Tiresome Testimony

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—Rebutting evidence is being presented today before the anthracite board by the miners. Justice of the Peace McKelvey was the chief witness. He proved but a poor one for the miners, his testimony showing that he was biased in the strikers' behalf. He was rigidly cross-examined by Gray. The general trend of the other testimony showed the strikers were always willing to obey the law.

Murdered by Landlords.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—There have been 24 deaths from gas asphyxiation since January 1st, principally caused by defective fixtures and penurious landlords cutting the gas off from lodging houses late at night, the rooms burning gas at the time. The landlords turn the gas on the buildings early in the morning, and it immediately flows through the open stop-cocks, killing the occupants of the rooms.

Galloway, of Yamhill, believes that any benevolent society desiring to erect residences or provide homes for the indigent widows, widowers and orphans of the American soldiers and sailors of any wars, should be granted the right to use the lands at the Soldiers' Home, at Rossburg, and has introduced a bill to that effect. It is provided that such residences and inmates shall be in charge of the management of the home, and subject to the rules now in force or that may be put in force.

HAYDEN TOLD A STORY

Had the Ways and Means Committee Laughing

Would Not Stand a Cross-examination by Juniors

Hon. Ben Hayden was invited before the ways and means committee of the house and senate Monday evening to give information of a personal character as to the nature of the claims of the Indian War Veterans. He emphatically endorsed the Bilyeu bill, and condemned the Woods bill, saying Woods had never been an Indian war veteran, and that when they were reorganized he would be cast out. The Woods bill proposes to issue $300,000 to run for 20 years, and there would be business for the Woods pension bureau for many years.

At this point he told a funny story on General Joe Lane, to illustrate the point that they needed something done for the old Indian fighters right away, and not much after they were all dead and buried. The story was becoming rather pointed, funny and inclined to be of a risky sort of humor.

The lady clerks were looking for some place to hide, and several of the senators were nudging Uncle Ben to let up, and when he saw one of the young ladies hiding in a window corner, he wound up with: "Well, I never said it." That brought down the whole committee in the loudest shouts of laughter. He had been gazing them. After the young ladies retired he related the rest of the story, which was right to the point and in itself narrated a quite harmless experience of the pioneers.

Some of the younger members of the committee tried to cross-examine the octogenarian wit and Indian fighter, but came off the worse for the encounter. Senator Carter went over to Congressman-elect Williamson, and said: "You can take the witness." "No, thank you," said Williamson. "I pass."

Foreign Minister Asks it Be Taken Down

Madrid, Feb. 3.—The Cuban flag, displayed today from the hotel where the new Cuban minister resides, created such discontent that a riot nearly resulted. Foreign Minister Abrara requested its removal on the grounds that it was not customary to display foreign flags on private houses. The official proclamation issued last year, placing 13 districts in Inreland under the crimes act, has been revoked. This is an olive branch held out, and indicates peace.

FAIR TREATMENT FOR ALL

Governor Chamberlain Will Not Persecute

No Snap Judgments Taken on Political Opponents

The penitentiary investigation is proceeding, and the facts about the condition of the woman convicts will be laid before the legislature. In the matter of accusing an officer of immoral relations with the woman, a woman convict's word is not worthy of any more credence than a man's, and those officers are entitled to the utmost fairness and the straightest kind of treatment at the hands of the committee. The conditions at the prison are such that it not a fit place for a woman to be kept, and especially guarded by men only. Governor Chamberlain is required by law to go to the bottom of these accusations, and at the same time to do no injustice. The reports that there would be an immediate change in management of the prison are groundless, as Superintendent Lee and his employees and officials will not be treated with any but courtesy and fairness by the Democratic governor. Governor Chamberlain's reputation for treating political opponents fairly on all occasions is well established, and no snap judgment will be taken.

Convict White Located.

Sheriff J. H. Ross, of Lincoln county, located the escaped convict, White, on Alesia bay. The men engaged in a fusillade of shots on the beach near Wardport, the convict finally escaping through the undergrowth. Neither of the men was wounded, although the sheriff sent bullets through the convict's coat tail. The last trace of White showed where he had crossed Alesia bay, and started east along the Beaver creek road.
