Spring Sewing

This is the time of year when wise women are planning to get most of their spring sewing off their hands. We have sewing machines, new ones, from the Eastern "bargain counter," machines at $17.50 up to the very highest quality Standard and White machines.

We have first-class guaranteed machines at $25 -- and sell lots of them. They are made of first-class material by a first-class company, and are the best at $25 machine that is sold in this country. Best, because they are more up-to-date, and because the material is second to none.

But for quality—real, genuine quality—when you want the best, you get up to the standard of the White, and you stop. These in the Rotary Machines mark the perfection of the art of machine building. They run faster, easier, make less noise, hold more thread than any other sort. Come and see for yourself. We have a pleasant sewing machine department, where ladies may look over the stock undisturbed.

There are quite a lot of second-hand machines, too, good bargains, from $5 up. Some at $10, that are really splendid. High arm White, Domestic and New Home, at that figure; all overhauled and ready to sew.

Some old crocks that are worth nothing but for the stand $1.

Mr. Burley has returned from Portland after some weeks absence, and will do repairing at our place. Bring in your old machines.

Needles, oil and parts for all machines. Best needles, 25c a dozen.

PRESIDENT COLEMAN ARRIVES

To Take Presidency of Willamette

Gets a Hearty Welcome and Makes His Bow at Salem

Searchlight Turned on Him and Makes a Favorable Impression.

When President Coleman alighted from the 5:40 overland train the station was in darkness and he was greeted only by Gen. W. H. Odell, chairman of the board of trustees. A strong search light was then thrown on these two figures and the students gave the college yell:

"Rah! Rah! Rah!!!
Zip! boom!! bah!!!
Old Willamette,
Ha! Ha! Ha!!!"

The light was then thrown upon the students, whom Mr. Coleman thanked for the display of lung power and the hearty reception tendered him.

The chapel bell of the old college rang the signal of his arrival as if the building were on fire.

Dr. Coleman was escorted to the residence of the vice-president, W. C. Hawley. The student body then assembled in the chapel and by unanimous voice extended greetings to President Coleman, and assured him of their hearty support and co-operation. They expressed to the outgoing president and the faculty their appreciation of the sacrifice and endeavors they have made for the school and pledged themselves to do their share in the upbuilding of the school.

The address was read at the chapel services, where an enthusiastic meeting was held, and Dr. Coleman was formally welcomed by the trustees, faculty, students and many citizens of Salem. All felt that the advent of the new president marked the opening of a new, and prosperous era for this pioneer educational institution of the Northwest. Brief talks were made by various members of the faculty and then the new head of the institution was called upon to speak.

He began by saying that if he did not succeed in building up Willamette University it would not be because he had not received a proper welcome. He said: "The greatest thing about the West is THE CONFIDENCE THE PEOPLE HAVE IN THE FUTURE OF THEIR COUNTRY; for the earnestness and enthusiasm shown by the friends of Willamette university, I see that the greatest thing about it is their confidence in its future. It has been said that people receive pay for their work on earth, but their reward in heaven; from what I have heard of Willamette, however, I guess that the faculty may have to wait until they reach heaven for both their pay and their reward. The trustees of the university tell me that the debt is soon to be lifted from Willamette."

College yells and songs were then indulged in by the students who were given a half holiday in honor of the arrival of the new president.

President Coleman at once favorably impressed all present. In appearance he is genial and pleasant. Yet more noticeable is his air of sternness combined with a firm expression which is habitual. He is a medium sized man, rather past the middle age, his hair being quite gray. He is dignified and particularly attractive in manner and has already made friends here who will support him in his work.

PROMINENT CITIZEN CONVICTED

Of Assault With a Dangerous Weapon.

W. R. Smith, of Silverton, is guilty of assaulting C. M. Hinkle with intent to kill, is the substance of the finding of the jury in that case Thursday night. This was Smith's second trial at this term of court. The first jury were discharged, as they were unable to reach a decision. They hung from 11:50 a. m. until 7 a. m., and received counsel several times from the judge. The last venire of jurors reached a conclusion in the case in but an hour. It was composed of Eugene Manning, Scott Jones, A. W. Howell, G. W. Staples, M. T. Miller, A. G. Perkins, Sam Ramp, John D. Smith, W. A. Mumper, Thomas Harrison, John Witcheen and J. H. Crawford.

Sentence was to be pronounced Monday at 9 o'clock. The penalty for this offense is from one to ten years' imprisonment.

Mr. Smith has resided in Oregon for 34 years, nearly all his life. He was once before convicted of cattle stealing and sentenced to the state prison, but pardoned before reaching there. His experiences have been of a varied nature, he having been shot several times. He has made a large amount of money in the logging business principally, although he has had many other occupations. The greater part of this money has been swallowed up in repeated suits in the various courts, until he now has but a comfortable maintenance. He has a large number of relatives in this county and the family possesses many friends.

Later—Smith waived time, was sentenced to two years in prison, and began to serve time today.

HUMPHREY SENTENCE TWO YEARS

Lawyers Show Grounds For an Appeal.

Case Will be Carried Up on Technical Grounds.

A. M. Humphreys was sentenced to two years imprisonment at the penitentiary.

This is the result of the case brought against him by the state for larceny by bailee, committed by selling and converting to his own use the grain of E. T. Hall.

Messrs. Hayden, Richardson and Holmes presented motions to the court that a new trial be granted and that judgment be arrested. The grounds for a new trial were based upon various alleged errors of the court in the trial of the case, instructing the jury and receiving the jury's verdict in the absence of either counsel for the defendant.

Grounds for the arrest of judgment were that the evidence did not constitute sufficient proof to justify the verdict, and that the facts stated in the indictment did not constitute a crime.

These motions were argued and overruled and the sentence pronounced, after which the attorneys gave notice that they would appeal the case.

Humphrey was released on $750 bonds to await whatever action is taken by the supreme court.

His bondsmen are his father, W. J. Humphrey, J. B. Ashby and John McCrow.

Mr. Humphrey will go to Portland this afternoon to resume his work there.

MARION COUNTY DEMOCRATS

Central Committee Meets at Salem Saturday to Plan Campaign.

The Marion County Democratic Central Committee will meet in this city Saturday, in answer to the call issued by County Chairman W. S. Mott. The following is a complete text of the letter sent out by Chairman Mott several days ago to each member of the County Central Committee:

"Once more it becomes my duty to call the members of our County Central Committee together to discuss ways, means and plans for the approaching campaign. We have designated Saturday, February 22, 1902, at 1 o'clock p. m., as the date, in the Holman Hall, corner of State and Liberty streets.

"The day, it seems to me, is especially appropriate at this time, inasmuch as we are now more than ever called upon to defend the constitution and declaration of those fundamental principles promulgated by the father of his country at the birth of our Republic. Let us buckle on the armor in defense of those principles inaugurated by our forefathers, and enunciated in the Declaration of our independence, and oppose all digressions therefrom as advocated by the party of trusts, subjugation and imperialism."

The Secretary of the Central Committee, Mr. O. West, having removed from Marion county, the work of carrying on correspondence, bringing the members of the committee together, and the details concerning thorough and complete organization falls entirely upon Chairman Mott until a successor to Mr. West can be appointed. He has, however, pulled off his coat and set to work in dead earnest, as though he considered himself equal to any and all emergencies, and with an enthusiasm which indicates that there is still a good deal of life in Marion County Democracy.

A talk with leading Democrats of this city convinces one that the question of fusion will not even be brought forward in the county convention, or out of it, for that matter. It is the idea to effect through organization, and put up a ticket composed of men who have records for honesty and integrity—men whose public or private lives will need no apology. Democrats generally are favorable to the nomination on the county and state ticket, of good men who have heretofore been identified with the Populist or Silver Republican factions, as both of these organizations have always been considered as closely allied with the Democracy. But there will be only one head to the ticket, and that head will be "Democratic," as it is stated that the three-headed ticket of the past has led to confusion and demoralization, and proved a source of annoyance all around. The platform adopted for the coming campaign will be as broad and far-reaching as is possible to make it, and owing to the factional strife among the Republicans, many Democrats feel quite confident of landing some of their candidates in good places when the election comes off in June.

UNCLE FRANCIS FELLER

He Sends Great News for the Grower.

The Durst Pool Will Net Ten to Twelve Cents.

Francis Feller, who accompanied the Durst pool of hops to London as representative of the growers writes that he is going to get more for the growers than was promised them, 10 to 12 cents above all expenses.

DAVOS, Ore., Feb. 21.—There is reported here the sale to B. O. Schucking, of Portland, of two lots of 1901 hops, at 15 cents per pound.

Mr. Feller's Letter.

LONDON, Feb. 5, 1902.—EDITOR JOURNAL.—To all whom this will concern, and that is the hop producers of the state of Oregon, I take notice from clippings sent me from Oregon, that the hop market here is very strong and that the dealers finally admit that there is a shortage of hops, say from 30,000 to 40,000 bales. They knew that last October, when they offered the grower from 4 to 9 cents per lb. of cost of production. The prices of hops were held until the gentlemen from California M. H. Durst, representing a family of large hop producers, who made the Oregon hop growers a proposition to form a pool of 3000 bales and that there is a shortage of hops, 9 cents per lb. without recourse, and ship to England and go with the grower and do better for the grower than the price offered them by the dealer. The buyers snuffed at the proposition and said that 9 cents would be all the grower would get.

Immediately after the pool was formed the hops advanced, so the growers who were not in the pool got better prices than those who were in the pool. I am glad to inform the growers in the pool that their hope will bring considerably more money than they were offered before the pool was formed. I sincerely hope that they will continue their good work and keep out of the clutches of shorts, who sell or contract their crops before the frost is out of the soil, regardless of good or bad crops or market prospects. I am very sorry to hear that a large number of growers still continue contracting their crops for but a very little above the cost of production and thus allow the dealers large profits on their labor and investments. I am pleased to inform the members of the pool that we proceed nicely in disposing of the hops, and will realize for the growers FROM 10 TO 12 CENTS PER LB NET WHICH ARE GOOD PRICES considering the large crop grown here in England last season. I really believe that there are good prospects for fair prices for the coming crop, but am very sorry to see the growers contract their crop at low prices which will fix the prices for their crops and their neighbors.
