veterans in line, and 139 were counted as they marched out of the cemetery. An immense gathering assembled at the armory Friday evening to enjoy the Memorial day services that had been arranged by the G. A. R. Post. The platform and hall had been decorated in an elaborate manner. Capt. Q. Barnes presided as chairman by Comrade Rev. H. A. Ketchum, was followed by a recitation, "The Woundd Soldier," very creditably given by Miss Desart. The national hymn, 'America," was sung by the audience, and Chauncey Ohmart gave a recitation. The Stalwart male quartet, composed of Messrs, Epley, Wenger, Snyler and Baker, sang "Rest Soldier, Rest," and gave an appropriate en-

The address of the evening was giv en by Governor Geer, and in introducng the chief executive of the state, Chairman Barnes remarked that the committee had been fortunate in securing to deliver the address "our gov ernor," who was an orator of national reputation. The governor was warmreceived, as he also was when he eached the hall shortly after the exercises began. The speaker referred to the Civil War as a remarkable event in the country's history, told of the reuniting of the nation, to the cecenting of which the late Spanish was entributed materially. The old vetrans were warmly praised for their gallant services in the defense of their country. The valor of the members of the Second Oregon was lauded, and when the speaker made the statement that the late President McKinley per sonally told him that nothing contribas did the record of the Second Oregon in the Philippines, the audience applauded heartily. The Indian War Veterans received due credit for their faithful and sacrificing services in the preservation of the country. The go rnor said the repeated delays that and been noted in the consideration by the government of the claims for comensation of the Indian War Veterans could not be too severely censured.
