

RALLY AGAINST TAXEATERS

Oregon Republicans Should Awaken.

Drop Factional Fights and Adopt Business Methods.

There is a growing dissatisfaction, and evidently for good cause, with the heavy increase in taxation in this county and state for the present year. It is well remembered that the republican officials who are now in charge of the county and state affairs, made, during the last campaign, strong pledges for right economy in case they were elected. Now they are confronted with perhaps the highest tax ever required of them in any one year. For Douglas county the total levy is 25 mills, as against 20, the average for several years past. This includes 7.50 mills of state tax, for which last year's levy was 6.70 mills. The latter figure was above the average for state purposes. The average annual state revenue for Oregon for the past seven years is $40,175, while the amount to be raised for the present year is $1,100,718.67 an increase above the average of $400,543. In Douglas county last year the aggregate of taxes was $84,020.20, exclusive of special taxes, while for the present year, with special taxes omitted, the levy reaches $105,153.65, or an increase of $20,533.45.

This heavy additional burden imposed upon the taxpayers is but another example of the frailty of the promises of republican politicians. It seems as if the voters would have learned this lesson in the past, but it is again confronting them in an incontrovertible manner.

SMITH SCORED AGAIN

Albany Bunco Man Works in Illinois.

After leaving Albany on Dec. 24, A. B. Smith, the sharper who borrowed $1,000 of Mrs. Harding, of this city, on a forged deed to the property of Mr. Morgenson, of near Lebanon, went directly to Lewiston, Ill., where he played about the same game a second time under the name of Geo. Shaler and secured $2,000, says the Albany Democrat.

In this case he bought two pieces and claimed to have money to pay for one and needed the $300 to liquidate for the second game situated in the adjoining county. A strange coincidence in connection with the matter is that the sheriff at Lewiston inquiring about one Bobe Smith, who about that time had visited an Albany lodge and registered from "was" the Smith, whereas Bobe Smith is a barber who had just come here, now working at the Combination shop, a trustworthy gentleman, a fact afterwards learned. Notwithstanding this warning the flimflammer did his work without being captured at Lewiston.

SALEM POSTOFFICE WIRING

Major Cramer, superintendent of the Salem postoffice building, is in receipt of the intelligence that Cuthbert, a Black of Chicago, has secured the contract for the electric conduits and wiring of the new Federal building in this city, the contract price being $1025. The company is now located at Chicago.

Beauty is Health.

Wanted: Lark, Ark., June 8, 1905. I thank you for the bottle of Wine of Cardui I bought from your advice and the Wine of Cardui I took in my terrible condition. My life was no longer my own and I was of no use to anybody. After receiving your advice and medicine I began to feel better. The pains left me and the medicine which was as the current thing, contained there has increased. My husband says the medicine has made me better looking.

Wine of Cardui means bright eyes, racy cheeks, clear complexion and elasticity of form. This is the youth unmeasured by years—the beauty of perfect womanhood. Beautiful women are happier and get more out of life than their sisters whose faces indicate suffering. Wine of Cardui makes her "better looking" and infinitely happier because it cures her of those terrible pains. But she is no exception.

WINE OF CARDUI

is giving thousands of women health, beauty and freedom from the dragging pains which make their lives so miserable. Van faces, haggard eyes and emaciated forms are the results of suffering from constipation and the tortures of irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb. Beauty flows quickly before the ravages of such diseases. The sharp pains of falling of the womb deepen the crow tracks in the face. Menstrual irregularities rob the eye of its strength, rob the skin of its transparency. Leucorrhoea drains the body of its strength, and Wine of Cardui restores the natural beauty, brightens the eyes, clears the complexion, rebuilds the figure and brings back the vigor of health. Every druggist in this city handles $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

BURNETT'S BODY FOUND

Portland Boy Had Been Missing Since Christmas.

PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—The body of Guy Burnett, sometimes known as Guy McGilvray, of Portland, was found yesterday on the tide land above Stevenson by W. F. McGregor, a well-known lumberman of the Lower Columbia. Burnett had been missing from Portland since Christmas day, when he left on a duck-hunting expedition in the vicinity of the islands two miles below Knappa. A few days later his boat was found tied to a tree near Knappa, but no trace could be found of Burnett or his gun. He had previously said that if overtaken by a storm he would strap the weapon to the boat, and the fact that it was not there raised hope in the hearts of his family and friends that perhaps he had wandered off, and would turn up at some other point.

About the time Burnett arrived at Knappa a terrific storm raged on the Lower Columbia, and it is probable that the boat capsized and was found later by some fisherman, who tied it to a tree, but did not report the fact to the authorities. Burnett was 20 years of age, and was the son of Mrs. Nancy McGilvray, who lives in the Union block, at Stark and First streets.

Before starting on the trip Guy made arrangements with his brother, Ward, to join him after the holidays, but when the latter reached Knappa he found only the boat. No trace could be found of his brother, and he was given up by his mother and brother as lost. Dynamite was ineffectually used in an effort to raise the boat, but the search had to be abandoned. Mr. McGregor, who found the body, reported it to Coroner Pohl, of Astoria, and the remains will be taken to that place this morning, and will be sent from there to Portland for burial. No marks were discernible that would indicate that Burnett came to his death by the accidental discharge of his gun or foul play.

SALEM SCHOOL DISTRICT

Taxpayers Levy Eight Mills for Public Education.

A special meeting of the taxpayers of school district No. 21 was held at the city hall Monday night for the purpose of levying a tax for 1902, for school purposes. The report of the clerk, Jos. Baumgartner was accepted by the board of directors, composed of H. A. Johnson, M. L. Chamberlain, A. O. Condit, H. J. Fletcher and Simpson. This recommended that a levy of eight mills be made, seven mills for general purposes and one mill for indebtedness.

This report was adopted, except as to the one mill tax. This was thoroughly discussed, but finally adopted. This indebtedness being paid off is the funds obtained through the popular loan. By levying a tax of one mill for nine the entire amount of this loan can be repaid and the district will be more in readiness to meet the bonds which fall due soon after. The popular loan notes amount in aggregate to $27,900. The bonded indebtedness amounts to $27,050. This draws interest at 6 per cent. The bonds are due in 1910 and 1911 in the sums of $15,000 and $14,650 respectively. Although some deemed the levy of seven mills for general purposes heavy, it was shown to be necessary. The receipts for 1901 are estimated at $26,500. The expense to July 1, 1902 will be $14,913, leaving a balance of $11,487.39. It will be then necessary to use $3000 of 1901 tax money leaving a balance of $23,000 for expenses from July 1, 1902 to July 1, 1903, which are estimated at $22,365.

Buying Milk Cows. J. P. Jones, traveling passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Company, is somewhat of a granger himself. Mr. Jones came up from Portland Monday evening and is negotiating with George Weeks for the purchase of a number of good milk cows with which to stock his Marion county ranch, located near Mehama, preparatory to engaging in the dairy business on a large scale.

Charles A. Rens, who at one time supplied all Chicago with coal from one wagon, is dead in that city.

SALEM SOCIAL WORLD

PERSONAL MENTION

SALEM SOCIETY GIRL

Married to a Walla Walla Man.

A Beautiful Wedding Ceremony Was Conducted.

The marriage of Miss La Blanche Belle of Salem to Mr. Thaddeus Allen Young of Walla Walla took place at one o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Belle at 308 Church street.

This ceremony, simple and impressive, was performed by Rev. W. C. Kanter of the First Congregational church. It was attended only by the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. The parlors were beautifully arranged, fragrant blossoms of the season and pungent green leaves from the woods being used in the decorations.

The large bow window where the bridal couple stood was arranged with mistletoe and framed in sprays of fir. Between the two parlors was arranged an arch of ivy leaves, from the centre of which was suspended a wreath of holly, which was brightened by a bow of scarlet ribbon to correspond with the bright berries. Potted plants and sweet cut flowers were placed about the rooms.

The hall was also decorated with ivy. The wedding march was played by Miss Du Mars of Portland on the violin, accompanied by Miss Lela Belle on the piano.

The bride was elegantly gowned in pure white crepe de chine elaborated with lace and pearl trimming. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom wore black. The costumes of all the other ladies present were particularly smart and beautiful.

After the ceremony the party repaired to the dining room, where the wedding luncheon was served. During this function was heard music by Master Earl Sharp on the violin and a piano accompaniment by his sister, Miss Laura Sharp. The dining room was fragrant with the odor of violets, which with dainty smiles, were used exclusively for the table decoration. The room was further beautified by the lavender ribbons suspended from the center of the ceiling to the corners of the room.

The bride is well known society girl of the capital city, and is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Belle. The groom is the second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Young of Walla Walla, in which city he was born and raised. He is one of the most popular young men of that city. He is employed as baggage agent of the O. R. & N. Co. at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will leave on this evening's train for Portland and on Wednesday will proceed to their home at Walla Walla. Miss Blanche Young of Walla Walla, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Albert Manship of Portland, cousin of the bride, were present at the wedding.

The newly married couple were surrounded by many beautiful presents and the unlimited good wishes and congratulations of their friends.

SALEM SOCIETY GIRL. Mrs. W. S. Toole and daughter, Rachael Abrams, who has been visiting friends in Seattle and Portland, stopped in Salem today. They leave this evening for their home in Albany, which place Miss Abrams will leave soon for San Francisco to attend school.

Salvage Station. A recent writer has this to say of sailors' rations: "A sailor has dishes and loves them, that are little appreciated ashore. He likes 'Fanny Apples' and has a great fancy for 'plum duff,' which consists of suet pudding with raisins in it. Vegetables, though they are in the official harbor menu, are not served out to the messes every day, but on certain days some groups of messes get all the others and the rest of the mess which Jack quite approves.

"The messes whose turn it is to have vegetables indulge in a 'pot mess,' as it is styled, perhaps not inappropriately. The messes in their turn receive the shins, scrag ends, neck pieces and other odds and ends of the meat ration. Some sailors aver that every autumn line at least six shins—and this miscegenous assortment of remnants is thrown into a pot with as many vegetables as can be got. The result is a 'pot mess.'"

"My landlubber who desires to try a real naval dish will have no difficulty in getting the dish prepared, and if he eats it on a table with uneven legs which lurches up and down he can imagine it as it is."

"Who's Baby Are You?" There will be merry doings at the Grand Opera House on Friday night when Myron B. Rice will present Mark E. Swan's latest farce, "Who's Baby Are You?" with a specially selected cast of farceurs headed by those clever comedians, Miss May Vokes and Chas. W. Sawyer. It is said to be all fun, frolic and hilarity from start to finish. The plot is as complicated and diverting as a Chinese puzzle. It all revolves around a baby and this particular baby is said to be a corker. The scenes are laid in an artist's studio where a group of erratic characters get into all sorts of amusing complications.

The piece abounds in bright dialogue, and effervescent jokes.

Crossed Vegetables. A cross between a headless cabbage and the turnip produced the rape plant. Cabbage and turnips themselves are relatives; the lettuce plant also claims near kin to them, and far back in plant life grew a parent plant with some of the characteristics that each now claims as its own, from which all these, and many another plant also, descended.

Distracting Head Noises

Due to Catarrh—Annoy by Day and Prevent Sleep at Night.

The projections of tissue on each side of the head are not the ears—that is, the real ears. What we usually call the ears are only cartilages to catch sound waves and conduct them to the real mechanism of hearing further inside the head. The internal ears, the real ears, are situated out from the outside air by the ear drums, and yet it is necessary to have air in the middle ears to conduct sounds to the structures that impress their vibrations on the brain. This air for the middle ear comes from the throat through little passages called the "Eustachian tubes." The blood heated nose and throat warm this air and free it of all dust and irritants before it reaches such delicate structures as are most concerned in the sense of hearing.

The most common cause of deafness is a blocking up of the Eustachian tubes by extension of catarrh into them. While the shutting off of air from the throat causes hardness of hearing so far as external sounds are concerned, it is apt to imprison certain other sounds made by the circulation in the head or conducted along such hard structures as communicate with the internal ear. These head noises or imprisoned sounds are very perplexing and sometimes almost distracting, vexing and annoying by day and preventing sleep at night. These sounds are varied as they are confusing. They are often likened to the purring of a cat, the roaring of a seashell, the rumbling of machinery, the buzzing of a bee or fly, the humming of a mosquito or of a humming bird, the tinkling of bells, the ringing of a bell, the crackling of a wood fire, the hissing of a snake or goose, the murmur of running water, the soughing of the wind, etc.

Nine-tenths of the cases of deafness are due to catarrh, and nearly all cases of progressive hardness of hearing, especially if one can hear better some times than at others and if troubled with head noises, are caused by catarrh of the Eustachian tubes, or where only one ear is affected with too little sound from the outside and too much from the inside the catarrh has gotten into one tube only.

An attorney and public speaker, who had been a catarrh sufferer for years says: "Ever fall I would catch a cold which would settle in my head and throat and hang on all winter long and every winter it seemed to get a little worse. I was continually clearing my throat and my voice became affected to such an extent as to interfere with my public speaking."

"I tried troches and cheap cough cures and sometimes got relief, but only for a short time, until this winter when I learned of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, through a newspaper advertisement. Two fifty-cent boxes which I bought at my druggist, cleared my head and throat in the shape of a guard against a return of my old trouble. I kept a box of the tablets on hand and whenever I catch a little cold, I take a tablet or two and ward off any serious developments."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, acting on catarrh only through the blood, will reach and cure catarrh in the Eustachian tubes as well as elsewhere, and this is why so many who have taken it for nasal catarrh have been surprised at being cured of their deafness and head noises.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets cure all kinds of catarrh of all parts of the body. Acting through the blood, they reach every part alike. They are sold at all drug stores for 50 cents a box.

She Read the Signal. There is a romantic story about Lord Kelvin's second marriage. In the early seventies he, then Sir William Thomson, was in West Indian waters, on board his schooner yacht, the Lalla Rookh. As a recreation he took up the question of simplifying the method of signals at sea. He had been talking of it at the dinner table of a friend in Madeira, and the only apprehension that seemed able to grasp it was that of his house's daughter, a lady he greatly but shyly admired.

"I quite understand it, Sir William," she said.

"Are you sure?" he questioned, half doubtfully. "If I sent you a signal from my yacht, do you think you could read it and could answer me?"

"Well, I would try," she responded. "I believe I should succeed in making it out."

Turne Mountain Legend. There is a Washington legend connected with Turne mountain which is always told to those who visit the Ranapo country. The mountain is the highest in the range, and on a clear day, it is said, one can see Sandy Hook from the summit. Half way up the mountain there is a deep cleft in the rocks, at the bottom of which is a spring. From some hidden point water falls into the spring with a steady dropping not unlike the ticking of a watch.

"Listen and you will hear George Washington's watch," say the old timers. "He dropped it into the spring when he came up the mountain to watch the British leave New York."

"Tick—tick—tick—tick" is the sound which comes out of the rocks.

"It is going yet," says the guide.

"Must have been a good watch, don't you think so?"—New York Tribune.

The Largest Coins in Circulation. The largest gold coin now in circulation is the gold ingot, or "loaf," of Anam, a French colony in eastern Africa. It is a flat, round gold piece, and it is written in indelible ink its value, which is about $25. The next largest coin to this valuable but extremely awkward one is the obang of Japan, which is worth $10, and next comes the benda of Ashanti, which represents a value of about $5. The California fifty-cent gold piece is worth about the same as the benda. The heaviest silver coin in the world also belongs to Anam, where the silver ingot is worth about $1. Then comes the Chinese tael, equal to about 7 shillings, and then the Austrian double talar.

Dogs and Humor. Mr. Cecil Allen, an authority, gives it as his opinion that dogs as a rule are devoid of conscious humor. "The clown dog in a troupe of performing dogs, for instance, is not really funny when he burlesques the performances of other dogs, but he seems to be funny to the spectators. I am afraid that the people who credit dogs with being intentionally funny are deceiving themselves. A dog likes fun—a good romp and game with children—but his sense of humor has not been developed, and
