BECHTEL'S DOUBLE FLOWERING AMERICAN CRAB

A medium-sized, hardy, ornamental tree of great beauty. When in bloom this tree presents the appearance of being covered with roses scenting the atmosphere for a long distance with their perfume equal to that of any rose. Unlike many other trees it does not bloom until the leaves are fully developed, which adds greatly to its beauty.

SALEM GIRLS ARE CHARMING

In the Eyes of Woovers From All Directions.

Youth from a Valley Town Causes Chronic Insomnia.

The young ladies of the Capital city are undoubtedly the most popular in the state, as is evidenced by the recent marriages of Salem girls to Eastern men and men from various parts of the West. Any one acquainted with the young ladies here can easily account for this fact, as nowhere are there to be found a more beautiful or intelligent class of young people.

Another reason which makes them greatly in demand is the fact that they are not easily won.

No class of young men in the state are so completely infatuated with the charms of Salem girls as the swains who hail from up the valley. A young attorney from up the river, who is quite enamored of one of the fairest daughters of this city, has almost abandoned his law practice in the pursuit, and it has apparently rendered him the more persistent. He is determined to win and makes frequent trips to Salem, and often remains several days at a time, "attending court." The location of the State Library is a good excuse for that. Each evening he calls on the lady whom he ardently admires, and because the time so agreeably passed, his departure was seldom earlier than midnight and often later. Anyone can keep late hours for a while and not notice the loss of sleep, but when the affair becomes habitual or chronic, even the strongest must suffer therefor, and so with the valley attorney's friend. She is now seriously ill as the result of losing so much sleep, and the physicians declare her recovery a matter of time—to regain the sleep lost.

This man seems sleepless when he is aroused into action on certain lines.

A LESSON IN ARITHMETIC.

You can buy a Stove made of poor material, hastily put together by incompetent workmen, for very little money. It will NEVER give satisfaction, and will only last a few years, with careful use.

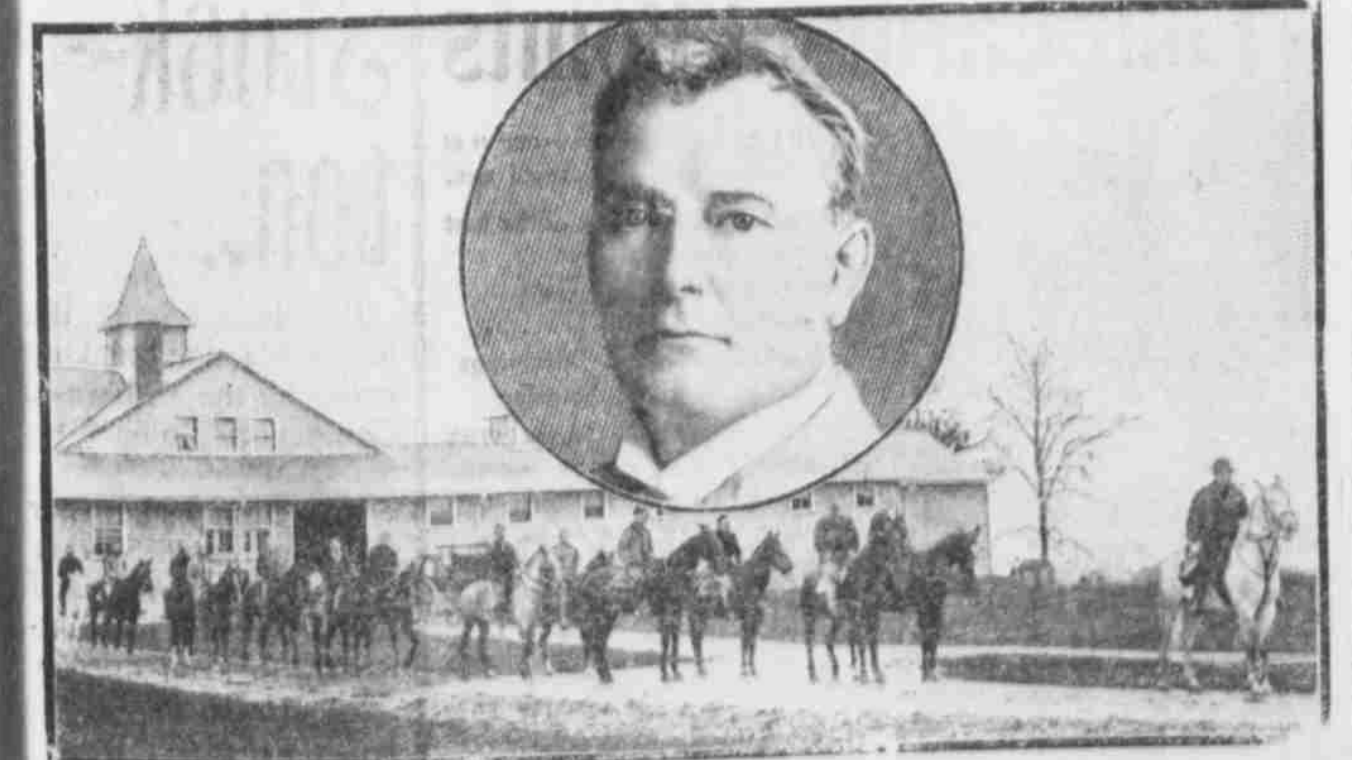

You can buy a Charter Oak Stove or Range, made of the best material, by the most skilled workmen, for a reasonable amount of money. It will ALWAYS give satisfaction and will outlast a half-dozen of the "cheap" kind. It also effects a saving in fuel.

All styles of Charter Oak stoves, fittings and repairs. Our furniture department faces on Chemeketa street. Our mattress department is on the second floor. Our second-hand department is the largest in the city.
