INDIAN WAR VETERANS

Their Claim Turned Down by Committee

Representative Bilyeu Will Pull it Before the House

The ways and means committee has patiently heard all the Indian War Veterans have had to say in behalf of their claims, and have, without a dissenting vote, turned them down.

There is fire in the eyes of the old redskin destroyers, and they swear they will force a hearing or compel the referendum on the World's Fair bill.

Representative Bilyeu will make the fight of his life to pull the bill out of committee and get it before the house, and if he ever does it will get a big vote.

MANSION FOR THE GOVERNOR

The E. N. Cooke Residence Favorably Considered

Marion County Delegation is a Unit for the Bill

Patton Bros., of this city, have made a proposition to sell the old, historical E. N. Cooke mansion, opposite the state house, to the state on such favorable terms that it is receiving very favorable consideration.

They offer the property, consisting of three lots on Court street, valued at $6000 to $7000, the residence that cost $30,000, and all the furniture and furnishings for the four stories at $7000, making a total valuation of about $44,500, for the small sum of $15,000.

The Marion county delegation held a meeting last night and went over the matter in detail, and decided to make this proposition their own, to the extent that they believe it is a bargain, and in view of the coming visit of President Roosevelt, and the many governors and potentates who will visit the state capital during the world's fair, they believe it is a proper step to buy the governor a residence, so he can reside at the capital, and bring his family here, at least during the legislature, and on other great occasions.

Governor Chamberlain does not hesitate to say that every state can properly furnish its governor a residence at the capital. He feels delicate about urging such a matter, and will not even say that he would come here to live permanently, but says it would be a proper thing to do for all the occupants of his high office.

The ten members of the ways and means committee were so favorably impressed with the proposition as a good bargain for the state that they went through the four stories of the building, and examined it from top to bottom, and all the furnishings. Senator Howe, the chairman, declared that it was a snap of a bargain, and worth a deal more than it is offered for.

The Greater Salem Club held a meeting and endorsed the proposition of buying an executive mansion.

Mayor and Mrs. T. G. Haley, of Pendleton, are visiting in the city.

EDDY REVENUE Bill

Has Been Perfected and Passed

Rates of Taxation on Organized Corporations

The bill providing for the licensing and taxing of corporations in this state passed the house Wednesday. Mr. Eddy is the author of the measure, which fixes the organization or filing fee at a ratio of $10 for $5000 capital stock, the minimum fee, and $100 for any figure in excess of $5,000,000 capital stock as a maximum.

The annual tax to be paid by corporations or associations, foreign or domestic, except fire, marine, life, accident, plate glass and steam boiler insurance, or surety companies, shall amount to a proportionate sum ranging from $10 to $200. Any delay in paying this fee shall be fined in the sum of $100.

Every foreign corporation must maintain some qualified person to act as its attorney or representative, and unless it does so, cannot do any business in the state or maintain any suit or action in the courts. The filing fee for foreign corporations is placed at $50.

Three more jurors were secured.
