfectly well." Yours very truly, Helen Murphy.

Peruna is applicable to catarrh of any mucous surface of the body in all stages. From the slightest catarrhal attack or cold to the most chronic or pronounced case of hypertrophic form Peruna is a specific.

Men and women are subject to catarrh. Women are even more subject to catarrh than men. This is due to many causes. The chief cause is the delicacy of her organism, as compared to man. The extreme sensitiveness of the mucous lining of every organ of a woman's body is well known to physicians. This explains why, in part at least, so few women are entirely free from catarrh. A vast multitude of women have found Peruna an indispensable remedy.
