CORN IS MARCHING ON.
Corn is rapidly coming to the front as an important crop in Oregon. Riding anywhere in the Willamette valley the observer is struck by the growing number of cornfields that are in evidence.

Mr. Stoufford has made a great success on the hills just south of Salem for six years, growing yellow dent corn. He has twenty acres this year of the Prize of the North.

Deamers Brothers have forty-five acres of corn south of this city. The use of corn fodder and corn ensilage for stock is rapidly extending.

Of course, corn makes pork and makes fat cattle. That is not news. But it is a noticeable fact that the corn crop is rapidly increasing. This means great additions to the wealth produced from our soil in cattle and pork. With clover to make rapid growth, and corn to finish the product, this will become a great swine-producing country.

As a natural dairy country, with the swine industry going hand in hand with it, our farming lands are going to increase in value.

Mr. W. D. Mohney, of this city, brought down two stalks of yellow dent corn that are nine feet high, and now almost ready to pick. He could make a fine exhibition at the state fair.

It is now some years since The Journal built the first corn palace at the state fair grounds, and started the boom for corn growing.

It is now an established fact that large crops of early white and yellow dent corn can be matured and made to keep for winter feeding for hogs and cattle. The use of fodder for horses is also growing. Here's to king corn, the latest crowned monarch of agriculture in Oregon.

GEER'S CASE GROWING.
There is indication that Governor Geer is growing in strength with the Republican managers.

The last election showed that he was strong with the people, and, in spite of the cold water from the big party noxie, he got a big vote for senator.

Now the indications are that the bosses are quarreling among themselves, and some of them will turn to him, to get even.
Brownell wants to be president of the senate, and if that cannot be secured he may throw his powerful influence to Geer for senator.

Fulton has been promised the senatorship many times, and if it is not now delivered to him, he may throw his strength to Geer for senator.

Soi Hirsch has so often had the cup of senatorial ambrosia withdrawn from his lips that he may, if deceived again, turn to Geer.

Brownell has one hobby that he will sacrifice almost anything to accomplish—to secure a constitutional convention. If he can get that he will throw his influence to Geer.

Governor Geer has today the strongest case, so far as the people are concerned, of any of the aspirants for the senatorship, and, of course, if he cannot get it he and his friends have preferences.

Those Republicans who would rule him entirely out of the race should not forget that they ruled him out of the race for the collectorship, and made him governor. They ruled him out for renomination for governor, and may make him senator.

HOP PICKERS WAGES.
There is another side to the demand of the hop pickers for 50 cents a box as universal wages for picking the crop.

Growers who are going to receive the full market price of 20 to 22 cents a pound for their crop of 1902 may pay 50 cents a box.

As a rule employers are slow to increase wages when their profits are increased. They cannot always reduce wages when they are reduced in income.

The demand for 50 cents a box is probably fair and legitimate in most yards, in consideration of the advance in the price of hops, and the cost of living.

But there are many yards where the hops are contracted at old prices, from 10 to 12 cents a pound.

There are many growers who are still in debt, and who have made sacrifices for years to hold onto their property.

Such growers are entitled to consideration under the circumstances, and it would be robbing them of their small chance to get square with the books, engaging as they do in a perilous industry.

Agitators and labor organizers who are making universal demands for 50 cents a box are doing such hop growers a great injury.

There are many yards able to pay 50 cents a box, and still make big money. All such should pay the full price for picking.

But those unable to do so should not be compelled to pay the full price. Of course, these remarks are founded on general principles, and compulsory arbitration is not yet the law of the land.

There should be mutual concessions in the light of all the circumstances surrounding each case.

Yards with large, heavy crops and great conveniences for the pickers will enable the pickers to make more at 40 cents than in light yards, with no conveniences, at 50 cents.

A TRIBUTE TO MOTHER.
The dear old mother time has scattered the snowy flakes on her brow, glowed deep furrows on her cheek—but in she not sweet and beautiful now? The lips which have kissed many a hot tear from the childish cheek are the sweetest lips in all the world.

The eye is dim, yet it glows with the soft radiance of a holy love which can never fade.

Oh, yes, she is a dear old mother. Her sands of time are nearly run out, but feeble as she is they will go further and reach down lower for you than any other on earth.

You cannot wait into midnight where she cannot see you; you cannot enter a prison whose bars shall keep her out; you can never mount a scaffold too high for her to reach that she may kiss and bless you.

In evidence of her deathless love, when the world shall despise and forsake you—when it leaves you by the wayside to die unnoticed, the dear old mother will gather you up in her feeble arms, carry you home and tell you of all your virtues until you almost forget that your soul is disgraced by vice.

Love her tenderly, and cheer her declining years with holy devotion.

FIRST OREGON CAVALRY

Old Time Oregon Soldiers to Meet in Salem

The following correspondence is self-explanatory:

Hon. C. B. Montague:
Dear Sir: As ranking officer of Company B, First Oregon Volunteer Cavalry, you are hereby requested to call said company to meet at the fair grounds during the coming state fair of 1902, to hold a reunion campfire, at which all the company are expected to be present, or accounted for, and in case the time is too limited for the call to be issued, and the members to get word, you are to call said company to meet at Hotel Willamette, at a time selected by you.

BENTON KILLIN, Portland, Or.
S. A. JONES, Brooks, Or.
S. A. C. PARKER, Woodburn, Or.
S. R. TAYLOR,
J. B. DIMICK, Hubbard, Or.
R. DOUGHERTY, Molalla,
Lebanon, Or. Sept. 10, 1902.—Attention, Company B, First Oregon Cavalry! In compliance with the foregoing call, you are hereby requested to assemble at the Willamette Hotel, Salem, Or., on Thursday, September 18, 1902, at 5 o'clock p. m.

The survivors of Company B, First Oregon Cavalry, who 40 years ago were mustered into the service of the United States "for three years, or during the war," at Salem, Or., are cordially invited to meet us at the Willamette Hotel on the date and at the hour named, to answer to our names "present," to account for those absent, whether living or dead, to rededicate ourselves to country and to flag, to look over our first drill ground while yet in the awkward squad, and to relate the story of our lives since those wild and stormy days.

Bring your wives and families. Arrangements will be made to visit the state fair in a body, and then hold a regular old-time campfire.

Returned to the Reformatory.
Fred Reese, a Salem boy, has been brought to the state reform school from Pendleton. Reese was arrested in Salem a month ago for larceny committed in Umatilla county. He was returned to Pendleton, and, upon examination on the charge, was held to the circuit court. Since the lad was a parolee charge of the state reform school, it was decided best to return him to the reformatory. Superintendent Bickers went to Pendleton and brought the lad to Salem.

"I did not sleep a night for seven long weeks."

That prolonged period of sleeplessness is most expressive of the pain and suffering caused by womanly diseases. It is pleasant to contrast the medical inefficiency which said "I could not be cured" with the prompt and permanent cure effected by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This great medicine for women establishes regularity, drives away the feverish, inflaming, and ulcerating humors, and cures female weakness.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's medicine to other suffering women," writes Mrs. Mary Adams, of Grandview, Ash Grove, N. C. "I was troubled with a very bad case of female weakness, and was unable to sleep a night for seven long weeks. The doctors said I could not be cured, but I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleased Relief.' After taking two bottles I could sleep all night, and after taking six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three vials of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of 'Pleasant Pills' my case was cured. I had had my husband for 12 years and he had never been in Dr. Pierce's medicine for it had cured others and would cure me. So I did, and I thank God and your medicine for saving my life."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 320 large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in cloth binding, or only 23 stamps for the paper covered volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
