

MALARIA An Invisible Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same. These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Chills and fever, chronic dyspepsia, torpid and enlarged liver, kidney troubles, jaundice and biliousness are frequently due to that invisible foe, malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself. The germs and poisons that oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy. Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.

SALEM'S LIVE BUSINESS MEN.

A fact that is growing more and more apparent is that Salem's business men are a liberal set of men, when it comes to public enterprises, and they go down in their pockets for cash every time something of genuine merit is needed. Salem is rapidly growing in importance as a trade center, and our business men, instead of trying to simply reap the benefit of the tidal wave of prosperity, are glad to foster it by paying liberally for whatever is going to prove of real benefit to the town. This fact was again demonstrated last week when the committee raised the fund for the flax mill water power. They freely subscribed more than was asked, knowing that good use would be made of it, and they are always ready to do what is for the real good of the place. Of course, there are a few in every community who are too peevish to help along anything of a public nature. They live for themselves only, and their circle of influence becomes so small that some day, when they are to be buried, they will have to "walk to their own funeral," as the paradoxical Irishman expressed it.

Salem is just now at the parting of the ways in the matter of her future growth and greatness. She can either stay where she is, vegetate and decay, or she can put on new life, as she seems to be doing, and forge ahead in the next ten years as in seldom the privilege of a capital city. It is gratifying under the circumstances, to know that we have business men who have the disposition to go forward, men who will push and lift until the greatest possibilities have been realized.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY.

The presentation of a Shakespearean play at Salem will mark a new era in the development of public taste. About ten years ago Bandmann gave this town about a week of the classic English drama, on his way home from Australia, to houses of a dozen people. Since then election teachers have been requested not to give readings from Shakespeare in costume by some of our sectarian colleges.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is to be given at the Grand Opera House, at Salem, next week, it is hoped, under different conditions as to public taste. The play will be read in the mean time by note people than any one look in the city. Next to the Bible, there is no book so common in Salem homes as Shakespeare's plays.

WHAT IS THERE TO POLITICS?

The question may come up in the mind of man, woman or any two-legged political being, what is there to politics, anyhow? According to a Portland authority with a great many people, who are innocent of any other source of enlightenment, it is to be explained in this way:

"And now," says the Salem Journal, "The Oregonian is explaining the differences between the two factions at Portland." Mistake. The Oregonian is not trying to explain. It is not necessary to explain. Everybody knows what the different parties stand for. One that has been riding hither, time out of mind, doesn't want to give the other a turn."

"The one that has been riding does not want to give the other one a turn." That is all there is to politics. That is all the whole state is torn up over, holding corrupting primaries, log-rolling, assemblages of trickery, called conventions, and an expensive election campaign for four months. The fellow in the saddle don't want to let the fellow who want to ride the beast of burden, called the taxpayer, have their turn.

That's all there is to politics!

WHAT WILL BE THE RESULT?
The Republican state platform will undoubtedly demand some kind of salary reform, but, judging from the character of the convention, it may fall to back up its utterances with men who will carry it into effect.

In Marion county the Republican convention did its full duty in declaring for salary reform and business administration. They did this both in platform, and then again by resolution.

The Republicans of Marion county have done something besides mere platform talk. They have, by their deeds, shown what they could do by carrying those principles into effect in this county, and keeping their pledges to the letter.

That is a record which inspires confidence. If the state platform merely talks right and puts up men who do not care, who will never execute, the state house extravagance will go on. For instance, the last biennial report of the secretary of state recommends some very good things in the way of new laws to raise revenue. But all such bills were defeated.

It is one thing to "resolute" nice and talk right; it is another matter to put men into such places who have the determination and ability to execute. So the Republicans may platform all right and yet not perform.

LIGHT IS A NECESSITY.

Alderman Griswold has rendered a service to the city and the community in bringing to notice the possibility of owning a light plant by the city. Light has come to be a necessity for rich and poor, for business man, manufacturer and residence, besides being a prime necessity at night to keep good order on the streets and repress crime. Water, light, clean streets and sanitary conditions are the prime requisites of life in any city, and rights to these necessities should be jealously guarded and protected for all the people.

PRIMARIES AT ST. PAUL.

The city of St. Paul held a primary election a few days ago under the new Minnesota state law, and it would be well if our lawmakers would give the matter their attention and notice what excellent features of that law might be incorporated into our own statutes to good advantage. The city of Minneapolis had previously tried the experiment of making political nominations by a popular vote, and the result caused so much general satisfaction that the legislature applied the plan to all elections, save for state officers, throughout all Minnesota. The chairman of the Republican city committee of St. Paul is delighted with the new system of primaries, and says the method works to perfection. It gives every man a chance, and men who have no show in a machine managed convention are able to secure justice in a primary of this sort.

In St. Paul there are to be elected at the coming election a mayor, controller, treasurer, two municipal judges, nine assemblymen at large, eleven ward aldermen, two justices and two constables, and it was to secure candidates for these positions that the primaries were held. As it happened in this instance, only two parties appear to have been represented in the petitioning to make up the primary tickets, but there were six candidates for mayor on the Republican ticket and two for mayor on the Democratic. When primary day came the usual polling places were open, and in charge of the same judges as would be there on an election day. As each voter came into the polling station he asked the judge for a Republican or Democratic ticket, according to his party affiliation, entered the booth to mark his ballot, and deposited it in the ballot box in the usual manner. The law requires that all parties shall hold their primaries on the same day, and at the same place, so there is no chance of Democrats packing a Republican primary, or vice versa. Oregon is in need of some such system.

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut No Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and a cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them. The one 50-cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work, and my digestion is all right again. Many of my neighbors have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented, and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Signed, A. Ellms and Chas. F. Buzell, Assistant Postmaster, South Sudbury, Mass.

Mrs. Jas. Bazon, of Toronto, Can., writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work. "I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after three or four tablets had been taken all the above troubles disappeared, and then I discovered that I had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble, and one of them treated me for rheumatism. "My digestion is fine, my complexion clear, and I am able to do my work, and low spirits are unknown to me. "I am so thankful for finding a cure so good, and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me." All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestives, and, taken after meals, prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food. Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

The Bicycle Boom

Is on Again

But it is not the same sort of "boom" that prevailed a few years ago. It's an intelligent boom this time. People are not buying blindly or riding bicycles simply because it is the fad or fashion to ride them, nor to see how far or how fast or how many miles they can ride. They ride because they now realize that the bicycle is a health-giver, a pleasure-promoter—because there is nothing else that affords such invigorating, every-ready and economical means of obtaining that outdoor exercise and change of scene that counts for so much in the well being of mankind. The people now indulge in bicycling because it is a tonic—because it enables them to think clearer, hit harder, sleep sounder and feel better generally. The causes of the "new boom" ought to interest and awaken YOU and impel you to learn why so many of those who have renewed their cycling activity have purchased Columbia or Hartford bicycles. We are in position to both tell you and show you why they did so; and we'll be awfully glad to do it, too.

MAMMOTH GRAPE VINE.

A Vine Eight Inches in Diameter and Nearly 300 Feet Long.

H. F. Hollenbeck came in yesterday from the Waterville country and gave us the following data concerning an extraordinary Concord grape vine up there that people living in less productive countries might consider quite a freak. This grape vine was put out by J. T. Donaldson about twenty years ago, and has grown to be a vine of the following proportions: Its diameter at the base is eight inches and it divides into five prongs, one 35 feet in length, one 60, another 60, another 62 and the other 64. Last year over a thousand pounds of luscious grapes grew on this vine, and it has not been known to produce less than five hundred pounds a year for several years.—Eugene Register.

U. S. BARKER KILLED.

Fell Under a Train of Cars Near Lealand Monday Night.

An accident costing the life of U. S. Barker, of Drain, occurred near tunnel No. 9, in Josephine county, Monday night. Young Barker, aged about 21 years, with Lester Ritchey, of Drain, was en route to Klamath, Cal., beating their way on a freight train. Barker was hidden at the end of a lumber car, and, seeing a brakeman approaching, attempted to change his position. In doing so he lost his hold and fell beneath the wheels. Both legs and one arm were cut off, yet he lived about two hours. The body was brought back to Drain on the local train today.—Roseburg Review.
