HUNDREDS ARE PETITIONING.

There have been sent in hundreds of signers to petitions asking the governor to call a special session of the legislature to enact flat salaries, and put the referendum into effect.

The people are beginning to realize that unless this is done the last election, and the existing abuses that were admitted in all platforms will not be abolished.

Following petitions were received since last report: Dr. D. M. Jones and 20 other substantial citizens of Soda-ville; S. Hilgard and six, from Mil-wood, Douglas county; A. J. Pruitt and 12 from Hayesville; Z. K. Ferguson and 11 others, Salem and Seio; F. R. Lewis and 14 others, East Marion street, Salem; J. A. Kenworthy and nine, Salem; George Zweicker and eight, East Twentieth street, Salem; Joseph Burke and nine others, Liberty; L. M. Reeder and 19 citizens of Aupsville.

All the petitions received the past week were today transmitted to Governor Geer, and he was gratified to get them, and read the names all over carefully. He recognizes that the petitions are not political, but come from all classes of citizens, from the largest taxpayer to the humblest day laborer and woodchopper.

The Journal devotes a page to flat salary reform today, and prints a large special edition for circulation in all parts of the state. Those who have this reform at heart should cut out these petitions and start in for another week's work for a good cause—the redemptive of our state government from an accumulation of grafts and officialism.

Pay no attention to the politicians and push papers at Portland, but do your duty as a citizen.

The necessity is imperative for putting our state government in better order. Get right at the foundation, and let there be a clean-up from top to bottom.

Flat salaries were promised in all the platforms, and why shall the law not be enacted? Can anyone give a good reason?

Direct legislation was carried by a three-fourths vote for the constitutional amendment. Why shall it not be put in effect?

Circulate a petition, and back up the stand Governor Geer and Governor-elect Chamberlain have taken in favor of these reforms.

One is a Republican and the other is a Democrat. Both received the vote of a majority of the people at the recent state election.

But it is the duty of citizens to back them up in what they believe is right, and make public sentiment overwhelming for these reforms.

Let us carry a majority of all the people to the governor on petitions, and convince all the politicians that they cannot put an important reform before the people to get their votes, and then cheat them out of it.

ROOSEVELT DEMANDS JUSTICE.

In a special message to Congress Friday President Roosevelt renews the demand made in his first message to Congress for the enactment of reciprocity with Cuba.

He pleads that a great and powerful nation keep its pledges with the struggling baby republic that has been set on its feet at the cost of American blood and treasure.

He repeats the words of President McKinley, who argued for the fairness and justice in our commercial relations with our nearest island neighbor republic.

He warns the Republican party that it has a history and reputation for keeping its pledges that must be kept intact.

Roosevelt has taken a bold stand against the party managers in Congress, but he has strengthened his hold on the people of all parties by his fidelity to fundamental principles.

The trend of commercialism and machine politics is to disregard the most solemn obligations. Party principles and the constitution count for mere trifles among the strenuous organizers who are now in control of Congress and political machinery.

ALL HONOR TO KING EDWARD.

General Elliott read to the assembled Boer army the congratulations of King Edward, who praised the burghers for their brave stand against superior numbers in defense of the cause they were fighting for.

Of course he was cheered, as brave men always appreciate a magnanimous act from one in the position of a conqueror.

That was the wisest act of King Edward's life, and shows him to be a far-seeing statesman, and politician of the higher and better order.

of President Schurman, of the first Philippine commission, had been continued, that country would have been at peace before this.

Long may King Edward live to carry out his generous impulses toward a brave people. Soon may the Americans establish the same friendly and generous treatment in the Philippines is the prayer of all.

Roosevelt and King Edward are two great men, and their influence in the world's affairs is making history rapidly, and making it for better civilization.

LET ALL QUIT POLITICS.

All men who pretend to be Republicans in Oregon or who have been Republicans in the past, or expect to be in the future, should quit playing politics, face the responsibilities of good government, and do what is right. There is no room for politics of the kind Oregon has had too much of in the conduct of the legislature and the state government. Election of a United States senator and congressman is political, but laws, state revenues and appropriations ought not be prostituted to politics. There must be room in any man's mind for serious consideration of the business welfare of the state—that its taxes be not too high, that its revenues be not wasted, that officials respect the constitution, that open and notorious grafts be abolished—that all do right. This mental attitude toward the state government should be maintained by all who are capable of reading, thinking and forming opinions for themselves about public matters. If any man or woman is a Republican in instinct and refuses to do what is right because the idea had not originated with some loss—God pity 'em. The Journal believes that at heart the great majority of Republicans, even men like Editor Scott and members of the new legislature, want to do what is right in the matter of enacting a straight flat salary for all state officials instead of the present system of fees and perquisites. The state officials themselves want what is right in this matter. They do not enjoy the criticisms and suspicions that are heaped upon them under the present indirect system of compensation. Governor-elect Chamberlain will not enjoy taking the emoluments on boards and commissions he will be compelled to take, unless a flat salary law is enacted before 1903.

The editor of The Journal had a long talk with Hon. D. H. Looney of Jefferson, yesterday, on the subject of a special session, and he expressed the opinion freely that the special session of the legislature was necessary, and the Republicans would make a mistake to not enact a flat salary now.

Mr. Looney is a strong partisan, and does not belong to the Geer faction, if there be such a thing. But he has enough horse sense to see that failure to do that will postpone the reform four years and rob the Republican party of the credit. He said some doubts existed as to the State Printer being reached by any law passed after he is elected, but he said even in that case it was better to do what was right and was pledged in the platform, and if the State Printer could beat it in the courts he would do so anyhow.

Now that is the plain and reasonable talk of an agricultural Republican in a clean agricultural county like Marion. If the Republican politicians who take a narrow, selfish, personal view of politics will consult with disinterested voters they will find that to do what is right in this matter is the easiest and cheapest way to politics.

But it is said Geer favors a special session because he wants to be United States senator. Let us be fair and just and honest. Geer would be calling a legislature together when it might injure his chances of becoming a senator. But suppose it made him senator. What of it? If flat salaries are right shall this reform be put off four years because it may or may not make some one a senator?

It's a shame that a public newspaper has got to beg and plead with anyone to do a thing so manifestly just and right as that state officials should be paid definite fixed salaries and that all fees and earnings of their offices should belong to the state treasury. But it seems no good thing can be accomplished without agitation. The agitation must be carried on until the victory for flat salaries is won. The people know what is right and must not cease to demand it until they get it. The Journal will print petitions every week and citizens must circulate them constantly until the battle is won for a state house cleaning.

Right and justice are in favor of this proposition and "right wrongs no man." Those who are indifferent or sneering at this reform have not studied into the details as presented in this paper. If they will do that they will no longer oppose paying a reasonable flat salary to every state official and no more.

Friends of the public school should vote for J. B. T. Tutthill for school director Monday. He stands for progress, consistent with good financial management of the district.

Additional hop contracts were filed with County Recorder Roland Friday afternoon, as follows:

Ben Otjen, of Meridian, to Elias & Fritze, of Cincinnati, 7000 pounds of the 1902 crop at 12 1/2 cents per pound, 5 cents advance for picking purposes.

G. E. Johnson, of Silverton, to Elias & Fritze, of Cincinnati, 8000 pounds of the 1902 crop at 12 1/2 cents, 5 cents advance for picking purposes.

Friends of J. B. T. Tutthill can all vouch for him that he stands for progress in our public schools. Vote for him Monday.

Some Pertinent Questions. Register: The Salem Journal, which before election yelled itself hoarse over the extravagances of the last legislature, now wants a useless special session of the same legislature, held at an expense of $25,000, just to please our retiring governor, T. T. Geer. The people won't stand for it.

Let us see! Did not the register keep the Republican state platform running in its columns during the campaign? And did not one plank of that platform pledge the Republican party to enact legislation that would cut off the enormous fees and perquisites now enjoyed by state officials? And would not failure to legislate on the state official fee and salary abuse before the officers-elect take their respective positions allow them to draw compensations for the next four years—the term for which they were elected? And would a special session of the legislature cost $25,000, as stated by the Register?

"The people won't stand for it?" Does not the Register really mean that the politicians and officials who hope to reap reward and excessive compensation at the expense of every taxpayer do not "stand for it?"—Eugene Guard.

GOOD LIVING

Quite often results in bad health, because what is termed "good living" is usually the gratification of the palate without reference to the nutrition of the body. When the good liver is a business man and rises from a full meal to plunge at once into work requiring mental effort the result is almost sure to be disastrous, because digestion draws upon the same nervous forces which are employed in thought. In time the stomach becomes diseased, the processes of digestion and nutrition are imperfectly performed and there is a physical breakdown.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates the effete, poisonous matter which originates in the system as a consequence of imperfect digestion. It gives sound health to the whole body.

"I wish to say to the world that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a great discovery," writes Mrs. Ellen K. Bacon, of Newbury, N. H. "I had suffered for many months for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1901, I had very sick spells and grew weaker, could eat but little. I commenced in a short time to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained nearly twenty pounds in the month."

DR. PIERCE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
