Spring Sewing
 This is the time of year when wise women are planning to get most of their spring sewing off their hands. We have sewing machines, new ones, from the Eastern "bargain counter," machines at $17.50 up to the very highest quality Standard and White machines.
 We have first-class guaranteed machine at $25 — and sell lots of them. They are made of first-class material by a first-class company, and are the best at $25 machine that is sold in this country. Best, because they are more up-to-date, and because the material is second to none.
 But for quality—real, genuine quality—when you want the best, you get up to the Standard or the White, and you stop. These in the Rotary Machines mark the perfection of the art of machine building. They run faster, easier, make less noise, hold more thread than any other sort. Come and see for yourself. We have a pleasant sewing machine department, where ladies may look over the stock undisturbed.
 There are quite a lot of second-hand machines, too, good bargains, from $5 up. Some at $10, that are really splendid. High arm White, Domestic and New Home, at that figure; all overhauled and ready to sew.
 Some old crocks that are worth nothing, but for the stand $1.
 Mr. Burley has returned from Portland after some weeks absence, and will do repairing at our place. Bring in your old machines.
 Needles, oil and parts for all machines. Best needles, 25c a dozen.

DAMAGE SUIT OF DUNCAN ROSS
 Versus Salem Light, Traction and Power Co.

The suit for damages of Duncan Ross versus the Salem Light, Power and Traction Company was heard in the circuit court this morning. The judgment asked by the plaintiff is for $3038 and costs and disbursements of the action. In September, 1901, Ross was crossing the street car track east of the Capitol when his wagon was run against by a street car. The wagon was injured and Ross thrown to the ground. He alleges that his cheek bone was broken and his face and body greatly injured. For the injury to himself he asks damages in the sum of $3000, and for repairs to wagon, physicians fee and drugs, $39.

Ross alleges that no bell was rung by the approaching car, or other alarm given. That the accident was due entirely to the carelessness of the employe of the defendant company. It is alleged in answer that the plaintiff was fully aware of the approach of the car and was reckless in driving onto the track. The attorneys are R. J. Fleming for Ross and Geo. G. Bingham for the S. L. P. & T. company.

The motorman in charge of the car at the time of the accident was Wm. Monroe. His testimony was an admission that no bell was rung to announce the approach of the car, he being engaged at the time in making out a transfer for a passenger. He reversed the action of the car as soon as he saw the wagon on the track but not soon enough to prevent striking it.

Chas. Long, John Brock, M. A. Wade, T. W. Rutherford, W. M. Murphy, M. A. Barber, F. A. Mangold, C. E. Thompson, W. H. Townsend, J. L. Calvert, J. B. Seeley, L. C. Cavanaugh, composed the jury in the case.

The street car company attempted to show that their car was running slowly, by force of its weight, and there was no obstruction to the view of anyone crossing the road for some distance, and that the fall received by Ross was from the wagon being cramped when struck by the car.

The case ended in voluntary nonsuit on the part of the plaintiff's attorney. It was because of the confusion of testimony given by Mr. Ross. His statements conflicted in regard to the speed of the car. He said first it was approaching rapidly and later that it was coming so slow that it made no noise, when he evidently meant it was running easily.

Marion County Circuit Court
 At seven o'clock Wednesday night the circuit court held a brief session. The matter discussed was the motion for change of venue in the case of the state versus A. M. Humphreys. He was indicted under the warehouse act for a shortage of from 8000 to 12000 bushels of grain, in his warehouse accounts. The attorneys for Humphreys, S. L. Hayden and S. T. Richardson, asked change of venue from Marion county to where an unprejudiced trial could be secured. They except Marion, Linn, Clackamas, Washington, Lane, Polk, Benton and Yamhill counties. To support their motion a list of affidavits were presented by each side, regarding the matter of the prejudice of the people. The state held that as every case of this nature yet tried had resulted in acquittal of the defendant there could be no claim of partiality set forth, rather the opposite.

W. R. Smith was tried this afternoon on the charge of assault with intent to kill having been indicted by the state. On December 22 last Smith assaulted J. R. Hinkle at Silverton, stabbing him three times in the left side. Hinkle recovered from the wounds and appeared at the trial. W. H. Holmes is Smith's attorney.

Nearly two hours were spent in securing a jury, twelve being excused as incompetent.

McMahon Gets Jury Verdict
 The jury in the case of McMahon vs. the Canadian Pacific railway company returned a verdict at 9:30 Wednesday night after four and one half hours deliberation. They decided that the plaintiff should receive $240 of the $411 sued for.

Marion County Probate.
 I. C. Needham has filed his final account of the estate of Nelson R. Doty, deceased. It shows the total cash received to be $567 85 and the disbursements to be $535.85. The matter of the disposition of the property of the estate among the several heirs is also set forth and a day for hearing asked to be named.

In the contested estate of C. M. Friedrich, deceased, now pending in the Marion county court another action has been taken. The contest is set forth in a suit entitled John Rieger, petitioner and plaintiff versus D. F. Lane, administrator and defendant. The papers show that the death of said Emanuel Friedrich occurred in Marion county, but his home for 20 years previous and at the time of his death was in Portland. After his death the undertaker assuming charge of the funeral recommended the county Coroner, D. F. Lane, for administrator of the estate. The estate also was probated in Multnomah county and C. V. Winstinger, the German consul, was appointed administrator. Each

Now Graces a Bough
 Saturday evening Tim Townsend was arrested in Pendleton on the charge of horse stealing in Grant county. The same night Constable Hunsucker arrived from Monument and this morning left for the scene of the crime with the prisoner. A dispatch states that the people who have suffered from his depredations have taken the law into their own hands and that Townsend now graces the bough of a scrub oak in Gilliam county.

Townsend is accused of the theft of a horse from the range of Grant county and this is the second arrest which has been made during the past 10 days as a result of the work of the stockmen, who have banded themselves together with the determination to break up the "rustling" that they think has been going on in Grant and Gilliam counties for several months. The first arrest was Tom Kane and was made here ten days ago. He was taken to Gilliam county on the charge of selling a horse that did not belong to him, and also for the taking of one horse which was sold in La Grande, and it is said that he disposed of several head that have been recognized as stolen property. He came here a week ago and had been on a drunk most of the time since until his arrest. His plea is the same as Kane's, that he sold the horse for someone else.

Townsend has a record which has been very checkered. He served one term in the penitentiary from this county for horsestealing and was tried and acquitted by a jury in the district court of this county in 1899 for the murder of William Hale, at Dale, near the Grant county line.—Pendleton E. O.

AN OIL BOOM IS ON
 Malheur Strikes Cause Excitement.

There was a gathering of oil men in Baker City yesterday at which it was decided to commence development operations in the Malheur district on a large scale in the near future, says the Democrat of Tuesday last. Details are being arranged for securing an up-to-date boring outfit and capital is not wanting for the prosecution of the work.

The enthusiasm of the local investors is reaching an intense point and visions of prosperity are daily growing brighter. Hard-set-as business men, who at first looked askance at the proposition of finding oil so near home, realize now that it was no dream on the part of the few who began operations about a year ago.

The striking of oil of a high grade, paraffine base, on the Idaho side of the Snake river, in the upper corner of the Malheur basin, has started the wheels turning in a hundred different directions. From present prospects Baker City will not be able to hold the people who will pour in here before next fall.

"SHE BURNS GREEN."
 The Discovery of Borax in Death Valley by Aaron Winters.

The greatest discovery of borax in the United States was made in the terrible hot region known as Death valley and in a most romantic way. The Chicago Record tells the story.

In 1880 Aaron Winters lived with his wife Rosie, in a gulch known as Ash Meadows, not far from the mouth of Death valley. He was so fond of his wife that he would not allow her to be long absent from him, although their little hut on the side of the mountain was a hundred miles from the nearest neighbor, in a wild, rugged forsaken country.

One day a desert tramp came along and spent the night at the Winters home. He told the hunter about the borax deposits of Nevada. When he had seen deposits of the same kind on his explanations into death valley.

Accordingly he and his wife went together to make the search, having previously provided themselves with certain test chemicals, which when combined with borax and ignited would produce a green flame.

Having procured a piece of the substance which he believed to be borax, Winters and his wife waited for night, full to make the test. How would it burn?

For years they had lived like Pharoah on the desert, entirely without luxuries and often wanting for the very necessities of life. Would the match change all that?

Winters held the blaze to the substance with a trembling hand, then shouted at the top of his voice: "She burns green, Rosie! We're rich! We're rich!"

They had found borax. The mine was sold for $20,000, and Winters took his Rosie to a ranch in Nevada.
