Studebaker Wagons

A man who really desires to save money, who wants the cheapest wagon that money can buy, usually buys the best. There is only one BEST in any line of goods. Studebaker wagons are recognized the country over as the highest type of wagon production. The slope shoulder spoke, black birch hub, extra deep felloes filled with oil, heavy axles with extra long spokes and extra steel truss, all of these things make the Studebaker wagon to be desired among critical buyers.

We are fitting out a good many of the Eastern men with wagons and vehicles. They all know Studebakers.

Call on us for drills and seeders, harrows, 5-tooth cultivators, garden tools, etc.

WOODCRAFT BOOMERS BOOM

Golden Winged Flickers For Their Order.

Show Great Industry and Enterprise in Searching for the Early Worm.

A most notable event in the history of the local lodge of the Woodmen of the World was the grand rally of the organization on Thursday evening when the national organizers were present and spoke. The party were entertained at Hotel Willamette and shown about the city by a committee of Woodmen and on behalf of the ladies by their Chairman Mrs. R. H. Leabo, and at 8 p. m. all assembled at the Grand opera house for the evening's entertainment. Many farmers were in from the surrounding county and a forest scene was reproduced on the stage having in the foreground the woodmen's ax and log. On the left was the banner of the Salem camp and on the right a picture of Mr. Falkenburg, draped with the American flag. Seated on the stage were the noted guests of the lodge, and the officials, with the uniformed rank of Modern Woodmen band in the rear.

The boxes were occupied by prominent ladies and gentlemen of the order. Head manager Hawley called the meeting to order and introduced Governor Geer, who presided for the evening. The Governor then welcomed cordially the eminent visitors to the State of Oregon, after which he announced the program, the premiere of which was an overture by the band in which the band was never heard to better advantage. They also gave the closing number in fine style, the march "Sweetheart."

The Willamette University girls' chorus next gave in admirable style the song "Breeze of the night" responding to an encore.

Head Counsel Falkenburg was introduced by Rev. W. C. Kantner, as the "head of the Pacific jurisdiction and the father and creator of the organization which has blessed so many homes in Oregon and even in Salem."

Mr. Falkenburg then entertained the audience for about thirty minutes by addressing them on the subject of "Woodcraft."

Mrs. C. H. Hinges sang "My Nightingale," and responded to an enthusiastic encore by rendering the "Woodmen's Song," composed by J. S. Williams of this city, the district organizer.

After the program the members of the lodge had an elegant banquet with more music and speeches to boom the order. The whole affair shows the rustic and energy characteristic of the Salem workers in this order.

Marion Probate Court.
Frances Parkhurst, administrator of the estate of E. F. Parkhurst, deceased has received an order from the county court to sell all the real property of the estate to satisfy the accounts against the estate. The land to be sold is the south half of lot 4, block 3, and 17 feet of the north side of lot 3, same block in Yaw Park. This is to be disposed of subject to the dower of the widow of the deceased.

Red and Ideal Life.
Ex-Gov. Fletcher of Dakota has spent some of the most valuable years of his life among the Indians and learned a great many of his manners from them. He will lecture tonight at the Salem Indian school on Red and Ideal Life, and what he doesn't know about life among the Reds isn't worth knowing, and he can tell it in a first rate way.

Uncle Tom Postponed.
On account of unavoidable circumstances it has become necessary for us to postpone the play Uncle Tom's Cabin until a later date, due notice of which will appear in the press.

CLAYTON WENTZ, Superintendent.

Recital Postponed.
The February Recital by the College of Music and Oratory will be given Monday evening February 17, being postponed on account of the lecture by Dr. Mills on next Monday evening.

Heaven's Dimensions
One of these eccentric mathematical fellows who are always calculating the distances which a given number of things will reach when extended in the straight line, has been devoting himself to the dimensions of heaven, taking for the basis of his calculations the verse, "and he measured the city with the reed, 12,000 furlongs. The length and breadth and the height of it were equal." The results which he obtained for his figuring are somewhat formidable.

The entire space represents 469,783,088,000,000,000 cubic feet. He generously concedes half of his space for the throne and the court of heaven and half its remainder for streets, 100,000,000,000 cubic feet. Dividing up this space he gets 30,321,555,750,000 rooms ten feet square. Figuring in a like airy way upon the population of the earth he finds that if 100 worlds containing the same number of people as this should send all their inhabitants for a thousand centuries to come to heaven, there would be more than 100 of the ten foot rooms for each person.

This is distinctly reassuring, for there probably has been a question in every one's mind at some time or other as to the ability of the heavenly city to receive all who are going there. Time was when this question did not plague people so much, or the theologians who thought for the people, for the elect were considered as few in number and most people were regarded as fore-ordained for the other place, whose dimensions have not been calculated, through no doubt was ever expressed of its ability to accommodate all who went there. With the growth of liberal thought, however, and the relaxing of the old iron-bound dogmas the question may have asserted itself more and more. It is pleasant, therefore, to be assured that there is room for all in the heavenly city.

Of course the calculations of this mathematician may be all astray and may rest on a wrong basis. Then they will only illustrate the mysteries and astounding possibilities of figures in great and inconceivable sums. But if they are correct, or even approximately so, they settle any doubt as to the amount of room. The pulpit must take up the work. If there is room for all in the heavenly city the pulpit must point it out and lead the way, so that everybody in this great world of saints and sinners may become the occupant of a heavenly mansion.

SERIOUS FIRE AT AUMSVILLE

Barn and Stock Totally Consumed.

Special to The Journal.
AUMSVILLE, Feb. 7.—C. F. Hein's barn was burnt to the ground last Wednesday night. The fire was first discovered by Mrs. McGinnis at two a. m. The light shining through her window awakened her. Mr. McGinnis immediately hurried to the scene of the fire but arrived too late to extinguish the flames or to save any of the contents of the barn. Much grain, hay, implements, five head of horses and one cow were totally consumed.

Dangerous Runaway

A team belonging to Sam Brandick ran away Friday morning on Commercial street, resulting in badly breaking the wagon to which they were hitched. They are used for delivery purposes by Branson & Ragan, Harritt & Lawrence, and Roth & Graber. The team was standing in front of Harritt & Lawrence's store and Mr. Brandick was inside when a loud explosion of Chinese New Year fire crackers in the next block frightened the team and they ran three blocks up the street, then one horse collided with a telegraph pole and stopped the team with a crash.

One of these horses belonged to the team whose running away last August killed a boy, and they have since ran away several times.

The horse which struck the pole may die from the internal injuries received. It is a valuable horse, but recently purchased by Mr. Brandick.

Irish Troubles Worry British

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Cabinet met today. The state of the Irish situation, which has recently occupied equal attention with the South African war, was the chief topic of discussion. The election of Wood, the land purchase candidate on Wednesday is disturbing the officials, considerably. The expediency of more severe measures especially against the United Irish League was discussed.

St. Joseph's Have a Jolly

The regular meeting of the St. Joseph's Library Association was held at their hall last night and an especially enjoyable time was had. The program of the evening was entirely musical, consisting of vocal numbers. They were given by Miss Anna McGee, Miss Ruby Goulet, Miss Emma Miller and a duet was sung by Mr. Ed. Hoffman and Mr. Will Crevinston. Miss Lena Benoit was the accompanist. After the program all present played whist and cake and coffee were served.

A telephone line is to be constructed from Boise, Idaho, to the new Thunder Mountain Mining country.

India is threatened with another severe famine.

DETECTIVES GRAFT THE TAXPAYERS

Multnomah and Marion Counties Mulcted.

What the Arrest of Long on a Blackmailing Scheme Will Cost.

The arrest of a farmer named Long near Butteville at the instance of an ex-convict will cost this county and Multnomah several hundred dollars, in spite of the fact that a Portland court promptly discharged Mr. Long and Mr. Darewit after a preliminary hearing.

THE JOURNAL is already in possession of information of at least $75 in fees that will be collected by the alleged detectives who came to Salem with the parties, and there will be bills for at least $15 against Marion county.

These detectives deserve a severe censure at the hands of the Portland courts, if Chief of Police McLoughlin does not come in for a share of it himself. It is an outrage to take an innocent citizen and drag him about the country on a trumped-up blackmailing scheme engineered by an ex convict. It does not speak highly for the police department of that city to be worked with such a game at the expense of the taxpayers.

The bills for fees should be promptly thrown out by the county courts of the two counties and these officials should be sued by the parents of the two girls if it can be shown that they were innocent and blameless victims in the affair. The ruin of their reputation as honest women is nothing to the police department of Portland, and it seems as though the craze to make fees off the public would lead gristers to commit almost any kind of an outrage.
