AN EXTRA SESSION.

Again the Taxpayers' League, of Portland, revives its petition for an extra session of the legislature, for the passage of a $500,000 appropriation for the Lewis and Clark fair.

It is set forth that the legislature of every state west of the Mississippi river, except those of South Dakota, Iowa and Louisiana, will convene next January. An early appropriation by the Oregon legislature for the Lewis and Clark fair is therefore absolutely essential. Should that appropriation drag along until the end of the session the delay would work irreparable loss to the fair.

Quite as much of the success of the exposition hinges on the early action in Oregon as on the size of the appropriation. A large appropriation late in February would not be worth as much as a smaller appropriation early in January. Unless neighboring states appropriate money for the fair at their coming session, they will not do so at all, because they will not meet again until 1905. Can Oregon expect other states to devote less time to the consideration of appropriations than it shall do herself?

The example of Oregon will have to be presented before the legislatures of neighboring states. To do this will take a great deal of time compared with the length of their sessions. Baker City Democrat.

Give Salem the reputation of having the best schools in the state and the principals and all the teachers will get better salaries. But it will take two years of hard work on the part of the city superintendent and all the teachers and principals to put Salem in that position. At present but few cities are bidding for Salem teachers.

The people will soon be treated to long winded messages from Governors to which no one will pay any attention—not even the men who write them as a rule. Action when in a position to act, and right action, is what the people demand.

George U. Piper, an Albany boy, well known in Salem, and now a Seattle politician, made a hot fight for the Washington senate on Tuesday but was defeated by 75 votes. Bidding Republicans and hostile railroads did the work.

The Oregon gratters, even to the smallest graft newspaper, oppose a special session as a very bad thing for the people any way you look at it. And they are perfectly sincere, if they are the people.

The men who have been trying to carry on forty jobs of reform at the same time have received another set-back but will probably bob up again with the same kind of a platform in 1904.

The coat of paint over the safoon sign on the corner now owned by the Salem W. C. T. U. still discloses the old sign. A little more paint, good ladies.

A Day Of Thanks

Governor Geer has issued the usual Thanksgiving day proclamation, setting aside Thursday, November 27th, as a day of thanksgiving. The proclamation is of the usual form, and in reciting the blessings that have been visited on this section during the past year, the governor, in his edict, says: "The people of Oregon have many reasons to be thankful. The recurring seasons have brought their abundant harvests; no epidemics have visited them; labor has been employed in all lines of business at an advanced rate of remuneration; the state schools have been liberally patronized and supported, while intelligence and prosperity go hand in hand, rapidly pushing our commonwealth to the forefront among the older states of the Union."

One state official built about a quarter of a mile of good road past the pen. That is being left with unrepaid holes to ruin it. But then Andy Gilbert ought to have been good for something.

If young girls would look ahead it would sometimes save them from serious collision with the men they marry. It is here that ignorance is almost a crime. The young husband cannot understand it when the wife changes to a peevish, nervous, querulous woman. And the young wife does not understand it herself. She only knows that she is very miserable.

If ever there is a time when nature needs help it is when the young girl is adjusting herself to the new conditions of widowhood. "I will drop you a few lines today to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of the Favorite Prescription and yielded to Medical Discovery. I have no headache now, no backache and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me so much good."
