

Invite Your Friends

The present is a splendid time to send for your Eastern friends and show them the Northwest. The rates via the Burlington Route are wonderfully low, and the thru train service excellent.

If you care to send me the names and addresses of your friends who might be induced to visit the Northwest, I will tell them the rates, arrange their trip and check their baggage.

EDUCATIONAL.

men require trained help

The modern business college is a result of business requirements. The business man now looks to the school to supply his help. Therefore, a young person now has but one opportunity of succeeding in business without a thorough training such as he may secure at the CAPITAL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

This school has an established reputation for supplying competent help to business men. This fact should not be overlooked by young people when deciding which school to attend. We offer cheap living, skillful teachers, pleasant rooms; in fact all the advantages one could wish. Send for catalogue.

Local Events In The Social Realm

Church Social. The young people of the Seventeenth and Chemeketa-street Evangelical church held a social Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Streyfeller, on Twentieth street. There were about 50 present. After playing several games and partaking of delicious refreshments, the party dispersed, all hoping for another such a social in the very near future.

Leslie Church Reception. Friday evening a reception was given Rev. Gordon, the new pastor of Leslie church, South Salem, and also a farewell to Rev. Blackwell, the retiring pastor. The latter takes the Lincoln charge, but his family will reside in Salem while he pursues his university studies. He was warmly complimented by those who spoke for his work in building up the cause of Methodism. Under his ministrations a new church has been organized at Croston, and the old Leslie church house has been rebuilt, and made more modern and convenient at an expense of about $1000. Rev. Gordon was formerly at Turner, and is a man of fine social qualities, and a zealous worker for his church. He was introduced and responded in a pleasant manner, as did Mr. Blackwell. A social reunion followed, and the ladies served refreshments in the Sunday School room. In the literary program the Misses Johnson rendered musical and elocutionary numbers and Messrs. O'Flynn and Judson did the vocal act. Neighbors from other churches were present, and the occasion was very pleasant and profitable. Among those attending were James Colgan, aged 93, and he enjoyed himself as much as any of the younger people.

Female Drummer The "Female Drummer" to Salem people no longer exists merely in the recollection of a farcical performance at the opera house within the last few years, but that individual is a reality in the commercial life of Oregon's Capital City. On Friday the city was visited by a woman following the vocation of a commercial traveler, although there was nothing about her appearance in any way that would indicate the business in which she was engaged. The woman was traveling for "Kis-Me" gum, and seemed to be a rustic, for she certainly was possessed of an inexhaustible "gift of gab."

Wind and Temper. There is a close connection between wind and temper than at first sight appears. A cold wind has a bracing effect and on the whole is beneficial. In countries where hot winds occur periodically, on the other hand, these are regarded as a nuisance. If not a curse, they are at least a cross, weary and doze up and has a headache daily.

Webster's Income. The legal profession of the present day will be surprised to learn that Mr. Webster, the greatest American lawyer of his time, made but $15,000 a year by his practice. But the fees of 1840 and 1850 were not what they have been since.
