Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on

WINE OF CARDUI

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for seventy-five years. No more convincing proof can be given than the testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardui has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—that trouble which robs mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Vandervoort, Ark., April 2, 1900.

Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your Almanac and my husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I am cured after taking three bottles and have another to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.

The Dalles Times, Mountaineer on the recent Republican primaries:

It was asserted on the streets Saturday that men (or rather creatures) hold themselves in blocks of from five to twenty ready to be hired to go to the primaries and vote for the delegates of the man who would give them the most money. The statement came from such reliable sources that it is difficult to deny.

* * *

Medford Enquirer Democrat: The Capital Journal is growing hysterical because the country press does not fall over each other in an attempt to follow the lead of The Journal in its "reform" movement. The fact of the matter is, Colonel, while you are an excellent leader you want to cross too many streams before you get to them.

Oregon City Courier-Herald: The fact that the ill fed, ill-clothed, badly housed part of a nation's population drinks the most alcoholic beverages should convince temperance agitators that their efforts must be useless as long as the manufacture of paupers continues at its present pace; our civilization must improve before alcoholism will cease.

The President may land Prince Henry to the skies as having won the hearts of the people, but as a matter of fact he hasn't won many hearts outside of those who have been eating with him at $100 a plate, in fact few others have had the opportunity to get very near to his heart.

Astoria News, Anti-Simon: Mr. John H. Burgard, special agent and adjuster for several insurance companies in Portland, arrived down last night and will be in the city a few days. Mr. Burgard is a former democratic politician of keen observation. He says that Joe Simon will carry the republican primaries in Portland on March 15. "Why do you say that?" was asked. "Because Joe is organized as usual," he replied. "The other side are not organized at all." Mr. Burgard seemed to think but little of the organization at A. O. U. W. hall a few days ago, where Carey was directed to appoint committees in every precinct to get out the anti-Simon voters. "Will the democrats help Joe in his primaries?" asked the reporter. "Oh, there are no democrats there," he said, "They are only Simon democrats and Mitchell democrats." Burgard was a gold democrat.

POLITICAL WHIRL

Things Politically in all Parts of the State.

Considerable has been said in the state press during the past few months relative to the possible gubernatorial candidacy of Hon. H W. Corbett, remarks the Salem Sentinel. Even the Simon-Geer papers have looked upon it with favor. No denial has ever been made by Mr. Corbett or any of his friends that such a thing was among the probabilities. As convention time approaches more and more is being said on this subject and in Portland the conclusion seems to be that Mr. Corbett would not be adverse to the nomination.

J. R. Whitney, of Albany, is a prominent candidate for state printer, W. S. Dunniway, of Portland, will also be in the race. W. J. Clarke, of Gervais, is in the fight, as is also E. L. Porter, of Oregon City, and there is Edward Everett Young of Baker City, last but not least.

The Democratic central committee for Marion county has fixed the date for the primaries for Saturday, April 5th.

An interesting contest is being waged over the nomination for the office of governor of Oregon. The position is worth going for, not for the money there is in it legitimately—and no man who is a candidate would use the office to gain a dollar by any dishonest or doubtful indirection—but for the honor, the prestige, it gives a man in his state. It is a "proud position," and is becoming more and more so.—Telegram.

There is an opinion that Sylvester Pennoyer will be the Democratic candidate for Supreme Judge. This would be what is sometimes called a political chestnut.

The How of Improvement Work.

Thousands of people are anxious to take up improvement work, but do not know exactly how to proceed. This fifty-two page hand-book is intended to supply the information which will enable such persons to perform effective service in the promotion of civic beauty. It tells how to arouse and how to maintain interest in improvement work, how to secure the co-operation of the press, how to organize an improvement association, and suggests a number of lines of work which may be prosecuted to advantage by any active improvement society. There are forms of constitutions and by-laws, and other valuable matter of a like character. A special article tells why commercial clubs and boards of trade should become interested in the movement for public beauty, and how they can assist in its extension. The list of objects promoted by improvement associations and similar organizations stimulates to action and suggests varied interests to be taken up. The "Bibliography of Village Improvement and Kindred Topics" is invaluable as a guide for study and reference work.

Copies of either will be mailed, prepaid, for 15 cents each, two copies for 25 cents, five copies for 50 cents, one dozen copies for $1.00, one hundred copies for $5.00. These can be sent to one or separate addresses as desired. It should be borne in mind that these pamphlets are attractively illustrated in magazine form, and well worth the price asked. These issues are splendid campaign documents, and should be used liberally by all associations. By their use the most conservative community may be surely stirred to action.

KILLED FOR HIS MONEY

A Mysterious Murder in Idaho.

Boise, Idaho, March 7.—Boise has another murder mystery. This morning Robert Green notified the officials that something was wrong about the cabin of A. K. Anderson, situated about four miles south of Boise, near the New York canal. Green has been plowing near by and had left an axe for Anderson sticking in the chopping block yesterday. The axe being still there this morning he suspected something wrong and notified Sheriff Daly.

Sheriff Daly and Coroner Lee proceeded to the cabin this morning and found it locked. They broke in the door and discovered the body of Anderson stretched on his bed in his shirt and drawers. There were no evidences of a struggle, but lying across the breast was a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver with two chambers empty.

Anderson's head presented a ghastly appearance. He had been shot at least three times through the brain. From a wound almost in the center of the forehead brains were protruding and also from another wound in the right side of the head. There is also another bullet wound over the left eye from which the brains are oozing and one in the left temple which may have been caused by the bullet passing clear through the head.

Any one of these shots would prove fatal and the theory of suicide is therefore doubtful, as no one could inflict a series of mortal wounds like those revealed upon Anerson's head.

Anderson was a large and powerful man weighing probably 180 pounds. He was a Scandinavian and had been in the employ of the New York Canal company as a ditch walker for the past two years, although lately he has been working on his own ranch.

Mr. Annett says that Anderson was a most sober and industrious man and that he undoubtedly had between $600 and $700 in his cabin at the time of his death, as he very seldom trusted his money to the banks. Mr. Annett gave him a certificate from the New York Canal Company for $90 on February 22, and Anderson bought seed oats from O. W. Smith, cashing the certificate the following Monday.

The body was brought to McGuire's this afternoon and Coroner Lee summoned the following jury:

Will F. Lock, T. W. Randall, M. H. Sebern, C. C. Siggins, Robert Woden, and S. Ely.

The body presents every indication of murder. No man could have skin himself in this manner. He was probably killed several days ago and there are no evidences of powder burns on the face or hair, which would have been certain had it been a case of suicide. The nature of the wounds prove conclusively that suicide had not been attempted, but the disposition of the weapon across the dead man's breast shows that this theory was attempted to be conveyed.

In a paint can containing a little water, Sheriff Daly found a tobacco pouch and it were two $20 gold pieces; one $10 gold pieces; two silver dollars and a nickel.

Anderson is believed to have a wife and family in Minneapolis, although this is not certain. He was about 45 years of age. He was last seen alive last Saturday.

I Can do all My Own Work

"I feel it my duty to tell you what your medicines did for me," writes Mrs. Blanche Marshall, of Whiting, Jackson Co., Kansas, Box 139. "I was severely afflicted with kidney trouble and female weakness. In less than three months the trouble became so bad I could hardly walk around the house. I suffered almost everything. Seeing your advertisement in our paper concluded to write Dr. Pierce. After receiving your kind advice I immediately began taking your medicine. After taking two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' alternately with two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and using one box of 'Lotion Tablets' I am entirely cured. I can do all my own work without any trouble. I take great pleasure in recommending Doctor Pierce's medicines to all suffering women."

A Kansas "Grafter"

"Speaking of grafts and grafters," said a Topeka man to a Washington interviewer the other day, "I knew a man out in my State who had your man beat to death. This fellow advertised a sure potato bug exterminator. He inserted the advertisement in all the farm and country magazines and journals, offering to send his exterminator for $1. He received dollars by the thousands. What he sent them was a little package containing two small square blocks of wood, marked 'No. 1 and 'No. 2.' The printed directions that went with the blocks read something like this 'Hold block No. 1 in the fingers of the left hand, the smooth surface up. Place the potato bug upon the smooth surface. Grasp block No. 2 firmly between the index finger and the thumb of the right hand, and bring it down sharply on the back of the bug. This device has never failed to exterminate the bug.' Of course, it wasn't long until the post office people were riding his neck. If I'm not mistaken, he got ten years."
