AN ECONOMICAL LUXURY.

Is a good, wholesome, delicious beverage, like Salem beer. It's a luxury to taste—not to the pocketbook, for its price is extremely moderate. Its excellence considered. The care as to quality of ingredients, care in making of this beer warrant a much higher price than others per case of a dozen bottles; yet that's the price of our beer.

CAPITAL CITY BREWERY AND ICE WORKS, Mr. M. Beck, Proprietor.

A Big Kick

A man makes when his laundry work is sent home with porcupine edges and spread eagle button holes. If he would bring his linen to an up-to-date laundry where perfect methods obtain at all times, such as the Salem Steam Laundry, he would receive his shirts, collars and cuffs equal to new every time that we send them home.

SALEM BRIDGE OPEN

River Receding and Did Little Damage

Street Commissioner Griswold reports that the Willamette river bridge is open to travel. He discovered on investigation today that a considerable amount of the filling at the west approach had been washed away, and will have to be replaced, but the damage is not to the extent that travel over the bridge will be interrupted. The big bridge withstood the effects of the high water and sustained no damage, to all appearance, other than that mentioned.

The Willamette river at this point is receding. It reached its highest stage during the recent freshet on Monday night, when the gauge at the O. R. & N. dock showed 29.5 feet above the low water mark. That was within half a foot of the maximum stage that the river attained during the flood of 1890. The stream is now rapidly falling, and today registered about 25 feet. At this stage, the river is contained within its banks. For a time the stream had overflowed the west bank to a depth of about six feet.

Nuisance of China Town

The location of Salem's Chinatown in the heart of the city, has been publicly condemned as a menace, but their celebration of Chinese New Year has added another cause of grievance. As usual, horses are being frightened by their abundant discharge of firecrackers, but, in addition to this, they last night fired Chinese bombs at frequent intervals, and kept the residents of that district awake, and also broke windows in the stores on the opposite side of the street. The grocery store of Steiner & Berger had a window broken by one of these bombs, which scattered particles of glass the entire length of the floor, a distance of 70 feet. The projectile must have gone with sufficient force to have seriously injured anyone whom it may have struck, and their use for celebration purposes is extremely unsafe.

ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mr. Carol Norton Will Address Salem People Next Sunday

Mr. Carol Norton, one of the lecturers of the Christian Science Board of Lecturship, will address the people of Salem next Sunday afternoon, at the Grand Opera House, upon the subject "Christian Science is Universal Christianity." Mr. Norton's lecture will enable the general public to hear the matter of Christian Science discussed from an advantageous standpoint. The lecture will be a logical and authoritative presentation of this rapidly spreading movement. It will also deal plainly with many of the different phases of misunderstanding in regard to the true teachings of this new religion. Mr. Norton comes well recommended as a young and interesting speaker. Those interested in the cause of Christian Science here desire that no one miss this opportunity to hear the subject from such recognized authority as Mr. Carol Norton.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food cranked in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors who lived four score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables and grain.

Dr. Julius Remmon on this subject says: "Nervous people, people run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptic should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for indigestion as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

A Catch Bet.
Turn round, and, with your back to the table, ask somebody to throw the dice. Then tell the person who threw them to double the number of the spots on the die on the left, and keep the number to himself. Tell him to add five, then multiply by five. To this figure have him add the number of spots on the die in the middle and multiply the product by ten.

Then ask him to multiply the number of spots on the third die and give you the aggregate sum. From the amount subtract mentally 250, and the remainder will show in the three figures the number of spots on each of the three dice. For instance, take three dice. Their numbers are three, five and two. Double the one on the left—five plus five equals ten. Add five, equals fifteen. Multiply by five, equals seventy-five. Add the number of spots on the die in the middle, three, equals seventy-eight. Multiply by ten, equals 780. Add number of spots on the third die, two, equals 782. Subtract 250 and 532 remains, which are numbers on the dice.

Incentive to Arrest.
Prisoners in Morocco are required to pay the policemen who arrest them. The fee is about 25 cents. This system makes the officers quite vigilant, and they often arrest a man on a slight pretext.

Spontaneous Combustion.
"Spontaneous combustion" was the medical verdict upon the case of a man who was found in flames at 2 o'clock in the morning in the streets of Geneva. He was known as a heavy drinker, and there were no traces of pipe, tobacco or matches among the debris of charred clothing.

GOOD CARELINE SERVICE

Cars On State Street Every Five Minutes

A public utility is appreciated to the extent that its service accommodates and serves the convenience of those patronizing it. To this class may properly be placed the Salem street railway line. The service over the lines of this company during the legislative session could not be improved upon. Cars leave the business district for the capitol building every 10 minutes, and the dispatch with which the vehicles are operated makes it a distinct pleasure to patronize the service. The lines operating into other districts of the city are connected with in good order, and the entire service is maintained with strict attention to detail in expeditious running of the cars. In providing this improved service Manager Brown and Superintendent Flanagan are receiving numerous compliments, and the residents of the city and the large number of legislative visitors are showing their appreciation by liberally patronizing the car service.

ODD CHRISTMAS CARDS.

Something Which Amateur Photographers Can Make.

What prettier idea than that our Christmas cards should be enriched with photographs of scenes familiar to sender and recipient alike, especially when sending to friends in some foreign country? Much individuality may be expressed in arrangements of still life, bric-a-brac, fruit, etc. Flowers and plants always make pretty compositions, but it is best to choose seasonal ones, such as Christmas roses, holly, mistletoe, etc. The result aimed at is to secure a decorative quality in the work. This may be either in the photograph itself, as in the case of flowers, grasses, etc., or it may be introduced by accessory work, such as borders or other ornamentation in pen and ink or wash. Very pretty effects may be obtained by using two photographs in combination, one as a background to the other. A group of views arranged in some novel manner would also afford scope for much originality.

A simple border can easily be added to any photograph and will give a finish to the picture, but where there have been much labor and time spent in decorative work the best plan is to re-photograph the whole to any size desired and then print off the number of copies to send away.

Lettering must be carefully done and a style of type chosen which harmonizes best with the general character of the card.

Tea and Coffee.

Keep tea or coffee in glass or china jars instead of tin canisters. By so doing the flavor will be greatly improved.
