The bathers sometimes find the sand soft and yielding to his feet. It does not trouble him and he goes on until presently he sinks to his knees and discovers to his horror that he has to fight for his life in a quicksand.

Disease is much like the quicksand. The first symptoms of stomach trouble do not cause anxiety. But when the body grows weak through lack of nourishment and disease of the stomach breeds disease of heart, lungs, liver or kidneys, the sufferer realizes his danger and seeks for medicinal aid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when these diseases have their origin in disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

Thomas A. Heavens, of Sub-Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble, and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, and the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up to die. Then a neighbor said, 'Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles, in about six weeks, I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have done more hard work in the past eleven months than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

A party of eight Brooks people, on their way to Mr. Naylors on Howell Prairie, on a recent dark night tipped over and the team ran away.

Near the stone house, on the Egan ranch there is a bridge. While a workman was crossing with a load of wood it gave way and over went the load. The workman might have been killed.

No matter how humble the home, it seems rich in intelligence when well supplied with books and papers. Subscribe for the Journal. Even its headings show pleasant originality of thought.

Salem and Gervais both claim the honor of being our hop center. Brooks centers both places. 1700 bales of hops were baled by one baler and there were others. We have a right to talk hops.

At Eldridge literary, a duet and response to an encore by Addie Cooley and Katharine Becker, also a declamation and the newspaper, "Whirlwind" by Miss Helen Brown was appreciated. A grand discourse on nature by M. J. Egan, made art seem insignificant as compared by him, with the beauty, majesty and power of nature. From the lowliest flower to the earthquake, that causes the foundation to shudder, he dwelt with intermediate thoughts that portrayed all the attractions the subject could produce. The debate was won by the eloquent speaker.

There seems to be combines and corners on everything now, and the producer is the speculators prey. Existing circumstances forces combines to meet combines. Then let the hop growers association fall into rank. Form a brotherhood that will become as one and still remain distinct. See what a beautiful building the mansions will erect in Gervais, and the grand state house we have for our laws in Salem. Masons, Oddfellows, Knights of Pythias, Woodmen, Workmen and others, Grangers and Freemans stand together for your country and your brothers industry and there will be a power too great to subdue, too general to be selfish. Just call the roll and the work is done. In Salem, facing the Southern Pacific tracks should be built a magnificent building. On its front in gold letters, so all travelers could read, should appear the words "Oregon Hop Growers Association Building, 1902." Orders from all over the world for hops and other produce could be attended to. If Salem don't want it build it in Brooks. We have plenty of room.

sought to secure a divorce from one of his three wives, and the attempt resulted in his arrest and subsequent trial and conviction. In the argument of the case before the supreme court this afternoon Durphy was represented by State Senator F. P. Mays and C. M. Ideman, both of Portland. The state appeared by Geo. E. Chamberlain, district attorney of Multnomah county; Attorney-General D. R. N. Blackburn and G. H. Durham.

HOW THE BODY BREATHES.

There is a homely old saying that nobody ever dies except for want of breath. There is more truth in this than most people know. Breathing means more than is generally imagined. The lungs are not the only organs with which we breathe. The whole body breathes. This is not a figure of speech. It is an actual fact.

What the lungs do when they breathe is to take in oxygen and give out carbon dioxide, and the same process goes on all over the body all the time in the little cells that make up the nerve-centers, tissues and blood. This is called internal respiration. It is the chief process in the work of tearing down used-up tissue and allowing new material to be built in its place.

If we could understand this process entirely we would understand life, but we can only study it through its effects. We know that Scott's Emulsion helps this process of cell and tissue-repairing to go on very rapidly. We know it very speedily produces good blood and healthy flesh, but we can only partly explain why.

The emulsion contains elements which are very sensitive to oxygen, and the inmost life cells are always hungry for oxygen. Perhaps the emulsion helps them to get it. That is how a great chemist accounts for it.

Scott's Emulsion is rich in carbon, and carbon is particularly needed in sustaining the energy which shows itself in both mental and muscular activity. It contains an abundance of other properties which we know are specially demanded by the system in conditions of poor health.

But no theory will entirely account for the beneficial effects of Scott's Emulsion, just as no theory will quite explain the curative effects of sunshine.

This emulsion combines the full strength of the whole cod liver oil, perfectly emulsified with the highly medicinal properties of hypophosphites of lime and soda. This combination not only makes the oil easy to take and easy to digest, but greatly increases its natural value. Scott's Emulsion is beyond doubt richer than any other known food or preparation in the nourishing properties needed when the blood is poor or the system run down.

Each package of Scott's Emulsion bears the trade mark label of a man carrying a big fish on his back.

DURPHY BIGAMY CASE

Has Been Argued in Supreme Court

Minor Order Granted in the Gilbert Bank Case

The Supreme court did not render any decisions today. Several orders were made, and two cases were argued and submitted, as follows:

Peter Britt, et al., respondent, vs. C. D. Reed, appellant. State of Oregon, respondent, vs. Bradley P. Durphy, appellant.

In the Durphy case the appellant was convicted in the Multnomah circuit court of the crime of bigamy, and sentenced to eight months' imprisonment in the county jail. He appealed the case, and was released on bonds. Durphy is now in California, and in the recent state election there took an active part in the election of a Republican congressional candidate for the first district. This case is of considerable local interest, since it was in the Marion county court that Durphy

MEN AND BOYS' OUTFITTERS

Before partaking of our Thanksgiving turkey we pause for a moments reflection. One year ago we were preparing to move to our present location:

The wisdom of our move has been fully demonstrated for our sales have been unprecedented. Indeed they have so far exceeded our most sanguine expectation, that we have been encouraged to prepare for the largest holiday trade in our history.

IN MENS' SUITS and OVERCOATS we show a handsome line. For the smart dresser, who likes to be at the very fore front of the fashion, we have all the new fads, both in cut and design, while the man of more moderate taste, but none the less dressy, may also suit his every whim.

OUR BOYS DEPARTMENT has never been better equipped. Our values in BOYS' HATS, SHIRTS, UNDERWEAR, HOSIERY, NECKWEAR, GLOVES, OVERALLS Etc. can not be surpassed, while a big invoice recently opened, enables us to show a COMPLETE NEW LINE OF BOYS' KNEE PANT SUITS with and without Vests. Ages 3 to 16 years, at from $4.50 to $7.00

XMAS IS NOT FAR AWAY

For those who must be economical, the most sensible presents for men and boys that one can make are articles of wearing apparel. Call and see our new lines before you buy.

feeling the original action of Tilmon Ford, as executor, against the Gilbert Bros., and in which H. B. Thieleen is the appellant. Mr. Thieleen is seeking to recover on a claim for services as temporary receiver that was disallowed in the lower court. The following orders were made today:

Tilmon Ford, executor, respondent, vs. A. T. Gilbert, et al., appellants; ordered on stipulation that H. B. Thieleen, appellant, have until December 15th to serve and file his brief herein.

Union Light & Power Co., appellant, vs. John Lichty, respondent, ordered on stipulation, that appellant's time to serve and file its brief herein be extended to December 10th.

L. H. Hamilton, et al., appellants, vs. Albert Clayton, respondent, appeal dismissed on motion of respondent, transcript not filed in time. No appearance for appellant.

Decision For Mrs. Pugh

Judge Boise today gave a decision for the plaintiff in the suit of Joanna Pugh, et al., vs. Mrs. Spieknael. By the decree of the court the plaintiffs are given possession of certain land and improvements thereon, all located a few miles north of this city.

The equity department of the circuit court has been adjourned until next week. Judge Boise left this afternoon for McMinnville, where he will convene court Tuesday.

Salem Merchant Loses Brother

O. P. Dabney, proprietor of the Fair, today received a telegram announcing the death at Winterset, Iowa, this morning, of his brother, J. W. Dabney. While Mr. Dabney has not received the particulars of the death of his brother, he says the end was quite sudden and unexpected, since the deceased has been enjoying the best of health, and the first news that he has received of the sad event was the announcement this morning that his brother had died. The deceased and his family spent last summer in this city, visiting with O. P. Dabney and family, and during his several weeks' stay here made many friends, who are grieved to learn of his sudden death. Sympathy is extended the sorrowing relatives in their bereavement.

Collision on Narrow Gauge

Street car traffic on the Fair Grounds branch of Salem's street railway system was interrupted for about three hours Saturday evening on account of a collision with a farm wagon. The farmer in the case was R. L. Swartz, who, at the time of the collision, was driving down the street car track toward the approaching car. The result was that the two vehicles came together. The farm wagon suffered some slight damage. The street car was derailed, and was compelled to abandon its schedule for nearly three hours.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Warren Corby died at his home in Woodburn, Oregon, November 27, 1902, and was buried in Stafford cemetery, in Clackamas county, Oregon, November 29, 1902. Deceased came to Oregon in 1852; was of Scotch descent and had a rugged constitution, such as was needed to endure the hardships of pioneer life. He was born in Dutchess county, New York, February 17, 1819, and lived to the age of 83 years, 9 months and 14 days. His mind was active and bright to the hour of his death. He died in the faith of the Man of Calvary.

The funeral sermon was preached by Bishop H. L. Barkley, from the text: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away." Many relatives, friends and some old neighbors of 50 years' acquaintance were in attendance at the burial. A widow, two sons and a daughter survive to mourn his death: Charles W. of Salem; Grant, of Woodburn, and Mrs. Ira R. Seely, of Wilsonville, Oregon.

Father Corby was a man of warm impulses and the staunchest principles. He had a heart for misfortune, and a soul for the right, and was a pillar of strength in all good works. He has left the impress of his life work on the community, and the stamp of his character on his children.
