PEACE TERMS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Great Britain Treats the Boers With Great Liberty and Consideration--They Lay Down Their Arms, and Recognize King Edward and Secure Self-Government--Allowed to Keep Rifles for Self-Protection -- Prisoners to Be Returned and Farms to Be Restocked -- King Insisted on Peace Before His Coronation

London, June 2.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Balfour said that the terms of peace with South Africa are that the Boers lay down their arms, and recognize the sovereignty of the king, and that Boer prisoners will be brought back as soon as possible, without loss of liberty or property. The cabinet held a half-hour session this morning to consider the form of announcement of the peace terms. Dense crowds thronged Downing street, and cheered the ministers en route to the consultation. Chamberlain, secretary of war, received an ovation, and cries of "You did it, Joe," were heard.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger was informed shortly after 9 o'clock last night that peace had been declared. He had been asleep. "My God," he said, "it is impossible." Mr. Kruger and his entourage, the dispatch continues, hopes to be permitted to return to the Transvaal. This, however, is quite unlikely. Americans Join in Cheers. At the fashionable hotels and restaurants patriotic airs were played, and those present repeatedly stood up and cheered when the bands played "God Save the King." At the Carlton Hotel particularly a brilliant crowd of fashionable people celebrated the news in this manner. Among the people at the Carlton were a good many Americans, who good naturedly joined in the enthusiasm. In the meantime, the news had been conveyed to most of the churches, where bells clanged out the message of peace. Preachers stopped in their prayers and their sermons to read Lord Kitchener's message to their congregations.

At St. Paul's cathedral the Bishop of Stepney made the announcement and impressively prefaced the reading of Lord Kitchener's message by saying: "God has been pleased to answer our prayers, and give to us the blessing of peace." The English Press Opinion. The Daily Graphic in this connection says: "This is a consideration which may well cheer our sense of triumph to-day. We have done great things in the war, but we still have greater things to achieve in peace." While expressing the need of admiration for and gratitude to the British troops, almost all the newspapers ungrudgingly testify to the bravery of the Boers. On this subject the Standard says: "Assuredly, the Boers have no reason to look back with humiliation at the events of the campaign. Although defeated, they are not disgraced." The Standard still further exhorts the nation to accept its victory in a calm and dignified manner, and not to indulge in unbecomingly offensive demonstrations of jubilation.

LIGHT VOTE POLLED

Jack Matthews Admits a Terrible Cut

Chamberlain Getting Many Republican Votes

Furnish Men Fighting Gear and Rain Falling

Portland, June 2.—The election of state officers is being held today. Rain is falling in many parts of the state. A heavy vote is being polled, though the election is in progress. It is believed that the vote of the last national election, on account of slow returns from remote counties the result may not be known until Tuesday.

Portland, June 2.—Chairman Jack Matthews, of the Republican state central committee, has issued the following statement: "I feel certain that the Republican ticket will make a clean sweep today. Majorities may be reduced somewhat from the vote of four years ago. The vote for governor will be much cut down."

Baker City, Or., June 2.—Chairman White, of the Democratic committee, says: "I am in receipt of information from throughout the state that indicates a certain victory for Chamberlain. I expect 5000 majority. A large number of Democratic legislative candidates will be elected."

Some of the Republicans are claiming great eleventh-hour changes in favor of Furnish, but Chamberlain is polling a heavy vote. Many voters are being sworn in, and there is great complaint at the inequality of the operation of the registration law. Many voters are registered in the wrong precinct, and cannot find their names on the poll books.

Furnish men are fighting gear for United States senator at many of the polling places, and Democrats, Populists, Socialists and Prohibitionists generally are voting for him. The tickets are all being scratched here and there, and the returns will be slow coming in.

Others emulated the example before the campaign commenced. The Boxers first murdered a French missionary, and later killed a Belgian priest and 50 Chinese officials engaged in collecting taxes were killed. A church was destroyed at Wei Hei, where a native missionary was killed, and large numbers of converts slaughtered. Troops were sent against the Boxers who defeated them.
