

"Ever notice how a song will go with an audience if it arouses the memory of a pleasing taste?" asked the first-nighter. "Take that little song on the New York roof. Goes something like this:

"Everybody's awful good to me,
I'm as sweet as any girl can be,
But inside they give me a 'kick'—
Everybody's awful good to me."

"Tune's nothing extra, no sentiment; nothing particularly funny in it—yet every night the house goes wild. Only one way I can explain it. 'FORCE' is a mighty good breakfast food; has a dainty, delicate flavor, is crisp and lacy—just the kind of a dish that a man's glad to see when he sits down to breakfast from force of habit and not because he wants to eat. It leaves a mighty pleasant taste, and it's the memory of that pleasant taste that causes the audience to appreciate so thoroughly that little song.

"FORCE" is a combination of the whole of the wheat and barley malt. It contains all the elements necessary for the sustenance and proper regulation of every organ of the body. It combines these elements in such proportions that no organ is overworked or under-exercised in the processes of digestion and assimilation. Because malt is blended with the whole of the wheat, "FORCE" is a perfect food for the overworked or under-exercised stomach, as well as for the stomach in perfect health. Malt is the best natural tonic. In the manufacture of "FORCE" various chemical changes take place in both the wheat and malt which ordinarily are brought about in the first stages of normal and healthy digestion. This food, therefore, is quickly and easily assimilated, but still gives the various organs of the body sufficient exercise to keep them in perfect condition.

"FORCE" requires no cooking, and is delicious cold or warm.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.
by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing,
and when it is entirely closed deafness
is the result, and unless the inflamement can be taken out and this tube
restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars,

WHAT TIME PROVES.
This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptom of the approach of the grim destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has and the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sick-headache, dyspepsia and indigestion. It begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. We will send a sample box of these pills free, or a full box on receipt of 25c. Sold by all

Dr. E. S. Clark and Mrs. Lottie A. Pattee, both of the Chemawa Indian school, were united in marriage in this city at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Claire Howe, in Yew Park, the officiating clergyman being Rev. H. A. Ketchum, of the First Congregational church. The wedding was a very quiet one, only a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessing the service. Dr. Clark is the physician at the Chemawa Indian school, and the bride is the widow of John Pattee, the former carpenter and physical instructor at the school. CHANGED HIS MIND

L. Burkhart Says He Did Not Threaten Officers
It is an easy matter to assert that one will "fix" somebody else when that person is not around, but when brought face to face with the man to be "fixed," the man who proposes to do the "fixing" not infrequently becomes faint-hearted. Such was the experience of L. Burkhart in the police court this morning. Burkhart only recently completed a term in the county jail for the larceny of a bicycle, and it was reported to the police officers that the fellow with an over-fondness for other people's bicycles was boasting about the streets that he would "fix" the officers who secured his conviction of the bicycle theft. Now the officers of the Salem police court had a curiosity to know just what Burkhart proposed to do, and they called him to appear in the police court this morning. When interrogated by Police Judge Judah, Burkhart denied ever asserting that he would harm anybody, least of all members of the police department. The fellow was advised not to make any further threats of any kind, or he would be severely dealt with. He was discharged.

There were a number of cases in police court this morning, but the city treasury was not augmented in the least. One transient visitor was given 30 minutes to leave the city, and he went. Another vagrant was released, as he appeared to be a laboring man. An ex-convict, who had been arrested for drunkenness, was also discharged with a reprimand, since it was his first appearance in the Salem police court.

FREE RURAL MAILS

Marion County Now Has Eighteen Routes

Which Serve Fully Half Our Farm Homes

Since the inauguration of the free rural delivery system Marion county has fared probably as well as any one county on the coast, as it already has eighteen routes, and several more in contemplation. This is one case where Uncle Sam is really and truly doing something for the plain, every-day people, and it is thoroughly appreciated by the rural population, if not by some of the smaller towns, where the interests of business people are affected.

The Daily Journal is proud of the fact that it reaches more of the people on these rural routes than any other, or all other dailies published. It is a paper for the plain people, and they support it, because they like it. It helps them, and they help it. This is probably not as great a prestige as some metropolitan journals can boast of, but it is the real thing as far as it goes. To have the confidence of the most humble citizen is a high honor, and one which cannot be bought with riches nor high stations.

The Journal is proud of its well-written and interesting advertisements. They are the most interesting part of the paper to many persons. They are read by many who do not read the editorials, and the editor is often chagrined to find persons noting a cent of difference in the prices of a bargain offered, when they have not noticed the editorial opinion on some great national matter.

The Journal readers—those who have been readers for some time—also know that it presents original ideas about public affairs, and does not wait for parties or politicians to set the pace. Journal readers are sensible of the fact that they are put in closest touch with the best ideas of reform movements, and are to the extent that they take an interest in such matter made part of the government. They are in touch with the local and state and national affairs, and The Journal seeks to voice the feelings and interests of the plain, every-day, unrepresented citizen. That is its mission, and its circle of friends by the fire-side and in the business offices is growing each day. Its policies being right, it is only a question of time when they will prevail in public affairs.

THE AGE OF SUPERSTITION

A Great Difference Between Three Centuries Ago And Now

A few centuries ago those who practiced the art of healing and performed even the most common surgical operations, were looked upon with a certain degree of suspicion, as though, perhaps, they obtained their powers in that line from some supernatural source. Much of that mysticism still clings to the medical profession. Doctors and surgeons generally seem to have a reticence against making their abilities known in any other than the ordinary manner. But a great change has been going on recently, more particularly in the last quarter of a century.

In this age of free thought, free speech and free action, a diploma from some second or third rate medical college is not enough to give a patient confidence in the ability of a young doctor of medicine. Nothing short of practical experience will do that. The successful physician and surgeon will establish his reputation by curing his patients. He will not be afraid to advertise his ability to cure, for he has confidence in his powers, knows what he can do, and imparts his confidence to those who call to take advantage of knowledge and experience.

The old time physicians and surgeons are slow to realize why the up-to-date physicians, who advertise, are meeting with such success, but it is plain to the general public. Advertising brings the patients and the practice thereby obtained gives an experience which can be obtained in no other manner.

The case of Dr. Darrin is strictly in point. He advertises extensively, with the result that he has hundreds of cases where others have one. Dr. Darrin has a reputation established by years of practice in Portland, during the course of which time he has performed many cures, some of which seem almost marvelous and not to be believed, except by those who have consulted Dr. Darrin during the past quarter of a century are today living examples of the cures he has been able to effect. Columns after columns of testimonials have appeared but the tenth part has not been told. Remarkable cures have been performed in Portland and this vicinity and established his reputation, and he has been adding to that reputation ever since. The particulars of many of these cases are not allowed to be published, but it is sufficient to state that the cures are almost miraculous in character.

The afflicted should call upon Dr. Darrin. If the case is hopeless, he will so inform the patient. If he takes the case it is large odds that the patient will be permanently cured or at least relieved.

Remember, Dr. Darrin will be at the Willamette Hotel, Salem, until September 1. Examination is free to all.

Small-Pox At Champoege

The Marion county court is in receipt of a letter from Champoege, announcing that there are in that section of the county seven cases of smallpox. Aid is asked from the county for the treatment of the existing cases, and to prevent the further spread of the disease. The matter will receive the consideration of the court.
