MARK OWNS A KENNEL, TOO.

The Mark Hanna political syndicate have rapidly acquired the big newspapers on the Pacific coast. The two papers at Tacoma are managed by Mark's former private secretary.

They also own the Salt Lake Herald and run it for all there is in it.

They have a big daily paper at Seattle and one at San Francisco, and it is said they have acquired control of a paper at Portland that was very bitter against Hanna and McKinley, but now fawns on the Republican Warwick with honied subserviency.

In these days of rapid expansion of the country and all its interests there is great need for having control of the avenues for reaching the public ear.

The Sultan of Turkey has just set aside $100,000 for the purpose of having information about his government placed before the people.

Why should not our great promoters of public policies own a kennel of alleged newspapers?

THE GAY GORDONS.

Henry Newbolt.

(Dargal, October 20, 1897.)

Who's for the Gathering, who's for the Fair?

(Gay goes the Gordon to a fight.)

The bravest of the brave are at dead-lock there.

(Highlanders! march! by the right!)

There are bullets by the hundred buzzing in the air.

There are bonny lads lying on the hill-side here;

But the Gordons know what the Gordons dare

When they hear the pipers playing!

The happiest English heart today

(Gay goes the Gordon to a fight)

Is the heart of the colonel, hide it as he may;

(Steady there! steady on the right!)

He sees his work and he sees his way,

He knows his time and the word to say.

And he's thinking of the tune that the Gordons play

When he sets the pipers playing!

Rising, roaring, rushing like the tide,

(Gay goes the Gordon to a fight)

They're up through the zone-fire, not to be debilited;

(Bayonets! and charge by the right!)

Thirty bullets straight where the rest went wide,

And thirty lads are lying on the bare hillside;

But they passed in the hour of the Gordon's pride,

To the skill of the piper's playing!

CONSUMPTION

Is like the constrictor which drops its coils around its victim and slowly tightens them until life is extinguished.

Once the coils are drawn tight there is little chance of escape. The one hope of safety is to break loose at the beginning of the attack.

Those who are showing symptoms of lung disease should instantly begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will cure obstinate coughs, hemorrhages and bleeding of the lungs. It increases the nutrition of the body, and so restores the emaciated form to health and strength.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I feel it my duty to give my testimony in regard to your great medicine," writes Mr. John T. Reed, of Johnson, Johnson Co. Ark. "When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I was very low with a cough, and could not sleep at night. I was not able to do any work at all, was weak and my head was dizzy. The first bottle I took did me so much good that I had faith in it and continued until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I do not look like the man I was at first. I was a year ago. People were astonished and said they did not think that I could live. I can now do any kind of work I wish to do. I can see from which lung it had been for your wonderful discovery. I would have died."

Bed Time

I take a pleasant herb drink, the next morning I feel bright and my complexion is better. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys, and is a pleasant laxative. It is made of herbs, and is prepared as easily as tea. It is called Lane's medicine. All druggists sell it at 25c and 50 cents. Lane's Family Medicines moves the bowels each day. If you cannot get it, send for free samples. Address, Orator Woodward, LeRoy, N. Y.

Vesselmen and Labor

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 21.—Owners of big lake craft are gathering at the Russell House for the annual meeting of the Lake Carrier's Association, which will be in session during the next few days. The meeting is the most important ever held by the association. Pursuant to plans recently made public by the executive committee the association is to be reorganized and placed in a position to more efficiently cope with the many problems confronting the vessel owners. The labor situation is one of the first matters to receive attention. Heretofore the association has not taken a hand in the labor disputes as an association, but has left the individual members to deal with the wage schedule and other matters separately. A new plan is now to be pursued in the expectation that the owners' interests will be benefited. The present meeting will appoint a labor committee with authority to deal with labor interests and agree upon a scale by which all members will stand. It is intimated that before contracts for labor will be made the Carriers will insist upon the labor organizations incorporating so that they will be in a measure responsible for their standing by signed agreements.

Some Titled Visitors

New York, Jan. 21.—Among the notable passengers on the White Star Line steamer Celtic, which is due from Liverpool today are the Duke and Duchess of Manchester. This is the first visit the Manchesters have paid to America since their marriage. It is understood that after several days in New York the couple will go the Cincinnati to visit the father of the Duchess, Mr. Zimmerman.

FAVORS DIRECT PRIMARY

Bill Now Before the Oregon Legislature

Analysis of the Present Skin game Method

The bill for Direct Primaries is now before the Oregon legislature, and was recommended by the governor of this state as a needed measure of reform.

It is to be hoped that the bill will be passed and become a law, so as to permit the people to nominate a candidate for congress in this district by that manner.

Out of the worthy Republican aspirants there is no better way to name the best man, and a man who will be acceptable to all interests.

Following are views of Frederick H. Murray, a prominent Tacoma Republican:

The merits and demerits of our present delegate system for nominating the candidates of political parties are now fresh in the public minds. The procedure of our present system is as follows: The state and county central committees of each party apportion to each precinct and county the number of delegates to each respective convention; they also call and fix time for holding the precinct caucuses, the precinct primaries and the county and state conventions. With this as a framework, the electors of each party in each precinct form the caucuses which nominate the persons who are to appear on the official ticket as delegates to the county convention. The official ticket must have at least twice the number of delegates to be elected. The voters, a few days later, vote for delegates at the precinct primaries. The delegates elected then spend about two days and one entire night in doing the real business of the convention. This is done by "steering committees" of each precinct or district delegation. They get together in hotel lobbies, headquarters or on the street, and often by a process of "trading," "smooth-boring" (anciently known as "lying"), "giving the double cross," together with various modifications of the above well recognized methods, a "slate," or combination of trades, is finally made up which will elect every fellow on the "slate" and "skin" every other fellow. The "slate" controls the conventions in all particulars, appoints all committees and passes such resolutions as it pleases.

The state convention, by similar methods, convenes, resolves and dissolves, and its members return to their homes or Hot Springs, as the case may be.

The vice of the present system culminates in the working out of the "slate." Candidates as candidates are considered only with reference to their ability to "trade" votes for other candidates and not on their merits. The result gives the independent delegates no real voice in the convention. As a rule the vote of each precinct is counted as a unit for such trades as the steering committee or chairman may have made. All interested in the "slate" are bound by a common interest to carry it out in all its details and many times are compelled to vote for candidates and measures they are opposed to in order to secure the vote of the "slate" for their particular candidate.

The primary system is direct. The delegate system is indirect. In the latter the voter makes the caucus, the caucus the primary, the primary the delegate, the delegate the convention, the convention the candidate—much on the plan of the "house that Jack built." The system is open to abuses because so many independent causes, conditions, motives and influences may come between the voter and the ultimate result of the convention.

Why should not the voter vote direct for the candidates of his choice?

NO APPETITE

And what little you force yourself to eat does not have the right taste. What's the trouble? The stomach is out of order, the liver is inactive and the bowels are constipated. You need Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once. It will tone up the stomach, restore the appetite, perfect the digestion, and open up the clogged bowels. Then you'll feel better. Try a bottle today. It will do you good.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

The further power is removed from the voter, the source of power, the more likely it is to be changed, misdirected or corrupted.

If, under our present system, all the delegates were equally interested or disinterested, the result would be vastly better than at present, but this can never be the case, and the business man who merely goes to the convention to fulfill his duty as a citizen is not willing to stay up all night trading and making combinations, and he should not be required to. The result is the delegates who get into the convention with a specific and selfish object in view do all the business and the large majority of the members have no effect on or part in the result.

Our present election law, "the Australian system," including the feature of registration, has been fully tested, and in the present perfected state election frauds and purchase of votes are at a minimum and no longer control an election.

Why not adopt the same system in nominations? It has been tried, is adapted to the purpose, is less cumbersome, is of less trouble to the voter and is absolutely correct in principle, to-wit: It gives the voter a direct vote. If the will of the people is the supreme law in such a matter and it is intended to get their will expressed in nominations, what surer or better way than to have the people express it directly?

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and, unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Good Roads For Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 21.—Arkansas proposes to have roads that will compare favorably with the best public thoroughfares to be found in any part of the country and to this end a state convention was begun here today to lay the matter before the legislature and to discuss the best ways and means for furthering the movement. County officials from all parts of the state are in attendance, together with many representatives of trade and commercial bodies. The sessions of the convention are to continue two days and the delegates will listen to practical talks from several government good roads experts.

When Going Out.

One's appearance should be an object for compliments, and not of apologies and explanation. Dress is so largely a matter of linen that the laundry question is all important. Disregarding the rule of spic and span tells severely against the offender. Our perfect work all the time at short prices has won us the general favor of good dressers; we do all kinds of laundry work, from a silk handkerchief to a rag carpet.

AN ECONOMICAL LUXURY.
Is a good, wholesome, delicious beverage, like Salem beer. It's a luxury to taste—not to the pocketbook, for its price is extremely moderate, its excellence considered. The care as to quality of ingredients, care in making of this beer warrants a much higher price than others per case of a dozen bottles; yet that's the price of our beer.
