May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected. The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

STATE AUDUBON SOCIETY.

Salem Bird Study Club Takes Steps to Join.

Last evening, at a special meeting of the Salem Bird Study Club, the necessary steps were taken to bring that organization under the wings of the State Audubon Society, which is an organization for the study and protection of birds, with the whole state for its field of operations. It has now adjourned for the summer, and its next meeting will be on September 5th.

Our Weekly Crop Bulletin

The U. S. department of agriculture, climate and crops bulletin, of the weather bureau, Oregon section, for the week ending Monday, reports as follows: The past week has been phenomenally cold and wet. Heavy rains have fallen in all sections of the state, and the day temperatures averaged from 10 to 15 degrees below the normal in western sections, and from 18 to 22 below the normal in the eastern sections. Strong winds prevailed for several days in the Columbia valley, and light frosts were reported Monday morning in the extreme eastern portion of the state. The maximum, or day temperatures, during the week in Western Oregon, ranged between 64 and 68 degrees, and the minimum, or night temperatures, between 44 and 55 degrees. In Eastern Oregon the maximum temperatures ranged between 50 and 76 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 38 and 52 degrees.

The damage by the rains consisted in lodging a great deal of fall wheat, principally in the Willamette valley, and in portions of the Umatilla wheat regions; some standing hay was also lodged, and a large amount of cut hay has been injured. With favorable weather this week much of the lodged grain and grass will come up again, and considerable cut hay will be saved in fair condition. The rains have injured ripe cherries by causing them to burst and mold, and a second crop of weeds has started on summer-fallowed land, which will necessitate a second cultivation. The grain harvest will also be delayed about a week, on account of the cool weather.

The rains have been of vast benefit to spring grain, reseeded fields of wheat, potatoes, corn, gardens, pastures, and all late crops. In the Grand Ronde valley and in Southern Oregon they have been especially beneficial, as the preceding droughty conditions were beginning to cause alarm, and spring wheat that it was thought would have to be cut for hay will now make a heavy crop. Wheat is filling nicely, but in Umatilla county much smut is reported.

Hops, corn and gardens are thrifty, but backward, and need bright, sunny weather. The outlook is favorable for a good crop of apples. The condition of prunes remains unchanged, and from a half to a third of a crop is all that is expected. Peaches are doing well, and an average crop or better will probably be harvested in Southern Oregon.

Willamette Valley. Sandy, Clackamas county, P. R. Meinig—Crops are in extra good condition, as the heavy rain for the last week have given all of the late sown grain a remarkable start. There was some hay spoiled, but not enough to be a great loss.

Aurora, Clackamas county, G. Mueck—The heavy rains of the 2d laid down fine standing hay, like cheat and orchard grass apparently beyond redemption. It was of little benefit to the advanced crop vines, but will be of benefit to spring-sown grain; winter grain has lodged; cherries bursted.

Albany, Linn county, H. C. Jordan.—This week has been rainy, beginning on the 1st inst.; several inches of water have fallen; late spring grain, potatoes and gardens have been great-

POTATO PATCH ADVISED

A Salem Woman Wants Practical School Work. Editor Journal: As a patron of the Salem schools, I hope some good may come from having hired a city superintendent, and would like to suggest something that he could turn his waste time to. I refer to the condition of the school grounds at our respective school houses. They are a disgrace in most instances, but I believe this could be remedied, and the grounds made very attractive, and that without any expense. The superintendent could plan to improve the grounds, and on fixed days have some of the older pupils come with tools and spend half a day each week fixing things up. They could level up or grade beds for shrubs of flowers, and plant them without any expense to anybody, and I would have my boys and girls learn how to do something of that kind that to learn some of the monkey-shines that are taught in some school books. This would break the monotony of the routine work, and inspire the young folks to take a pride in their surroundings and to do something that would not only be a practical education to them, but prove a direct benefit to every taxpayer. A respectable potato patch would prove a thing of beauty compared with some of our school yards, and it would not hurt some of the scholars to learn how to tend a potato patch. Why not appoint one afternoon a week during good weather for such work, and have all the principals and teachers join in on an intelligent plan to do something for the school grounds? This wouldn't cost anything, and might prove a healthful diversion for all concerned. A WOMAN VOTER.

New Treatment for Varicocele

So many people, old and young, are affected with varicocele that a means of having it cured was something long sought for, and surgical science has been at fault until very recently. Dr. Darrin, at Willamette Hotel, Salem, is now able to accomplish it, absolutely without pain or detention from business, so the cure is permanent and lasting. As a proof of this assertion we refer, by permission, to Mr. A. J. Armstrong, cutter and chief assistant of "Nicol, the Tailor," at 30 Third street, Portland. Read his card:

To Whom It May Concern: Without solicitation I volunteer my testimonial in favor of Dr. Darrin, who cured me of an aggravated case of varicocele of many years' standing. Had despaired of cure until eight years ago I tried Dr. Darrin's new method and was permanently cured, and have had no return of the trouble. I most emphatically recommend Dr. Darrin as a skillful physician and straightforward man in business. Will gladly confer with anyone, either in person or by letter, at 30 Third street, where I have been employed for years. A. J. ARMSTRONG.

Quality is a Hobby With us, and we stick to it, no matter what the "other fellows" may do. Pure, sure, is a motto we live up to, even if it costs us a measure of our profits. You run no risks at BRANSON & RAGAN'S.

Minor Mention. Salem's retail clerks, who recently organized a strong union, are planning for a rousing big meeting for the near future.

A Klumperman, of Aurora, was adjudged sane by the Marion county court Tuesday evening, but, owing to the fact that he was unable to care for himself, he was committed to the poor farm.

The state board of fish commissioners held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, and received the report of Master Fish Warden Van Dusen, who has recently returned from an inspection of the fish hatcheries of the state. The board also confirmed the appointment by Mr. VanDusen of the following superintendents of hatcheries: F. C. Brown, for Snake river; Frank W. Smith, South Coast river; John A. Talbot, McKenzie river. The receipts for the month amounted to $1765.50.

The Science of Osteopathy

Many people have been led to believe through false reports and ignorance that Osteopathic treatment was painful and even injurious to children or weakened invalids. Nothing could be farther from the truth for it is adapted to the case, and is no wise last injurious to the frailest child or weakened invalid. But rather it is invigorating and strengthening, and never is the patient worn out or made nervous from treatment. However, there are many fakery and pretenders in Osteopathy who do not understand how to give treatment properly. None are genuine or competent who have not attended school at least four terms of five months each.

Dr. L. E. Wyckoff and Mrs. Grace Albright, of I. O. O. F. Temple, Salem, are graduates of the American School of Osteopathy, a twenty months' school, and thoroughly qualified to give scientific treatment and handle any case put in their care. All diseases, especially chronic diseases and deformities, yield to the treatment without knife or drugs. Hours 9 to 4. Phone Main 2721. Odd Fellows' Temple, Salem, Or.
