KICKED BY A HORSE

AND SUFFERED NEARLY FORTY YEARS BEFORE THE BONE HEALED

BY AN ATTACK OF TYPHOID, WHICH LEFT ME IN BAD SHAPE, I WAS OBLIGED TO USE CRUTCHES FOR OVER TWO YEARS FROM THAT TIME UNTIL I WAS CURED ABOUT SIX YEARS AGO I ALWAYS USED TWO CANES. THE DOCTORS TOLD ME THERE WAS NO HOPE FOR A CURE UNLESS I HAD MY LEG SPLIT AND SCRAPED AND THE CORDS CUT. SOME ALSO ADVISED AMPUTATION, BUT I REFUSED, AND FINALLY DR. COOK, THE BOTANICAL SPECIALIST OF SALEM, TOOK MY CASE. I BEGAN TO IMPROVE AT ONCE, AND IN SIX MONTHS MY LEG WAS WELL. IN FACT I FEEL THAT DR. COOK SAVED MY LIMB, AND I WANT EVERYBODY TO KNOW IT, FOR IT WAS A WONDERFUL CURE. SOON AFTER TREATMENT THE BLACK FLESH BEGAN TO GROW OUT OVER THE BONE WITH A HEALTHY COLOR."

JOURNAL X-RAYS.

If Jones of Lincoln's picture is not in demand by the lovely school maams within the next week then have those charming specimens of dainty femininity forgotten their charming ways, and innumerable fascinations.

The Albany Democrat says the valley woman who obtained a judgment of $1 against a newspaper for libel will hardly have enough to pay her lawyer, though perhaps more than a lawyer would be worth who would advise a suit in such a case.

At Bangor, Maine, the saloon keepers were fined at the recent term of court in the sum of $28,682, which indicates that even under the strict Maine prohibition laws, those suffering with aridity of the esophagus can still get it irrigated.

Mascagni is in San Francisco, but as there have been no reports of riots it is presumed neither that he has not attempted to give the public any of his music, or else, that public is better natured, and more long suffering than Bostonese.

The Oregonian says: Many of Portland's women are like peacocks. They will appear on the streets arrayed in costumes costing small fortunes and with foot gear that seems never to have come in contact with shoe polish.

Our esteemed contemporary is again going to extremes.

The supreme court of Massachusetts has with a redundancy of legal verbiage sapiently decided that a municipality cannot buy coal and sell it again to its citizens. With a deference to the learned jurists we would ask: Suppose the municipality bought the coal and sold it, how would it be punished? A whole community cannot be indicted.

Back in New Hampshire the great question disturbing the minds of the intellectual is the use of English words. Among others the question is asked "does a person get sick or ill?" Of course Oregon is somewhat distant from the location of the trouble, too remote to make a proper diagnosis. Besides it depends on what kind of liquor they have back there. If the common blind pig variety, it is probable a person becomes both at once, and several of them.

The story comes from St. Paul, Minn., that when the Standard Oil trust recently lost a local suit for $10,000 damages for injuries caused by gasoline, the price of the latter was at once advanced there, and in nine days enough extra was collected by the trust from the people of the city to more than cover all of the costs involved in the litigation.

The Portland authorities continue to try to make Mrs. Mason of Corvallis, pay the expenses of the burial of her son Chester, who was identified by several friends as a suicide found in that city, and all the time Chester is much alive at home in Corvallis. He does not want to be buried, and his mother does not want to bury him. If she stands firm she ought to win on the last ballot.

jacket as an unnatural, barbarous, degrading, inhuman and un-American mode of punishment, and recommend that it be forever abolished from our penal institutions.

Another Cruel Punishment.

The tricing-up process, which consists of placing handcuffs upon the prisoner, with his hands behind him and connecting the cuffs with a chain suspended from a ring in the wall above his head, holding the man's hands high up and compelling him to bend forward in a stooping posture is also a cruel mode of punishment, and we recommend that this practice be also abolished, as it works irreparable injury on the kidneys, and causes the victim to faint after undergoing the punishment for two hours, when he is revived and hung up again. This mode of punishment is still in use at the prison.

New York, Feb. 21.—From an ecclesiastical source it is learned that the Pope has chosen Rev. Father Gonyea, president of the Catholic University of America, to be bishop of Los Angeles, to succeed Bishop Montgomery, who has gone to San Francisco.

VIRGINIA DREW TRECOTT

In the Greatest of all Ouida's Stories--Dramatized Version of Strathmore, a Great Play

Virginia Drew Trecott, who will be seen in this city on Monday, Feb. 22, at the Grand Opera House in the leading female character of the dramatic version of Ouida's famous novel "Strathmore" entitled "Lord Strathmore," is one of the most accomplished and fascinating actresses on the American stage; a lady possessed of rare personal charms, and already well received by the public. She has been compared in her style of acting with Olga Notherholt, and in the rendition of the role of Lady Vavasour portrays a style of work which is decidedly unique, a gem in itself. She is a stately woman, full of fire, portraying passion and pathos equally well, her very presence on the stage holding her audience throughout the entire evening. Her costumes are said to be expensive and gorgeous creations of the latest Parisian modes, and she has long been a criterion for the devotees of fashion. Miss Trecott has been surrounded by a company of ladies and gentlemen all of whom have held leading positions in first-class companies, and are experienced in their respective roles, each selected for the particular character which they are to enact. The production has been magnificently staged, the tapestry hangings of the drawing room and morning room scenes being especially attractive. The entire production is under the personal direction of Mr. David Traitell, who for years has been connected with the leading theatrical companies of the United States.

The success of the dramatic version of Ouida's "Myths" and "Under Two Flags" has been phenomenal, and this famous authoress makes a personal statement that "Strathmore" is considered by herself to be her greatest work. Seats on sale at boxoffice Monday at 9 a. m.; prices $1.50, 75, 50.

GRANDPA'S HEALTH.

An Important Factor in the Happiness of His Grandchildren.

There are families where Grandpa's visit is looked forward to with delight and expectancy. Grandpa's coming means fun and frolic and enchanting stories. But there are other families where grandpa's visit is the burden of the year. The children dread it because they know it will put a stop to their romping. The parents dread it because it will disorganize the household, every member of which must keep step with the slow shuffling tread of age, and subordinate duties and pleasures to the capricious whims of second childhood. The difference in these two old men is simply a difference of health. The one old man is hale and hearty, enjoys his food, sleeps soundly, and keeps his grip on public affairs. The other old man is weak and feeble, his appetite and digestion are poor, his sleep is unquiet, he has no interest in life or affairs save as his personal comfort may be affected.

Healthy old age, whether in man or woman, is largely a question of sound stomach and pure, rich blood. To preserve this condition nature generally needs some assistance, in order to get rid of the accumulations of waste, effete and poisonous substances which tend to clog the body and impede the circulation. It is also needful to keep the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts in a healthy condition, in order to properly nourish the body.

HEALTH IN OLD AGE

can, therefore, best be enjoyed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food upon which physical strength depends. It cleanses the blood of clogging and poisonous matter, and by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, increases the supply of pure, rich blood, which is the final form of nutrition and the life of the whole physical man.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me; could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

STRENGTH AND THE STOMACH.

No man can be strong when the stomach is "weak." The body, and every organ of it, depends upon the stomach for nutrition. This nutrition is supplied by food which must be properly digested before it can be assimilated. When the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the food eaten is imperfectly digested, and there is a reduction of the nutrition necessary for the sustenance of the body. This loss of nutrition soon shows itself in general feebleness or in the "weakness" of one or more of the organs most affected. Thus it is that indigestion often results in disease of organs remote from the stomach, the liver, heart, kidneys, etc., becoming "weak." So, also, when the diseased stomach is cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" the diseases of other organs which were caused by the diseased stomach are also cured.

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head; heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time; did not sleep well at all; was able to go about very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets,' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since, except washing. Feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty-one years old, and I thank you most kindly for the happy relief and cure."

GOOD ADVICE.

If you feel weak and run down; if your stomach is disordered or diseased; if there is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," or kidney "trouble," if your blood is "thin" and sluggish, begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you will begin to renew your youth and strength.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Some dealers, tempted by the little more profit paid by less meritorious medicines, will attempt to sell a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," claiming it to be "just as good." The very claim makes substitution suspicious. A medicine as good as the "Discovery" would sell on its own merits and be asked for by the customer, not pushed off on him.

DO YOU KNOW THIS?

One of the best medical books ever published, the most modern and comprehensive, is given away to those who write for it. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing more than a thousand large pages and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
