EDITORIAL

HIS LAST WORDS WERE SOUND.

Whatever people may say as to former political sentiments of ex-Governor John P. Altgeld, of Illinois, his last words were for human liberty, his last appointment to speak on earth was at a pro-Boer meeting.

The conservative party of England is making no headway in pacifying South Africa. There can be no doubt that the affairs of Great Britain are in bad hands. They are in hands satisfied with bad work.

England cannot be charged as a fiction with intentional malignity, meanness and cowardice. She has at times been wrong, and very wrong, but she has at other times been greatly and grandly right.

She made a glorious fight for the independence of smaller nations and human freedom when she cast herself into the breach against Napoleon's continental ambitions, and even our country was on the side of the conqueror.

England led the world unselfishly in her struggle for the emancipation of slaves. It cost her a hundred million dollars and loss of great wealth in the West Indies.

But England in her present struggle plays a losing and demoralizing game for the heart of the world will turn against her and will throbb for the struggling republics of South Africa while one burgher lives to bid defiance to British power.

Altgeld's latest utterances stamp him a moral hero with the courage of his convictions, dying with a blessing for the men under Botha and Delarey, the continental heroes of darkest Africa, Washingtons of today.

PLANT PLENTY OF FLOWERS.

These coming spring days ought to give readers of this paper the spring fever—the fever to plant flowers and shrubs and beautify their premises, make home sweeter and dearer, and gladden the hearts of all.

A beautiful addition to any home is a bed of lilies. There are still bulbs to be had of the retail dealers and nurserymen at home, but the many lilies advertised in Eastern catalogues can be had for two months.

Arrange your bed where it gets plenty of sun, and is free from tree roots. Make it rich with manure and rotted refuse from the woodyard and ash heap. Plant the bulbs when the soil will crumble.

Lilies are from all lands under the sun—none more beautiful than the native lilies of Oregon, that can be gathered in the woods and fields, with the earth and roots, and added to the bed.

Plant roses. No flower grows so perfect as the rose in Oregon. No where can such variety and delicate and rare roses be grown in the open air here.

From one to five dollars invested in flowers that yield annually their gifts of bloom should be made by every home-lover. If you have ten dollars to spend on dress put five dollars into the home grounds.

CARRYING FACTIONAL FIGHTS TOO FAR.

The political situation in Oregon is deplorable, in that the chances for securing reductions in the expenses of government are minimized, when only factional interests are considered.

The people lined up at the tax counter in the court house are more interested in material practical improvements in their state government than they are in who hold the office.

Progress must come from agitation, and even from accusations, but factional considerations cost the people half a million in the legislature when there is no other check upon the politicians.

Too many new laws, too many new institutions, too many new burdens, will drive the people of this country to adopt the referendum, and even to Socialism, unless better policies can be brought to bear.

Hoo, W. J. Furnish is not any politician—he is only an organizer.

Prince Henry has seen the Chicago stock yards and Niagara Falls, and now he can go home.

The two factions of the Republican party seems to be about all there is left of Oregon politics.

The Evening Journal is a growing concern. It is being published simultaneously in Portland and Salem.

With all the inequities of the high protective tariff, it seems to be opening the markets of the world to us.

Prince Henry is already used to advertise patent medicine and cigarettes. As he smokes them, he cannot object.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Of the Greater Salem Club

Held Wednesday in the City Hall.

United Energetic Action its Keynote.

The Greater Salem Commercial Club held an important session Wednesday at four o'clock. In spite of this being a busy hour, there was a large attendance of Salem's most active and enterprising business men. A number of local enterprises were up for action and discussion.

Prominent matters before the organization were the flax fiber industry, the establishment of Improvement Leagues.

Secretary N. J. Judah read the minutes of the last meeting, and minutes of the executive committee, which had held several meetings during the past week.

A regular order of business for each meeting was presented by the secretary and adopted.

Otto Hansen reported from the Bureau on Manufacturers that if Mr. Eugene Bosse would indicate what he wanted, they stood ready to act and furnish the power.

The gentleman was present, and said he was now proud to call himself a citizen of Oregon. Coming down to the matter in hand, Mr. Bosse said he would need a five-horse electric power for about two weeks to thresh the flax now on hand, and a ten-horse power about May 15th, to scutch the straw he had bought of the Oregon Woman's Flax Fibre Association. He had ordered the seed for 200 acres of flax, some seed from Riga, Russia, by cable, and had shipped some from Green Bay, Wis., and bought some from Scio.

He had 1,500 acres of land offered him, and would next week select such land as was best fitted to grow the crop.

Mr. Bosse said part of his machinery had arrived, and other new machinery for scutching had been ordered from Belgium, and when it had arrived he would have the most improved and up-to-date plant of the kind in the United States.

President Thielson named a committee on finance, to put in the power of Mr. Bosse: Geo. W. Johnson, Paul P. Broad, Geo. P. Rodgers, M. L. Meyers, F. J. Wilson. They are to raise the funds to furnish a motor and put water in the ditch for the water power.

A communication from the Alco Club, of Linn county, asked the cooperation of the Salem Push Club in securing a good wagon road from Detroit to Prineville. The county courts of both counties are to be prevailed upon to make a survey in the early spring, and immediately upon the completion, the work is to be pushed to a finish, as being of general benefit to the country. The project received an enthusiastic reception, and will doubtless be pushed to a successful issue.

After emphasizing the fact that many new clubs had been instituted in Willamette valley towns, President Thielson earnestly advocated working in common as much as possible. The idea was well received, and the executive committee requested to bring about the result if possible.

Mr. Stolz advocated the extension

HACKING.

That word hacking is expressive to those who have experienced the aggravating constant cough, which is called a hacking cough. Sometimes it is the result of a cold, or of grip, and sometimes it is a consequence of catarrh, which unchecked has gradually involved the lungs in disease. Such a cough finds its cure in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which cures chronic coughs, lung disease, hemorrhage, and conditions which, if neglected or unsatisfactorily treated, lead to consumption.

For twelve years I was a sufferer from catarrh and was treated by one of the best physicians in the State of North Carolina, who said the trouble had reached my lungs. I was told to buy Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I will say further that my cough was cured, and today I am well and hearty, and I will say further that my doctor, Dr. Pierce's medicine, cured me and to others. I am sure your medicine will cure any case of catarrh that exists. I recommend them to all.

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send at one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. A. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

of the membership rolls of the club to 500 members, and the executive committee were requested to agree upon some plan to accomplish the desired end.

immigration. After recapitulating the facts of the present wave of immigration, President Thielson made a plea that the proper attention be given the new comers, in assisting them to obtain work, information, etc. The need of such action was generally recognized and arrangements made to supply it.

The matter of enabling immigrants to obtain situations was taken up on the initiative of Mr. Hansen and Secretary Judah agreed to obtain and operate a board at the city hall whereon farmers and manufacturers in want of men may have their wants displayed by telephoning them to the secretary.

It is proposed to make the secretary's office the active working headquarters of the Commercial Push Club in this matter, and every one in need of such assistance is requested to communicate his wants without delay.

Another matter taken up was the placing of a sign or signs for the information of recent arrivals. It was decided that this should be done at once at the depot, and such other conspicuous places as might be deemed necessary.

Sharing almost equally with Prince Henry the attention of the American public is a train of twelve refrigerator cars loaded with 2,000,000 eggs, which left yesterday on its Westward journey to San Francisco. Not San Francisco alone will watch the progress of this precious shipment; with eggs at 40 cents a dozen the entire nation will attend it with bated breath, and between cheers for Prince Henry, each man will whisper, "What is the latest from the eggs?"

A Story About Eggs

Bulletins will be posted reflecting the hourly progress of the train. No treasure ship of ancient days, no golden galleon of old Spain laden with doubloons and pieces-of-eight, ever carried so many individual hopes and fears as does this train of cold-storage eggs. For the West is eggless, and will be a culinary desert until they arrive. And if they do not arrive? Awful thought! Suppose Black Bart or some bold brigand of the Hole-in-the-Wall gang should seize this opportunity to make themselves millionaires and hold up the train. What a wild chase would ensue after the egg thieves. The bandits, being closely pursued, would strew the country with them for miles, and, if at last they were brought to bay, they would defend themselves by hurling dozens of the costly edibles upon their pursuers. Suppose the train should be ditched? What a dish of scrambled eggs! Two million in one large, glutinous lake! The rivers would flow eggs for weeks, and boarding house proprietors would build jetties to deflect the stream into the kitchens. Such a blow would well nigh annihilate the egg trust. Two million eggs will bring joy to one million lives, counting one egg to a life and the usual ratio of bad ones. Besides this, there are pecuniary considerations. At the prevailing price 2,000,000 eggs are worth $80,000.00, and in their handling they will bring money to the pockets of railroad officers and employers, wholesale and retail dealers, clerks, buyers, shippers, the trust and the farmers. Everyone gets something tangible out of the transaction, but the hen, and she gets the glory. She may well cockle over her achievements.

Reclamation of Arid Tracts. Mr. Mondell, of Wyoming, to Draw Favorable Report on Pending Bill.

Washington Post, D. C., Mar. 4th. The House Committee on Irrigation of Arid Lands yesterday ordered a favorable report on the bill drafted by Senators and Representatives of the Western states, with an amendment giving each state and territory the major portion of the irrigation fund derived from its public land sales. The bill has been before the committee for some weeks, and has undergone minor changes, the amendment added yesterday being the first of real importance.

As originally framed the bill created a general fund from proceeds from the sale of public lands in the arid land states, the secretary of the interior being given authority to expend this amount in the reclamation of the arid tracts. Chairman Tongue, of the committee, has maintained that this gives a discretion, and that each state should retain the bulk of its own public land sales. It was his amendment which prevailed yesterday, all the members present voting for it except Mr. Newlands of Nevada, one of the original framers of the bill. The report will be drafted by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, and will be urged by its friends to early consideration in the House.
