CLEVELAND ON TARIFF REFORM

Looks to Democracy For Readjustment

Considers Laws Vicious That Need to Be Changed

Ex-Presidents First Political Speech Since His Retirement

Morrisstown, N. J., Oct. 31.—Ex-President Cleveland spoke here last night at a political meeting held in Lyceum Hall.

Mr. Cleveland, in his address, attacked the present tariff laws, and, by way of introduction, said:

"I am especially pleased to learn that tariff reform has been made the principal issue in the canvass you have in hand. Never, within my experience, has there been a time when this should be more earnestly, persistently and honestly pressed upon the attention of our countrymen than now.

"That the present tariff conditions have assumed a complexion which not only requires a check on their aggressiveness, but actual amendment, is at least admitted among those responsible for these conditions. Such a concession was made when a dozen or more reciprocity treaties were submitted to the senate, but the sincerity of the concession, and the honest intention to surrender the least advantage as long as it can be held, is emphatically disproved by the fact that session after session of the senate has passed without taking the least action on these treaties.

"I need hardly refer to the prevalence just at this time, among the supporters of high protection, of declarations and professions in favor of tariff readjustment. We hear it on every side. What does it mean? It means that they see the handwriting on the wall, as they have never seen it before. Does it mean that they are sincerely willing to do something for the people, as against old comrades who have heretofore paid well for the neglect of the people? How can we believe this when we see still paraded up and down before our sight the hoary-headed, bloated and malodorous old fraud and pretense that the tariff should be revised by its friends? What have these friends of the tariff done that they should again be trusted? They have quieted the people's fears, and professed solicitude for their welfare, and promised to lead them to pleasant places, and now that shoals and rocks have been struck, they seek by another promise to mend the whole affair, and retain the confidence and trust of those whom they have deceived.

"I have supposed that my fellow-citizens are thoughtful on this subject, and that their truthfulness has led to desire an amendment of our tariff laws and a rectification of the wrong and injustice that follow in their train. I have attempted to give reasons why this work should not be entrusted to those who have so fully demonstrated their insincerity and unfitness for the task."

HAD NOT FILED CHARGES

In the Timber Land Frauds

Hitchcock's Peculiar Action In the Matter

Points to Collusion On the Part of the Land Officials

Washington, Oct. 31.—Commissioner Hermann, in reply to a request from a Portland paper's correspondent for a statement regarding the recently discovered timber land frauds in Oregon, said he had nothing to say. He did receive a telegram from the register and receiver at The Dalles welcoming an investigation of affairs in their office, particularly as to neglect or possible collusion between entrymen and themselves, and calling attention to the fact that in April last they had reported indications of timber frauds then being perpetrated in their jurisdiction.

Commissioner Hermann knew nothing of the secretary's action until after the facts were published in the Oregonian. The secretary secured his information from within his own department, and not from the employees of the land office. The intended sweeping investigation, by the way, is to have the widest scope and will result in the prosecution of every person proved to have violated the law, regardless of whether he is entryman, promoter or an employee of the land service. The secretary does not assert positively that the land officers have been guilty of collusion, but prevailing circumstances render it necessary that their actions be most carefully reviewed.

The mounted police of this district have been mobilized, and will follow the zealots, who, if not interrupted, will go south into the United States.

Hitherto they have refused to do so. The men who started out Thursday are marching toward Salt Coats. The Doukhobors who are not affected are using their influence with the women to induce them to return home. A few are consenting. Everything is orderly and respectful. The superintendent has sent word to the government agents to take the greatest care in handling the disaffected persons.

Board Receives Demonstration. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The arbitration commission was hoisted out of the mines at 1 o'clock, where they had a worrisome experience, as they were compelled to stoop continually. They saw the miners working in chambers where the floors were covered with several inches of water, and were compelled at times to get on their hands and knees. Gray and Spaulding came out an hour before the others, and talked to the breaker boys. All he miners met were asked many questions, and stenographers made Fahey says the miners are satisfied with November 1st as the date of wage changes, if any are made.

It is made up of women from the summer cottage colony, many of them New York clubwomen. The society was organized four years ago for village improvement. Last summer it erected a memorial costing $700 to Margaret Fuller, whose death by shipwreck occurred off this point. This summer the society has built a fine pavilion on the shore. It sustains semi-weekly dances for the benefit of the young people and has in view a tennis court as the best object of its effort. It keeps a vigilant eye on the order, cleanliness and sanitation of the place.
