CAPITAL CITY SOCIAL EVENTS...

NEW YEAR'S WEDDINGS AND PARTIES CHRONICLED.

Hughes-Carter.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Hughes of Salt to Hon. W. A. Carter of Jackson county was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. & Mrs. John Hughes, on New Year's Eve at 8 o'clock in the presence of large and brilliant company of relatives, friends and society people.

The ceremony and ritual of the Methodist church, and a ring ceremony besides were performed by Rev. John Parsons, D. D., of the first M. E. church in a very impressive manner. J. R. Hammsley of Gold Hill, a law partner of the groom, was best man, and Miss Genevieve Hughes, sister of the bride was maid of honor, with Miss Maud Hirsch of Salem, and Miss Lottie M. Bennett of Astoria bridesmaids.

The procession was formed at the home of the bride, and proceeded to the bridal parlor in the east parlor, with little Cornelius of Oregon City and Master Norm Waters of Salem as ribbon bearers. The bride wore white organdy trimmed with duchesse lace on train, with a length veil of silk moiré caught up by lines-of-the-valley, carrying a basket of the same flowers covered with white.

As the procession descended the grand staircase a choir of sixteen voices under the direction of Prof. Bentley, Dean of the college (Miss, sang the bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden" by Cowen, Prof. Urison presiding at the piano, and reciting at the conclusion the Mendelssohn wedding march. Heartly congratulations followed the ceremony.

The decorations of the Hughes mansion were vergeraholic. The stairway and hall were hung with ivy in the berry, tied with red ribbon in lovers knots. The bride and groom were a stately couple as they stood under the bower with a line of three bells in white chrysantheums, the bower being in holly and berries caught up with red ribbons.

The parlors were decorated with mistletoe, mums and red berries of wild plantain. The bride's room was a mass of green and white with softest tones and broad white ribbons from the corners to the strollers over the tables, from which canopy were suspended white doves, carrying about a silver dove in the air, with a bridal dove flying to the right. The bride sat down to tea lighted with candles in brass and set with bouquets of bride roses in cut glass vases. The mantles, all the rooms were banked with red and Oregon grape. The main dining room was festooned with garlands and garlands of fir, flecked with bunches of red berries. All the tables were lighted with candles in brass and the sideboards set with potted plants.

A rich menu of refreshments was arranged.

The guests and bridal party of ham, asparagus, gherkins and salted almonds on an salad, pomelos and coffee, ices, and bonbons, a green color scheme prevailing wherever possible. The bride gazed in most becoming manner, in gown and carriage making her by the finest figure in a lovely assemblage of youth and beauty. When she went above to change to her traveling gown she threw three bouquets from the banister, the part with late ring being caught by Miss Lillian Cain of Portland, Miss Daisy Harold of Brooks and Miss Helen Calbreath of Salem getting the other two. With a touch of romance the bride threw a yellow garter into the crowd of maids and after a most animated display of football tactics it was captured by Miss Lottie M. Bennett.

The bride's traveling suite was of brown cloth trimmed with black braid, made up with white chiffon, a touch of blue at the collar, gun-metal buttons and traveling bag to match. There were the usual showers of rice extending from the house to the station, and the drawing room of the Pullman, which was decorated with bouquets and hung with holly wreaths.

The gifts to the bridal couple were displayed in a room above, and consisted of cut glass pieces and sets, silverware and a chafing dish from the friends of the bride in the choir of the M. E. church, where she has rendered long and faithful service. As a musician Miss Hughes has always been at the command of the church and of the larger public, giving liberally of her culture on all occasions and she will be very much missed from Salem musical and social circles. The groom is one of the finest young men in the state, having served as Mayor of his city and as member of the legislature with distinguished ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter took the overland express for their new home at Gold Hill, where a furnished house awaits them.

A New Year's Wedding.

At the home of Mrs. Lydia E. Marrs near this city occurred the marriage of her daughter Miss Olive Mae Carrin, to Mr. George W. Achenbrenner, on Jan. 1st, 1902, Rev. John Parsons, D. D., of the First Methodist church officiating. Only a few friends of the interested parties were present, besides the relatives. Both the bride and groom are well known in Salem the bride being an accomplished and popular young lady, and the groom being particularly well known among the student circles. He was a '01 graduate in the law class of Willamette University and has been admitted to the Oregon bar. He also took a further course in law at the university in California this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Achenbrenner will sail for the Philippines on February first.

SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.
An Excellent Combination.
The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. Illustrates the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and promoting a healthy habit of regular bowels. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get the beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the company printed on the front of every package.

Celebrated His Birthday.

The Salem brass band was out New Year's eve blowing the old year out and the new year in. Some of the boys happened to remember that it was Uncle Bill Anderson's birthday, so they rounded up there and gave him a surprise party in the way of a serenade. He invited them in, explained that it was about that time of the night he arrived, and invited them to have some refreshments. Uncle Bill was invited to make a speech, but said it wasn't his time. He had nothing to say about coming into the world and expected to have nothing to say about going out. So the band played several fine pieces and departed, wishing him many happy returns of that anniversary.

Autumn Food Leaf Club

The Autumn Food Leaf Club were entertained by Miss Hazel Hollister, Tuesday night, at her home, she being president of the organization. Various games were played, for which prizes were given. Robert McCall, Sidney Morrison, Lloyd Mott, Harry Gillen, Carl Washburn, James Mott, Clyde Laughed and Frank Hollister.

Surprise Party.

Miss Lena Cavanagh was the recipient of a surprise party formed by a number of her friends, on Tuesday evening. Indulgence in parlor games, music and readings made the evening a more than pleasant one, and it was concluded in the new year by refreshments being served. The guests were the Misses Elvina Fawk, Blanche Brown, Belle Darbey, Mabel Baker Florence Rigger, Ruth Purdy, Bessie Buckingham, Maud Langhead and Lella Cavanagh; Messrs. Wilson Darbey, Herbert Barton, Henry Bigger, John Albert, Guy Hunt, Eben Albert, Ralph Matthews and Otto Ragan.

Young People's Party.

Mrs. E. Hoter entertained a number of young people on afternoon of New Year's day, in honor of Miss Lillian Crossman of Portland, who has been spending the holiday week in the city, and left for home this evening. Those present to enjoy hearts, recitations, music and refreshments were Misses Elizabeth Lord, Ruth Gabrielson, Blanche Brown, Bessie Buckingham, Alice Mayer, Helen Calbreath, Eveline Calbreath and Ama Strogg. Miss Ella Shipp assisted.

College Party

A number of the pupils of Willamette University tendered a surprise party to Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Prentiss Drew Wednesday evening. A thoroughly enjoyable time was had by all, various games being played and some delightful music being heard.

The Latest Year.
A Pittsburg drummer tells this new year: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few doses of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Every where I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At drug stores, 25c and 50c.
