MARION COUNTY EXPERTING
The Work May now Soon be Resumed

Have Finished Two Counties Since They Began Here.

County Judge Scott expects that Messrs. Clark and Buchanan, the expert accountants employed by Marion county, will arrive in Salem by next Monday, March 24th, and complete their work here.

Speaking to a Journal reporter of the absence of these gentlemen, he said they had completed the examination of records in Clatsop county since leaving Salem, and will, by the end of this week, finish their work at Enterprise, Wallowa county. Judge Scott says:

"The order of the commissioners' court fixing the date of their entering County Clerk Hall's office was not a contract with Clark and Buchanan. It was merely an order for Mr. Hall to be ready for them to begin work in his office on March 5th.

"If the men had been in Salem and ready to go to work on March 5th, and Mr. Hall had not been ready for them to begin, would they have gone to work anyway?" was asked.

"Yes, because the court ordered Mr. Hall to open his office to them on that date."

"Then the county clerk would have to obey the court's order, and not the experts?"

"Yes. The way the matter was, the men were at work at Enterprise, and could finish in a few days, so I considered it better to let the matter rest as it was, than to compel them to be here on March 5th, and complete their work before going back there. There would be only a few days' work more there for them, and the expense would be more than the work would warrant."

Providing they reach Salem by next Monday, the work should be completed before the end of April, and the entire report of their findings will be made to the county court.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE WITH NITRO-GLYCERINE

Attempt to Explode a Bomb Under a Building on Chemeketa St.

Headquarters of the New Gold Discovery Threatened With Destruction from a Bomb.

This morning, at 8 o'clock, when D. B. Irvin went out to the woodshed back of his shoe store, on Chemeketa street, he stepped right over a nitro-glycerine bomb, that had been laid upon the threshold of the rear door of the building.

The bomb was made of a piece of gas pipe, about eight inches long, with a steel plug in one end, a wooden plug in the other, and primed with a fuse about 18 inches long, that had been set on fire, and had failed to cause an explosion.

The bomb smelled strongly of nitro-glycerine, and had evidently been put there and fired for the purpose of destroying the building. It had enough of the explosive to have wrecked buildings for 100 feet around. He was completely unnerved, and was still weak all over when a Journal reporter called to see the infernal machine.

The two blacksmiths next door, Wedemer and Rigelman, were called to see it before it was removed. Chief of Police Gibson was sent for, and all agreed that the intention had been to wreck the building and contents. The bomb was then taken to Fry's drug store, and put to soak in water. Mr. Fry expressed the opinion that it was undoubtedly a hand-made explosive, as there was no nitro-glycerine in town. The smell of the acid used to make the compound was very plain, and he warned all not to handle the bomb, and it was put in a pan of water to soak, until some means of opening it could be found.

The Bomb is Genuine.
As this shoe store has been the headquarters of the Universal Gold Mining and Extracting Company, of this city, that expects to revolutionize the mining business, some thought it was a joke that had been played on the manager of that enterprise. A crowd of the projectors soon gathered, and all were unanimously of the opinion that it was a pretty serious joke, and yet not a soul present could think of any one to even suspect of harboring any ill will against their enterprise.

The Gold Extraction Company have a furnace and assaying rooms upstairs, that is quite a chemical laboratory in itself. All kinds of reports and ores are in various stages of decomposition, and going through trials, and it was the general opinion that this was the object aimed at by the fiends who placed the bomb, as the success of this experiment would render a great deal of the mining stock now on the market worthless.

Mr. Irwin Has No Enemies.
I cannot imagine who would do such a thing," said Mr. Irvin, "and I am satisfied it was the destruction of the assaying plant that was aimed at, and not me or my shoe store. All the experiments we have carried on have been successful, and have sent up the price of the stock. The final test experiment next week will surprise the world, revolutionize the money markets of the world, and destroy the value of gold as a money metal. Our enemies, if we have any, are those who fear these results."

Gold Stock Advancing.
The whole bomb story seems to be genuine, at least all the directors of the Universal believe it is, and will try to discover the perpetrator. They have a million dollars of stock on the market, and stock is advancing rapidly, and whatever the motive they look upon it as blow at their business.

MILES THREATENS TO RESIGN

Fears Roosevelt's and Root's Hostility.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Miles today told the Senate committee on military affairs that if the proposed general staff bill should become a law he could not see his way clear to continue to hold his commission.

He regarded the measure as contrary to the best interests of the military establishment, and one which he could not countenance by remaining lieutenant-general of the army. The portion of the bill to which he particularly objected was the provision that the senior general officer of the army shall be assigned to the command of such portion of the army as the president may direct, or be detailed to duty in the general staff corps. He said if this proposition became a law it would destroy the unity of the army. He asserted the bill would allow the secretary of war and the adjutant-general of the army to promote in the interest of their own personal favorites. He told the committee, with the bill a law, he could now name men who would hold places of honor provided under it, but he didn't give the committee any names.
