

Fidgety

people are lacking in nervous strength. The weak, care-worn, melancholy, headachy, and low-spirited men and women are easily excited, impatient, fidgety, and unable to sleep at night. Worn-out nerves must be built up, and the vitality of the whole system replenished before relief can come.

"The least bit of noise or sudden jar would nearly drive me crazy, and I was just too fidgety for anything. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine brought me sleep, and after that I got well fast."
Mrs. A. R. Stewart, Arcola, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

builds up the nerves, strengthens the brain, and fortifies and refreshes the whole system.

SALEM SOCIAL WORLD

PERSONAL MENTION

"A Young Wife"

The story of a husband and wife each devotedly trying to shield the other from the consequences of a crime of which neither is guilty is certainly an original and clever theme. It is around this idea that the story of "A Young Wife" is woven—a story of thrilling interest. It deals with a sensational murder and robbery, and the gradual hunting down of the real criminal, who, to save his own neck, tries to fasten the crime upon his adopted brother, but who is finally brought to bay by a woman's wit. The second act is laid in an underground den on the Bowery depicting to the life workings of card sharper and "bunco steers." The remaining scenes represent the home of a wealthy New Yorker, thus showing two sharply contrasting pictures of city life. The play abounds in comedy, the role of Horace Greenacre Dobbins (call me Hod) being one of the strongest comedy parts ever written. All the parts are unusually strong and in the hands of the Shirley Company who will put this on next Monday evening, February 21, in an elaborate style, carrying special scenery for the "den" scene in the second act. The play abounds in comedy and sentiment, and at present is being played with great success in San Francisco. Specialities will be introduced between the acts, thus satisfying the most skeptic theater-goers.

FRIED ONIONS

Indirectly Caused the Death of the World's Greatest General

It is a matter of history that Napoleon was a gourmand, an inordinate lover of the good things of the table, and history further records that his favorite dish was fried onions; his death from cancer of stomach it is claimed also, was probably caused from his excessive indulgence of this fondness for the odorous vegetable.

NEW DRUG ESTABLISHMENT

To be Opened at 333 Commercial Street Saturday.

Mr. Carlton C. Comfort, who has for the past year been head drug clerk at the store of D. J. Fry, will open on Saturday morning a new drug business at 333 Commercial street, the room formerly occupied by Dr. Stone in the Cottle block. Mr. Comfort is an enterprising young man who has had about seven years practical experience in the drug business. He started at Bristol, Pa., and later served in Philadelphia, besides having held a responsible position with H. B. Sides, at Downingtown, Pa. He opens here under authority of the State Board of Pharmacy, and has the best of a record. He will do a strictly cash business, and make correspondingly close prices. The people of Salem and surrounding country are invited to visit the new store and get acquainted.

Their Claims Set at Rest.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlahan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon had relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Stores.
