...THE EASY RUNNING NOISELESS...

TRIBUNE

THE REGULAR model this season is $40. It has 1-inch tubing and the frame lines are very slightly changed from last season. Options on saddles, bars, tires, etc., to suit the customer. We have also the 1901 models, new goods, for $35, besides cushion models at $40. The cycloidal sprocket as found on the Tribune, is cut with curve in the face of the tooth, so that the moment it enters the chain it fits in order that the instant the pull begins the chain stays in place, instead of sliding outward on the tooth as is the case in the common form of sprocket. This feature prevents that annoying grinding and snapping common to imperfect sprockets, and accounts for the noiseless running which is the pride of the Tribune riders. It also eliminates much of the friction which on most wheels is greatest in this very point—chain and sprockets being responsible for the hard running of many wheels.

We are just commencing our fourth year with this most popular of wheels, and if the immense sale we enjoyed on them last season is any criterion we will do an increased business this year. Once a Tribune rider, always one, is a fact that cannot be gainsaid, and the reason for it lies in the perfect degree of satisfaction that the customer enjoys, not only on account of the durability of the wheel—for a good lumber wagon is durable—but on account of the easy running qualities, and the perfection and simplicity of its construction.

The fame of the Tribune "cycloidal sprocket" introduced by this wheel early in its career, has impelled wheels of all classes to attempt to imitate the shape, with varying degrees of success. Inasmuch as imitation is the sincerest flattery it only advertises the genuine article.

Tribune bearings have a world wide reputation for perfection of shape, and for excellence in quality. Such a thing as a defective bearing in these wheels is unknown. Any repair man will tell you this.

We have not known of a broken crank on any model later than '99, notwithstanding the immense number of Tribunes in use by all classes of riders, on all sorts of roads. The factory has never known of a broken fork crown in its history, for they are all drop forged steel.

THE LADIES' model has the graceful double loop frame, the well known Tribune steel chain guard, the neat one-inch tubing, and sells at $40. We will also have the 1901 models at $35, besides cushion frame Tribunes at $40, ladies' and gent's. Tribune Bearings are cut with scientific exactness, with the purpose of exactly fitting the balls they are intended to contain. There is no guess work and no happen so about it. There is just as much science and skill required in designing a perfect running bearing as in calculating the appearance of an eclipse, and the Tribune bearings have eclipsed everything in this regard. They are turned from bars of tool steel, and are as perfect apparently as the movement of a watch. We have the parts, hubs, bearings, cranks, sprockets, crowns, etc., separate, so that we can show you their points and prove our claims. We have our samples on the floor, and large orders in, which will give us plenty of wheels for immediate delivery. Call and see us. We have already sold a number of Tribunes, though this has been anything but wheel weather.

Building and Real Estate.

E. M. Croisan is moving the old residence on corner of Ferry and High streets to a new location on Winter street, where it will be converted into a modern cottage. The house is one of the oldest in the city, built by a German named Morse in the early sixties, and once owned by Frank Parmenter. It is being done by the carpenter act himself with the assistance of his sons.

Mel Hamilton is converting a barn into a nice cottage on Mill street which he expects to occupy with his family and is doing the carpenter act himself with the assistance of his sons.

The Mitchell, Lewis and Staver agricultural warehouse on State street is being enlarged by the addition of 30 feet additional frontage so that the firm will have 95½ feet on that street and nearly 100 feet deep. The improvement is being made by R. P. Boise, Sr.
