UNHAPPY PRINCESS LOUISE
Will Be Divorced by German Civil Law
Pope's Objection to Separation Overruled
King of Saxony III In Consequence of Scandal

Vienna, Dec. 31.—The Tageblatt says that King George of Saxony is dying, and that the fugitive Crown Princess is liable to become queen at any hour.

To avoid complication the Saxon court intends to rush divorce proceedings, basing it on the German civil law. The court will ignore the Catholic ecclesiastical prohibition against divorce.

Cause of Flight.
The Crown Princess' own account of the immediate cause of her flight from Salzburg, written to an intimate friend, Princess Therese, of Bavaria, was telegraphed from Munich this morning. It says her father, the Grand Duke of Tuscany, intended to imprison his daughter, either in a lunatic asylum or in an Italian convent. He already had consulted the court physician and several medical authorities in Vienna, with the object of obtaining certificates warranting him in shutting her up.

Her father, the Crown Princess adds, was giving her no time for deliberation. He demanded, first that she be taken under guard to Dresden, to apologize to the Crown Prince, and that she then choose between confinement in a convent or madhouse. The Crown Princess asks the Bavarian court to use its influence with the court at Dresden to permit her children to choose their vocation in life freely.

Princess' Infatuation for Giron.
New York, Dec. 31.—The Herald correspondent at Zurich, Switzerland, cables the report of an interview with the Crown Princess of Saxony, in which she is quoted as saying that M. Giron is the only man she ever met whom she felt she could love, and that it was a question of mutual love and affinity which made her life impossible without him.

"Between my husband and myself," said the Princess, "there is no bond of sympathy. He is a typical rough officer. I, myself am full of ideals. How miserable that life was! I tried hard to bear it for the sake of my darling children, whom I adore.

"I also hesitated for the sake of the Saxon people, whom I love deeply, as they love me. But all that could not alter my resolution. The ills of my life at court were too great to bear.

WARSHIP OREGON DISABLED
Lost One Man and Her Deck Gear During Storm

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 31.—The steamer Oregon has reached port from Yokohama and the Orient. She brought news that the United States steamship Oregon arrived at Yokohama December 13th, three days overdue, after a very rough passage from San Francisco. All her boats were lost, and the stormy seas, which swept her deck, carried all her deck gear away, and resulted in the death of one man. She was ordered into dock.

Mr. Klippel has been in excellent health recently, and his unexpected death was due to an attack of heart failure, a disease from which he had never before suffered. Mr. Klippel was for ten years editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate; of late he was retired from business.

By this agreement Castro has taken means to practically comply with the conditions laid down by the powers as preliminary to refer the dispute to The Hague.

PANIC AT A BULL FIGHT
Maddened Animals Turned on Crowd of Spectators

Madrid, Dec. 31.—A panic ensued at a bull fight today, when the manager, angered because the crowd threatened to wreck the circus tent when the matador failed to kill a bull, turned out the lights and liberated three more bulls. The crowd fought madly to gain exits. In the tumult three people were killed and 52 injured. The manager was arrested.

ALBANY DOCTOR COMMITTED
Dr. Wm. Amos, Well Known Physician, Adjudged Insane

Albany, Dec. 31.—Dr. Wm. Amos, who has been a resident of East Albany most of the time for the past 12 years was examined by Drs. M. H. Ellins and W. A. Trimble before County Judge Palmer on a charge of insanity. Dr. Amos was at one time a practicing physician in Minnesota, where, it is reported, he had a large practice and accumulated considerable wealth. He, at one time a few years ago, owned a good farm near Tallman, in this county, which he sold a short time ago.

He was a well known figure in East Albany, where he has a neat, well-kept home on East Second and Main streets. He has acted queer for several years, and has complained of pains in his ears for the last year or two, and when up town would wear a wool scarf about his head.

After a thorough examination by the attending physicians it was decided that the veteran doctor was a fit subject for the state insane asylum, and he was committed to that institution, and was taken down to Salem by Sheriff Huston on the afternoon train. He is past 77 years of age.

Scottish Iron Men Will Not Combine.
London, Dec. 31.—An attempt to combine the iron manufacturers of Scotland has failed.

Denver, Dec. 30.—It has just become known that a secret meeting of delegates from lodges of the Ancient Order of Foresters in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah has been in session for several days past, with intervals of adjournment, and that at these meetings a new organization of Foresters was formed under the title of the Modern Order of Foresters. It was thought that the disaffected element in the order in this section had been pacified through the visit west of High Chief Ranger Hays, of the Atlantic division, for several months, and the announcement of the formation of the new body came as an explosion of a bombshell in the camp of the old members. The new order's movements will be more particularly advanced in the Western states.

CONVICTS WON'T WORK
Defy Authority and Say They Would Rather Starve

Fort Worth, Dec. 31.—Seventy-five desperate convicts, who were brought from the penitentiary to the convict plantation to help with the harvesting, mutinied two days ago. They secured possession of the sugar house, and barricaded it. The building is surrounded by a big force of deputies, endeavoring to starve the mutineers into submission. The convicts announced this morning that they would rather starve than work; they want to go back to the penitentiary.

CHICAGO'S COAL SHORTAGE
Investigated by State Attorney
Railroads Enter General Denial of a Combine
Immense Quantities of Coal Are Moved Out of City

Chicago, Dec. 31.—The investigation of Chicago's coal shortage, prosecuted by State Attorney General Hamlin, was continued this morning. The railways entered a general denial of a combine to corner coal and by the subsequent distress command high prices. They claimed this morning that coal is being delivered in great quantities and were surprised when it was proven by several prominent dealers that coal shipments had been held in many instances for six weeks. Figures were offered to show that two railroads alone had coal enough on hand in the yards to supply the entire city during the winter season. Only two hundred cars were in the yards this morning. The Wabash alone had nearly one thousand on hand yesterday.

Hamlin today appointed detectives to bring proof of the current reports that all the railroads entering the city passed the entire night frantically moving cars of coal by whole train loads out to country side tracks along the line.
